GLADYS WALTON COMING TO ARCADE WEDNESDAY

In the picturesque, romantic story of a Pacific fishing village, "The Rowdy," which will be shown at the Arcade theatre Wednesday only, Gladys Walton makes a tremendous appeal to her audience. In a role which gives her beauty and talent unusual opportunities, Miss Walton is supported by Jack Mower, who portrays "Black Kincade," the regenerated sweetheart.

A whimsy five wants to take her from her fishing village and make a lady of her, aided by two misled old ladies, who think she is their sister's child. Reluctantly she goes with them, yet all the time her heart strings pull, pull her back to the sea—to the homely people she knows—in the man she won't to love and renewed belief in humanity through her courage.

"The Rowdy" was filmed up and down the colorful west coast with genuine fisherfolk playing the atmospheric roles. It is startling different from Miss Walton's recent productions but it is anticipated by playgoers to be one in which she will have her greatest opportunity for smashing drama and sincere heart appeal.

A two-reel comedy will also be shown.

AT SHERRY'S THEATRE TODAY AND TOMORROW

Persons of middle age who have convinced themselves that life has yielded up its full share to them and there is nothing left for them but to die, will do well to see "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," the new William DeMille Paramount production starring Thomas Meighan, which will be shown at the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow.

In this picture, Mr. Meighan plays the title role of Conrad Warrenner, and shows how youth can be regained. The picture deals with his quest. He first seeks happiness in reliving the romance of his childhood, but each attempt in this direction only plunges him more hopelessly into old age.

He finally falls in love with a beautiful girl whom he thinks is a stranded actress, who to his surprise proves to be the Countess of Darlington, who, before her marriage was a popular London show girl. He then discovers that to be young one must be in love.

Margaret Loomis plays the role of the Countess, and Mabel Van Vuren, Mayn Kemo, Hiram Johns, Sylvia Ashton and Kathryn Williams are in the cast. Olga Printzlau made the adaptation from Leonard Merrick's novel, and Guy Wilby was the photographer.

MONSTERS FOUND.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Two mammoth mushrooms, enough to "smother" all the steaks available in a hind quarter of beef, have just been found in France.

Four feet in diameter and weighing between nine and ten pounds the first one was found on an estate in Saint Germain. The species is edible and is known popularly in the district as the "death's head" mushroom.

The other known as the "beaded puff-ball" has been picked at Bourg-neuf. It weighs close to nine pounds and has a "flap" diameter of nearly 20 inches.
