Society

Tuesday was social day at the Neighborhood Club and a goodly number attended to enjoy the splendid program arranged by Mrs. Harry Zurbick chairman of the social committee, and to get acquainted with the new members.
At the short business meeting preceding the program Mrs. Sherwood Williams announced the numbers of the Lyceum course which begins on October 28.
Miss Bertha Berger opened the program with a piano solo "Scottish Tune Poem," by McDowell. She graciously responded to an encore.
Following this the committee presented a one-act play entitled "Mrs. Black's Pink Tea," which produced a great deal of laughter. The characters were well chosen and showed that the Neighborhood Club is not lacking in dramatic talent.
Mrs. A. L. Richardson delighted her audience with two vocal solos, "Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton and "The Charming Bird" from the opera, "Pearl of Brazil," by David.
Light refreshments were then served and the ladies enjoyed a social hour.

Bert J. Slutz and Miss Hazel Biesacker of Kansas City, Mo., were united in marriage Tuesday evening, October 17, at the Methodist parsonage of Rev. Quigley. Mr. Slutz is a brother of Mrs. Ben Decious and of Mrs. Clyde Decious and formerly lived in Kansas City.
After the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the immediate relatives and several intimate friends at the home of Mrs. Ben Decious.
Mrs. W. H. Brown of Medford, Oregon, is visiting here with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Stewart.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Riverside school will meet on Friday afternoon of this week at three o'clock in the afternoon.
The Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen believe in eight hours of work, eight of play and eight of rest. Saturday evening, October 8, the members of local number 14 and 16 and their families gathered at the community hall at Perry to enjoy part of their play time. The event was a get-together meeting of the two locals to further the community spirit and good will of all members.
The evening was spent in dancing and card playing until ten thirty, when all were asked to partake of a fine supper furnished by the ladies of the two locals.
After supper all enjoyed dancing until a late hour. This social was the first of a series which the two locals are planning and all present had a very enjoyable time. The next one is expected to be held in La Grande.
C. V. Wolfe, field officer for the eleventh district, was present and gave an interesting talk in which he heartily endorsed the spirit of these community socials. He also made the statement that if more locals would, as an organization, give similar socials, the organization would be better understood by the public.

The entertainment committee was composed of Messrs. Clyde Davis, Henry Allen and Mr. Austin of local number fourteen, and Messrs. C. E. Robertson, J. P. Hoggensen and H. B. Larsen of local sixteen. The social committee is composed of L. W. Hall, Torvald Hansen, Emmet Smith, C. E. Robertson and J. P. Hoggensen.
Officers and members, friends of the members and all who contemplate joining the Ladies' Educational Auxiliary, will be entertained by the new president, Mrs. Sherwood Williams, at her home on Washington and First street, next Friday evening. Mrs. Williams is very anxious to have all the membership and their friends present as the year's work will be outlined. Except for this one detail, the evening will be purely social in nature.

KING APPEALS FOR MONEY

Former King of Bulgaria Wants Man Kept in Prison to Help Him Now.

SOFIA, Oct. 15.—Former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, now in Bavaria, has appealed for aid to the Bulgarian Premier Stamboulsky, a man whom Ferdinand, when King, persecuted and kept in prison for two years.
Now Ferdinand has written to Stamboulsky complaining that the English authorities have again attached an enormous sum of money he inherited from his ancestors and deposited in English banks.
This second attachment, litigation regarding the first having won by Ferdinand, was made under the Peace Treaty of Neuilly which gives England the right to seize all property of enemy states during the war. The English courts insist that Ferdinand is yet a Bulgarian subject.
The ex-King's request to Stamboulsky asked that Bulgaria, by virtue of the same treaty, should pay to him the money retained by England, that amount to be deducted from the sum owed by Bulgaria.
Ferdinand complained that his financial resources had been depleted lately and that his recently deceased brother, King Philip of Saxe-Coburg, had left him nothing, so that he will have to leave Coburg castle where he now lives.
Stamboulsky, in explaining to the Chamber of Deputies that the Bulgarian government had not entered into any negotiations with the former King, added that Ferdinand's plight might force him to become a Bolshevik and leave Coburg castle for Russia.

Ferdinand abdicated the Bulgarian throne after the armistice, and was succeeded by his son, now King Boris. The former king was blamed by the Bulgarian delegation at the Peace Conference with having caused Bulgaria to enter the war and the Bulgarian peasant party demanded his arrest and trial on charges of war guilt. It was reported at one time that the Bulgarian government had begun negotiations for his extradition.
He at first fled to Austria but was requested to leave that country and then took refuge in Munich, Bavaria. The bulk of his fortune was said to have been placed in neutral countries and of this there was about $2,000,000 in England. More than a year ago a British court ruled that this was his personal property and not liable to seizure as having belonged to Bulgaria.
Since then reports have been received that he was spending his money freely in exile.

The foolish man who built his house on the sand—
He gave an example in folly which anybody can understand.
It isn't so easy, however, to sense the mistake of trying to build the body on foods which lack essential nourishment.
Here, again, is a foundation of sand which gives way when the test comes.
Many a food that tastes good belies honesty of nourishment to equal its taste. Thus it tempts the appetite into mistakes that often are costly.
Grape-Nuts is a food which helps build bodily endurance for life's stress and storm. The full nourishment of wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral salts so necessary to bone structure and red blood corpuscles, with phosphates for the brain is retained in Grape-Nuts. The long baking process by which Grape-Nuts is made gives the food a natural sweetness and an unusual ease of digestibility and assimilation.
Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is fully nourishing, and whether eaten as a cereal at breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding for dinner, Grape-Nuts has a particular delight for the appetite. Sold by grocers.
