Adopts Baby Found in Ash Can

Hearing feeble cries from a dark New York alley, Mrs. Charles O'Connell of Bridgeport, Conn., investigated, and found a baby in an ash can. Taking the abandoned waif to her home, she advertised for the mother, who answered the ad and gave her consent to the legal adoption.

DR. PHY GIVES CHILDREN PARTY

Members of Ladd Canyon School Have Delightful Time at His Cabin.

LADD CANYON, Oct. 18.—(Special)—Our school closed while the teacher attended institute.

Miss Helen Prebber is able to do some fancy work for which she has a natural talent, and through all her months of suffering and sickness whenever she is able, it is a source of pleasure to her. She is just now engaged in making a wonderful scrap book.

Mrs. John McCauley remains about the same and is slowly failing.

Mrs. R. A. Titus and her friend Mrs. Roy Nell from Eagle Valley, visited in our neighborhood Tuesday, on their way to La Grande to visit with Mrs. Nell's mother.

Peabody Bros. brought in a herd of sheep today which they bought over near Baker, making them a nice band of sheep now.

Mrs. C. Laughlin entertained a number of lady friends from town Monday afternoon. Mesdames Hackman, Watkins, Berger, Burner, Gates and Miss Hackman were among the guests. Light refreshments were served and the ladies returned home with pleasant memories of a delightful hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Couch took their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hollenberg, to Union Tuesday to call on their friends, Dr. and Mrs. Shoster, the three ladies being friends and schoolmates in Corvallis.

Miss Ruth Drumsmith returned from Enterprise, where she spent her vacation Thursday. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. D. Matot, who will spend a few days with home folks.

Eighteen ladies were present at the Get-Together Club meeting this week. The weather was ideal and the afternoon spent in the usual way. Mrs. Alex Ferguson resigned her office as Treasurer and Mrs. C. Laughlin was elected to act in her place.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served, Mrs. R. L. Couch proving herself a delightful hostess.

The Club decided to give Mrs. A. Ferguson a farewell party Friday night. Mrs. S. E. Edwin will be the next hostess, October 27.

Misses Tania Wilson and Ella Miller enjoyed a few days' vacation during institute, returning to school Thursday.

Mrs. C. H. Hopple spent Thursday in town assisting the Eastern Star ladies with their banquet for the Knight Templars.

Mrs. Irene Miles and Mrs. George Clark are spending this week with their sister, Mrs. A. Ferguson.

About forty neighbors and friends met Friday evening and proceeded to the home of Alex Ferguson to bid farewell to the family, who will move to Pine Valley next week. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were born and raised in this valley and leave many friends here. The evening was spent in games and cards until a late hour. The Get-Together ladies served refreshments. Mrs. Ferguson was presented with a beautiful cut glass vase, as a token of remembrance from the club. The best wishes of their many friends go with them to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hollenberg came down from Enterprise Sunday evening. Mrs. Hollenberg was a guest at the R. L. Couch home, while Mr. Hollenberg attended institute.

Walter Peabody is enjoying the ride to school in a new Chevrolet, just lately purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Couch and Miss Amy Miller visited in Union Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. Shoster, who have purchased Dr. McGowan's practice and just located there. Mrs. Shoster and Mrs. Couch were school chums in Corvallis and expect to have many pleasant times together, being only a few miles separated.

The Ladd Canyon school children were the guests to dinner and a happy afternoon last Friday at Dr. Phy's cabin on Ladd creek. The doctor proved himself a good judge of what it takes to satisfy the appetites of hungry children. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. McAllister served the dinner. The children had a delightful afternoon and returned home praising Dr. Phy's being as thoughtful and furnishing such good entertainment.

Mrs. Leola Peabody, Mrs. Ruth Herford and Miss Etta Banton furnished cars and took the children and teacher to the place of entertainment and the children feel doubly grateful to them for the afternoon's pleasure.

H. W. Peabody and Chas. Grady have been busy the past week serving on the grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCauley spent Sunday with Amy Elliott near Union.

Stanley Keithley, who has been working for D. W. Miller, went to town Monday to visit with his mother who is here from Innaha attending institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Council were guests to dinner at Ben Cotner Sunday. The Councils will soon be located on the James Mulholland ranch.

Mrs. Ruth Herford and Mrs. Frankie Fulton drove to Baker Thursday.

Ben Cotner is in the Starkey country on a hunting trip with friends.

Clyde Hopple is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia poisoning.

Mr. Hollenberg was unable to return to Enterprise for school work this week on account of his wife's illness.

Albert Krause made a business trip to Imbler this week.

RETIRE FROM MAIL CARRYING

M. F. Van Housen of Alice has been carrying mail on same route for 19 years.

ALICE, Oct. 18.—(Special)—Applauding in this vicinity is nearly over. Picking will probably begin sometime this week.

E. M. Murphy is confined to his home by a severe cold. He is better at present but is far from well yet.

On Oct. 12, Archie Keown took charge of the rural route. M. F. Van Housen has been rural carrier here for the past number of years. He has never missed a day because of sickness and only a few because of bad weather and impossible roads. His route is about twenty-six miles and he has traveled approximately 151,658 miles, over the road, or six and a fraction times the distance around the earth. Until 1919 he traveled only with horses. Since then he went whenever possible with his car. Mr. Van Housen has in his possession a letter of commendation from Postmaster General Hayes.

W. R. Gekeler, spent Thursday and Friday with his wife and children.

Miss Kathleen Stewart took advantage of institute week and came down from Union to visit her parents.

Miss Mabel Tressler made a trip to La Grande Tuesday evening.

Reds May be Working on Chinese Coolies

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Oct. 17.—Fears that Bolshevism may take hold upon the 66,000 East Indian coolies in the Fiji Islands, who have been imported over a period of years to work the sugar plantations, have been expressed by the Fiji Planters' Association, according to advices reaching here today.

The Indians have just carried out a six-months strike which paralyzed the sugar industry and caused heavy losses to the planters. They had presented demands that the planters characterized as "extravagant," and refused to grant. These demands, the planters declared, were the result of the efforts of agitators who are preaching that the Indian should not "salute" a white person, and similar pronouncements of race equality.

Under pressure from imperial authorities, suffrage has been granted the Indians, and the Fiji Islands will become more of an Asiatic colony than European.

The Fiji Planters' Association has expressed itself as favoring the introduction of Chinese coolies instead of further Indian immigrants.

Marital Mixup.

"You said you would be at home at 11, and here I have been keeping awake these last two hours waiting for you to come in," said an angry wife. The delinquent husband leaned against the wall and prepared to remove his shoes. "And I," he said softly and sorrowfully, "have been waiting outside for these last two hours so I could go to sleep."

"Jacob's Well."

This well is near Nabata, Syria. It is claimed that it was built by the rock by Jacob. A church built over the well was destroyed during the period of the Crusades.
