At Present There Appears to be an unmarketable surplus of timothy and alfalfa hay in the two counties and several large farmers are now abroad to buy feeders to use their hay.

"Money, which has been short for all operations, is becoming more plentiful and business is getting back toward normal."

"The highway through the Walla Walla canyon is no far along that travel over it is easy and a trip to Walla Walla lake this week, when there is no dust is more pleasurable than in July or August."

ENTERPRISE, Oct. 7.—Philip McFarland, leader of the Nezperce Indians, died Tuesday afternoon at the Walla Walla county fair grounds. With about 30 members of his tribe he had come to his native hills to visit old scenes and enjoy the fair. His body will be buried on Captain John creek, on the Idaho side of Snake river, about 25 miles above Lewiston, beside his father and mother.

All through his life Chief Philip had been a frequent visitor in Walla Walla county. He was here in the early summer with a party of Nezperce Indians to locate the old Indian burial grounds, which are to be set aside by the government as sacred to the Redmen. Two weeks ago he returned from his home at Lapwai, Idaho, and went to the head of Chesnimus creek, where he remained until last Wednesday on Harry Huffman's ranch.

Philip was born in 1848, and so was 73 years of age, according to his own statement made recently. He was born on the Huffman ranch, and a year ago pointed out to the present owner the spot where the teepees were set by the Indians at this favorable camping ground of the old days.

His father died 17 years ago at what is known as the Indian village, at the head of Penee creek, on the crest of the Imnaha canyon, and his mother died 22 years ago on the upper Chesnimus, near where Philip was born. The old chief has told that it was dead of winter when his mother passed away and her body received temporary burial in the snow. In the spring it was taken to its permanent resting place on Snake river. Philip's wife died five years ago at Lapwai.

A son and daughter survive Philip. Francis McFarland of Kamiah, Idaho, who has been visiting at Pendleton, and Mrs. Nora Harrison of Lapwai. There are six grandchildren. A sister, Mrs. Julia Minthorn, lives at Umiella, and a brother, David McFarland, lives at Lapwai.

FUTURE BRIGHT SAYS BROCK

Summerville Farmer Tells Pendletonians Farming Situation Here Good.

PENDLETON, Oct. 7.—Wilbur P. Brock, owner of a farm at Waterman, west from Athens, came over the Blue mountains from his summer home at Summerville just in time to avoid penalty and interest on his Unmatta county taxes. The McEwan Bros. operate his Waterman farm in this county and he himself manages two farms in Walla Walla and Union counties. During the last week Mr. Brock in his auto has covered all the principal roads in Union and Walla Walla counties.

"The dirt roads in the counties east of the Blue mountains are so good this fall that to travel them is a treat," declares Mr. Brock. "The early fall rain filled in the rut holes and the subsequent dry spell caused the heavy mountain soils to pack like pavement. The auto trip to Lawiston, via La Grande, Walla Walla and Gray is easy at this time and offers a variety of valley and mountain scenery, which for its varied character, is not surpassed anywhere. The drives out from Enterprise, in all directions now, are very attractive. And all this week, Enterprise offers a good county fair and Wild West show put on by a home talent that is distinctive of a real cow country.

"Fall wheat is further advanced over the mountains than it is in Unmatta. The fields there are very green and some farmers are pasturing in order to hold the plants back. There is plenty of moisture in the soil over there to carry the growing wheat until snow falls.

"Threshing will be finished this week in both counties and the returns from the grain fields this year are more generous than usual. All hay crops are at least 50 per cent heavier this year than the average and all the hay was put up in perfect order. The apple crop is enormous and only the apud crop is short. The apple growers at Cove and Inbier are employing several hundred pickers. More are wanted to get ahead of the frost, which is earlier there than here—and the prices being paid for apples make the old orchards yield from $400 to $500 an acre.

Potatoes in the two counties are of good quality but the yield is only about 40 per cent of normal and the acreage less than 20 per cent of normal. Generally Union sends abroad from 55 to 59 carloads of potatoes but this year it will take all of Union's surplus to supply Walla Walla's shortage.

"At present there appears to be an unmarketable surplus of timothy and alfalfa hay in the two counties and several large farmers are now abroad to buy feeders to use their hay.

"Money, which has been short for all operations, is becoming more plentiful and business is getting back toward normal."

Thomas Bessler of Baker Dies—Was Identified With Oregon Mining for Quarter Century.

BAKER, Oct. 7.—Thomas Bessler, for the past 25 years connected with mining in Baker county, passed away shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Elizabeth hospital following a prolonged illness of cancer of the pancreas glands. In the passing of Mr. Bessler, Eastern Oregon loses a man who has seen all of the ups and downs in mining both in the vicinity of Baker and Sumpter.

The deceased was born in Massillon, Ohio, August 9, 1857, and in 1876 removed to California where he engaged in mining. In 1880 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna M. Butcher of Downville, California, and in 1896 removed to this city where until 1899 he was connected with the Baker-Elkhorn, Virtue and White Swartz mines, when he moved to Sumpter and became owner of the Ibez mine which he has operated until his present illness.

Besides his wife, he is survived by four sons, Leo, Clair, Thomas Jr., and William, who were present at the time of his death, and two brothers and two sisters who reside in the east.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Francis cathedral. Rev. Father Meekey officiating at requiem high mass. The deceased was a member of Baker council No. 845, Knights of Columbus, under whose auspices the services will be held.

Enterprise Man Buys Joseph Paper

JOSEPH, Oct. 7.—O. G. Crawford of Enterprise has bought the Joseph Enterprise from the Joseph Enterprise Co. He bought the property from O. L. Smallwood, who was anxious to get away to take charge of a paper he has purchased in Denver, Colorado.

Football Rally to Be Held Tonight

A high school rally, in anticipation of the football game with Enterprise tomorrow, will be held this evening at 7:30 at the high school athletic field. The freshmen boys will furnish the wood for the bonfire at the rally and the girls of the freshman class will be there with green ribbons in their hair so that if their elder sisters need their services they can readily locate them.

The sale of season tickets by the student body this year indicates that there will be a larger attendance than usual at the opening game. Nearly the entire student body has bought tickets so far.

NEWSPAPERS BRIBED.

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Charges that Japanese newspapers and Japanese reporters were bribed to induce them to refrain from opposing a raise in the price of gas in Tokio have been made in a legal investigation into the Tokio Gas Company.

The revelations of corruption include charges, also against members of the Tokio municipal assembly that they accepted money in exchange for their official authorization of the increase in price of gas.

The investigation followed a protest from the people against exorbitant gas charges.

mercantile establishment in Elgin. The stone is a late discovery and is quarried nine miles from Elgin on Billy Ezzell's ranch. It is very soft and easily worked, the weather hardening it after exposure. Mr. Hawthorn is convinced that Elgin now has one of the finest building materials in the west.

Meeting in Rex Hall.

There was a meeting of the Elgin and La Grande business men in Rex hall preceding the banquet and for a couple of hours matters of county interest were discussed.

Prof Bailey of Elgin, landed on every member of the Ad club for not pushing the work on the highway between La Grande and that city and he was backed up by every Elgin citizen. There was no mistaking their meaning for they feel they have not had a square deal in road matters.

Judge Thomas Crawford followed. Mr. Bailey and in his diplomatic way endeavored to pour oil on the waters, but he was only partially successful.

Banquet a Fine Event.

About 8 o'clock a banquet was served in the Sommer hotel that was a great feast. The menu carried all the Grand Rapids products from the ever desired chicken to green corn. It was well served and successful in every way.

Ernest Cox, head of the Business Extension department, presented an address and many interesting talks were made by both La Grande and Elgin men.

Conditions of the roads found its way into the program and most of the dinner hour was taken up with road talk. But there was a general feeling of happiness on the part of everyone present and the future outlook for the valley and county was freely discussed, each speaker pointing to the near date of coming proposals.

AGRICULTURAL WEALTH IS ON EXHIBITION

Yesterday, Prof. F. H. Cockell of Kerr, Gifford and Co., gave a very instructive talk on poultry culling. He is also distributing bulletins on culling and feeding poultry. Mr. Cockell gave another culling demonstration at 1:30.

Tomorrow the following prominent people will take part in the program: H. H. Weatherston, State Board of Horticulture, who will lecture on "Pests and How to Grow Them"; Mrs. A. E. Ivashov, County School Superintendent, whose talk will be on "Problems of Our Rural Schools"; Hon. Bruce Dennis, state senator; Robt. Withcombs, manager of the Union Experiment Station; Agricultural Jameson of Walla Walla county, and Harry G. Avery, agriculturist of Union county.

Marion Cacher, beauty parlor proprietor, will have charge of the program today and tomorrow.

An orchestra from La Grande and the Bellamy quartette will take part in the program this evening.

THIRD GAME MARKED BY GREAT SCORE

(Our old-time pastime)

the pitch on which he tore in was wide and Earl Smith, the startled catcher, let it get away from him for a passed ball.

The Giant rooters got their chance again Thursday to grow enthusiastic over the playing of the remarkable Frank Frisch. This stellar performer undoubtedly prevented the score taking on a decidedly more lopsided aspect. He made a great catch of a sizzling liner by Meusel, labeled for two bases, with two on, in the Yankees' first inning, turning the smash into a double play.

Then, in the third, he brought the crowd to its feet with his brilliant performance in grabbing a difficult grounder from McNally throwing himself at the ball, and then, while flat on the ground, reaching up and tagging Walter Pipp, who was tearing for third.

Third Inning Tense.

Much of the excitement of the game was crowded into the Yankee's third inning. Schang started by sending a high fly to Baneroff. Rawlings squirmed and twisted to get under Hoyt's Texas leaguer but was unable to hold the ball. Peckinpaugh walked and the crowd yelled to Ruth to "hit 'er out" as the Babe came to bat. Coach Leary of the Yankees ran out from the dugout and drew umpire Moriarity's attention to the ball. The umpires examined it and threw it out of the game. Pitcher Neff took no chances with the home run hitter and chased him to first, filling the bases. This brought up Bob Meusel, another hard hitter, but the beat he could do was to send up a short fly to Baneroff, leaving the three base runners stranded.

The Yanks scored their first run in the fourth inning. After Pipp had sent a high fly to Young, Ward got a hit on slow rebound to right. McNally hit to Neff, who, in trying to throw out Ward at second, shot the ball wide and both runners were safe. Wally Schang drew a pass, filling all the corners. Ward tallied the first run as Hoyt went out on a grounder, Rawlings to Kelly. McNally tried to score as the play was being made at first and was nipped at the plate by Kelly's good throw to Smith.

Nothing further happened in the scoring line until the eighth when the Yankees added two. Frisch muffed Peckinpaugh's easy fly back of second base. Ruth smashed a grounder to Kelly who threw out to Peckinpaugh at second, Baneroff taking the throw. Ruth sprinted to third on Bob Meusel's single to center and came home as Pipp was going out on a grounder, Rawlings to Kelly. Meusel took third on the play. Then the unexpected again happened—Meusel's steal home amid cheers that shook the grandstand. Ward ended the inning by fouling out to Kelly.

In addition to establishing a new world's series record of two consecutive shutouts by the same team in the first two games, the gate receipts record established Thursday also, went by the board. The 34,939 spectators who witnessed the Yankees' second victory paid $115,320. This was more than six times the gate receipts in the second game of the 1905 series which was the first played at the Polo grounds under the national commission rules.

Ancient History.

By a strange coincidence the Giants lost that game to the Philadelphia Athletics on the same field and by the same score as that of Thursday's contest. Chief Bender did the hurling for Connie Mack and it was the only game won by the Athletics in the famous shutout series. At that game the first of the series in New York, 24,992 persons paid $18,988.

Of the $115,320 paid Thursday the players will receive $58,813.20; the club, $59,208.80 and the advisory board $17,298. If interest in the series continues and the play should extend to six or seven games a new total receipts record is almost certain in view of the high prices being charged for both reserved and unreserved seats at the Polo grounds. The present receipts for gate receipts is held by the 1919 series between the Cincinnati and Chicago clubs when $722,414 was taken in during the eight games.
