CHARLES RAY SEEN IN "SCRAP IRON" TOMORROW

Beginning tomorrow, and for the next two days, "Scrap Iron," the latest First National attraction starring Charles Ray will be the offering at the Arcade Theatre. Ray not only stars in the picture, but also directed it, and did the greater part of adapting the story written by Charles E. Van Loan and published in the Saturday Evening Post, for the screen.

The young actor portrays the role of John Steel, a young mill worker. His mother induces him to abandon boxing, which is his favorite recreation. His promise causes him to get the reputation with his fellow workers as "yellow" and also loses him his girl, who nicknames him "Scrap Iron." Then he loses his job through lateness caused by attempting to the wants of his mother, who is an invalid.

Every other avenue of earning money being closed to him, he turns to his boxing ability to support himself and his mother. The result is one of the most exciting and thrilling scenes which ever took place in a motion picture production, according to New York critics.

Vera Steadman, Lydia Knott, Tim Wilson, Tom O'Brien, Stanton Heif Claude Berkeley and Charles Wheeler are among the players who have prominent roles in the production.

"JIM THE PENMAN" AT THE ARCADE TODAY ONLY

Lionel Barrymore who is starred in "Jim the Penman," the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., production, which will be the attraction at the Arcade Theatre today only, enacts a role in this photoplay entirely different from any he has ever done for the screen. The production is an up-to-date Americanized version of a melodrama that has been popular on the English and American stage for many years.

Mr. Barrymore has the role of a bank cashier who has a remarkable ability for imitating signatures. The Isn't always the one who sits at the head of the table and carves the Sunday chicken.

Many times it's Mother whose clever headwork makes the family income travel just twice as far as it otherwise might.

Mother usually sees to it that the Savings Account is "paid" just as regularly as the grocery bill—so that as long as there is a family there'll be Sunday chicken to carve.

An account here ably assists the head of the family.
