

Age does not come with the blare of trumpets. It creeps along on velvet slippers—and we are old before we know it.

THE woman who carelessly accepts her graceful slenderness as a permanent gift of the gods is suddenly amazed to find that a few added years have brought unpleasant figure tendencies that accentuate her age and betray the smooth beauty of carefully preserved hands and face.

Nature needs help at any age—and just the right wisp of a corset worn in youth is a protection against the discouraging task of attempting to regain lost figure lines in later life. Good lines are far easier to retain than to regain.

SINGING SCHOOL WAS SUCCESSFUL

COVE, Nov. 14.—(Special).—Two of Cove's younger set were married at Union November 9. The contracting parties were Clark Sharp and Miss Ruby Fulp. All of Cove had understood that there was a budding romance, but when they quietly stole away and took the nuptial vow, anxiety, to put it mildly, was astonished. When they return from their honeymoon the young couple will reside with the groom's mother, Mrs. Helen P. Smith.

The "Singing School" given by the Community Chorus was a great success from start to finish. The singing master, in the person of Robert Baxter, gave a very able rendition of that almost obsolete person—the director of a singing school. The duets, trios and choruses from the old fashioned melodies were beautifully rendered, securing encore after encore. The personnel of the chorus was Mrs. Edith Pease, Mrs. Frank Conley, Mrs. Irene Bell, Miss Margaret Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rowe, Will Houx, Harry Weimar, Mrs. Ira Maxwell, Mrs. Lewis Laird, Mrs. Earnest Miller, Beatrice and Bertrand Wardell, J. R. Price, Mrs. Louie Peck, Arthur Peck, with A. A. Antles director. The performance was given as a library benefit, totaling the neat little sum of $50.00 for this worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller are the happy parents of a small son, born Tuesday. Miss Vivian Jarman of Baker is a house guest at the home of Mrs. Wesley Smith. Mrs. Alfred Daniels and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruby Daniels, were La Grande visitors Thursday. Mrs. Daniels has a new Ford Sedan which occupies much of her time of late.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Powers of Medford Springs were in Cove Wednesday on their way to La Grande to give one of their popular old-time dances. They have just returned from Walla Walla and Pendleton, where they are giving a series of these pleasant affairs. Ray Constock of Baker is in Cove for the week at the home of his hostess, Ralph Constock. Mrs. Lloyd Carter and her sister, Miss Effie Conley of La Grande very pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Guild at the home of the former, on Wednesday afternoon. The guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. Percy Little of Union, Mrs. Arch Conley,

Mrs. J. J. Conley, Miss Fannie Brown of La Grande, Mrs. Ray Duncan, Mrs. Chris Bertch, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. T. W. Conklin, Mrs. C. E. Lawson, Mrs. Myrtle Conley, Mrs. Thos. Hefty, Mrs. Clarence Heryford, Mrs. E. C. Rees, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. John Dean, Mrs. Ruby Daniels, and, as guest of honor, the Rev. Dr. Van Waters.

Dr. C. M. Ramsdell is again confined to the house.

Mrs. Paul M. Ellis was very happily surprised at her home Thursday afternoon by the ladies of the Auxiliary. The ladies brought refreshments and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Those present were Mrs. M. J. Duffy, Mrs. Thos. Hefty, Mrs. Clara Milman, Mrs. Sasekor, Mrs. Howarter, Mrs. Grant Gardner, Mrs. Annie Richardson, Mrs. L. Malone, Mrs. Wm. Harris, Mrs. Tom Harris, Mrs. Atho Eckersley, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. J. W. Sills, Mrs. Mae Saunders, Mrs. F. E. White, Mrs. Ethel Van Vlack.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert French spent Thursday in North Powder.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Little of Union were guests at the Dean home one day this week.

Dr. Van Waters was a dinner guest at the home of Dr. C. M. Ramsdell Wednesday.

Mrs. Klopferstein and daughter, Margaret, of La Grande, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bertch.

Mrs. Paulina Pelliman, who is ill at Hot Lake Sanatorium, is recovering.

Mrs. E. T. Roberts is recovering from an operation at the Grande Ronde hospital in La Grande.

Dr. H. Ostfeld received a hasty summons to Portland on Thursday.

Rev. Van Waters, missionary for Eastern Oregon, will hold services at the Ascension church Wednesday, November 16. An invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. Ostfeld took charge of the library Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Nellie B. Grave, the librarian, through illness, was unable to attend to her duties.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

RECORD PRICES FOR GRAPE CROP

Home Brewers said to be Responsible for Wealth Showered on Grape Raisers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Willingness of American home-brewers to "take a chance" with popping corks and exploding casks is assigned by the California Grape Protective Association as the reason why this year's 250,000-ton California wine grape crop was disposed of at record prices. Despite the public's hard experience with the delicate fermentation process, it is demanding the grapes faster than they can be grown.

The sales come under the ruling that any family can make 200 gallons of fruit juice, non-intoxicating, "but not necessarily confined to the one-half per cent alcoholic content", according to the California Grape Grower, official organ of the association. And every family with the home-brew penchant or desire is taking advantage of this ruling, it continues, "with the result that there is nearly as much wine being made today as there was before the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect."

The experiences of the home-brewers would "provide excellent material for scenario writers, for there are thrilling escapes and harrowing experiences without number." The Grape Grower says. "While many people have made failures of their past efforts, you will find them trying again and again until they perfect the process." All of which is "great stuff for the grape grower."

Competition in home-brew is also providing a great stimulus. If a man's next-door neighbor turns out stuff with more of a "zip" or a "bouquet" in it than he can produce, he goes to work to perfect his own process.

The stimulus given the grape-growing industry by home-brewers means that the best grade of wine grapes brought in $284 a ton, or about $294 net to the grower. Five years ago this trade sold around $30 a ton.

This year the wine crop was about 100,000 tons short in California, but the normal demand, and more, would have been absorbed by the home-brewers. The Grape Grower said freight car shortage prevented a quick turnover of the crop, but an account of the small output there was no delay. From September 16 to October 2 an average of 200 cars were shipped out of rain and grape growing districts daily.

The Grower suggests a campaign of education for the home-brewer that will take some of the fatmation out of the little yeast particle that comes on the outside of the skin of the wine grape. Home-brewers are so asked to study the different varieties of grapes so that they will not buy an inferior sort.

Many amateurs apparently are unaware that a certain grape grown in the Santa Cruz, California, mountains makes a particularly superior fruit juice, but reject this on account of its heavy black color. Experts have been retained by the association to write articles showing what varieties the home-brewer should purchase.

According to The Grape Grower the aid of both the University of California and the United States government is being enlisted to improve the grape vine and its product.

COSTS OF SMALL HOME LOWER

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Effort will be made to throw some light on "real reductions" in the cost of small homes" at the 17th annual meeting of the American Civic Association opening here today. Dr. John M. Gries, chief of the newly created division of building and housing in Secretary Hoover's department of commerce, will conduct tomorrow afternoon's session on this subject.

Elimination of waste in house plans will be taken up by Edwin H. Brown of Minneapolis, chairman of the committee on small houses of the American Institute of Architects, and elimination of J. C. Nichols of Kansas City, Mo. Dr. W. S. Stratton, director of the federal bureau of standards will attack another feature of the problem in showing how tests of building materials may reduce cost and maintain quality.

Various phases of city, town and neighborhood improvement and the protection of natural beauty will be taken up at this four day meeting. Among them are:

Local civic responsibility, popular support for civic programs, gains against the city "nuisances"—smoke, noise, billboards and the wire tangle,—zoning and the high cost of housing.

A session on national parks and playgrounds is expected to be one of the most important of the convention. John Barton Payne, former secretary of the interior, presiding and Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service, Frederick Law Olmsted of Brookline, Mass. and others speaking.

A joint meeting with the National Municipal League will be held at the University of Chicago the afternoon of Thursday the closing day, following a review of the association's progress presided over by President J. Horace McFarland of Harrisburg, Pa., its president.

The association numbers some 2,000 individual members, civic leaders from all parts of the United States and several hundred affiliated civic bodies, including a large number of chambers of commerce.

COACH ENGAGED

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 11.—Charles (Shy) Huntington, Oregon football coach, has announced his engagement to Miss Hattie Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hills of Oak Ridge.

It is understood the wedding will be an event before the Oregon football team leaves on its trip to the Hawaiian Islands, December 10, and that this will be the honeymoon trip of the bride and bridegroom.
