The Side-Saddle Coming Back

It takes daring to leap the hurdles sitting securely side-saddle. And this year more and more society horsewomen are riding in this less secure saddle. Here Mrs. Edna M. Baker (nee Gledhill) takes a "Fareye" as she takes a high hurdle at the annual at a horse show at Westbury, Long Island. No, she didn't fall.

John Visits His Brother Bill.
John Casey, a prominent business man of Portland, spent yesterday with his brother, Will H. Casey, and family of La Grande. He was on his way to New York to buy goods for his store in the metropolis. "John and Bill" had a mighty good visit recalling old times, both agreeing that things are better today than they were when they were boys.
Win a Victory.
C. A. Galloway of Elgin and also a commissioner of Union county, is at the Imperial. He is here with U. G. Couch of La Grande, the county judge, in submitting the county's road program for the coming year. One thing they have won from the state commission and that is the abandonment of about 1000 feet of pavement in the town of Union, as macadam will be substituted. The highway commission did not object a particle.—Oregonian.
Meeting of Women's Bible Club.
The Woman's Bible Search Club of the Presbyterian Sunday School held its regular monthly social meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. K. Wright. Following the business meeting a period of one-half hour was devoted to an introductory lesson from a course secured from the Moody Bible Institute. An hour of sociality was much enjoyed by all present, who were refreshments. All who are interested in Bible study are especially invited to unite with the club.

Putting in Hog Scrapper.
The Grande Ronde Meat Company is installing a new machine which scrapes one hundred hogs an hour. It is an entirely new invention and does away with the hard labor in slaughter houses of scraping the hogs. The Grande Ronde Meat company is the first company to install this machine in the Inland Empire.
Brought in Fine Well.
Roscoe West is home from Cabbage Hill, where he just finished a well on the old Judge Fee ranch, which is now owned by C. L. Elgin. This has been a barren country and the cry for water has been intense. Mr. West went after it with his well drill and at 120 feet he brought in a fine well. The people of Cabbage Hill are so excited they feel like holding a celebration.
Will Hold Court in Enterprise.
Judge J. W. Knowles and H. E. Hanna, court reporter, left this morning for Enterprise, where court will convene. TO THE AMUSEMENT LOVING PUBLIC OF EASTERN OREGON

What is without question, the most Pretentious Attraction of any kind that has ever appeared in the West is scheduled to appear shortly in Baker City.
It is with extreme pleasure that I announce the coming of The Famous Marcus Show of 1921 to the Baker Theatre.
So convinced am I that one performance will not suffice to accommodate those who will wish to see this attraction that I have booked it for two nights, SATURDAY and SUNDAY, OCTOBER 29 and 30.
In order to secure this attraction for Baker I was obliged to guarantee the company against loss, a huge sum in itself, as I now guarantee you, my patrons that this is the original city cast and production enroute to Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other big coast points.
Further, I wish to inform you that owing to excessive costs of operation This Is Positively The Only Big Musical Show Booked in the West This Season.
Despite the magnitude of this attraction, I have succeeded in holding the prices down to $2.00 for best seats.
