The football game played at Joseph Saturday, October 22, with the Union team was a snappy affair with honors nearly even, the score being 21 to 19, in favor of Joseph. Joseph's strong front in athletics has not been footed, but that there has been a steady improvement under the efficient leadership of Coach Amery and we hope for mummy scalps in the future.

A game at Imbler is scheduled for the coming Saturday.

Joseph Chapter No. 67, O. E. S., gave a dinner for its members and visitors Thursday evening at 3:30 in honor of Mrs. Minnie C. Lettison of Oregon, who made her official visit to Joseph Chapter October 25. We were also honored by a visit at the same time of Mrs. Grace Willets, W. M. of Anthony Chapter of Lostine, and Mesdames Crow, Allen and McKenna, also of Lostine.

Little three-year-old Francis Amey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Amey, had the misfortune to break her leg last week. She had climbed to the top of a ladder leaning against a straw stack, which was about fourteen feet high, and then fell from the stack. Dr. Mount was called and put the leg in a

NEW MARCUS SHOW COMING TO THE BAKER THEATRE

The New Marcus Show of 1921 will be the attraction at the Baker Theatre two nights, starting Saturday, October 29. While many showmen are bewailing the seeming indifference of the public to matters theatrical, A. B. Marcus has proven himself on the ball side of the market by almost doubling the size of the favorite organization and investing a sum in excess of $100,000.00 in the 1921 edition.

Jack Last, whose literary efforts are well known to the readers of popular works, is responsible for this season's book. Charlie Abot, the star comedian, is likewise composer of the score. Last is declared to have evolved a series of humorous episodes that are not only clever but productive of fun of the kind causing the buttons to pop off one's vest. Mr. Abot, who has written music for the Marcus enterprises for several years, has outdone himself.

HAROLD LLOYD ALSO THERE.

Most conspicuous "Among Those Present" on the program at the Arcade theatre Friday and Saturday is Harold Lloyd, the popular young comedian who has taught the world how to laugh from ear to ear without blushing.

It is a three-reel Associated Exhibitors' comedy, telling the story of a hotel "button" who is suddenly placed in another man's shoes, and thus them a mischief.

Mildred Davis is Harold Lloyd's winsome leading lady. The remainder of the cast includes Aggie Harrington, James Kelly, Vera White and William Gillespie. The story of "Among Those Present" is by its producer, Hal Roach and Sam Taylor. The titles read:

Dismantling of the R. H. Graham sawmills at Cornelius is under way as the first step toward moving the equipment to Verma to cut ties for the new Roach and Sam Taylor. The titles read:
