

Local News In Brief

COMING EVENTS.
 Nov. 15—6:30 p. m., at Y. M. C. A.: Father and Son Banquet.
 Any La Grande subscriber to the Observer who does not receive his paper by 8 o'clock in the evening, please call Western Union, Main 24, and a special messenger will deliver a copy.

From Walla Walla.
 A. N. Hancock, who is with the Walla Walla Lumber company, is stopping at the Scimmer hotel while he interviews the pine manufacturers of La Grande.

Wade Siler Returns Home.
 After spending a few days in La Grande looking after business affairs, Wade Siler, former manager of the Walla Walla Milling and Grain company of Eastern Oregon, returned to his home in Enterprise this morning.

Fred Ashley on Way Home.
 Former representative Fred Ashley of Union and Walla Walla counties left this morning for his home in Enterprise after having made a trip over the northwest en business.

He is Schooled in Figures.
 E. T. Bussell, of Salem, who has more figures in his head than any Burroughs adding machine that ever was invented, arrived in La Grande last night and is a guest at the Foley hotel.

Lostine Lady is Here.
 Mrs. Chris Johnson, one of the best Red Cross workers in Walla Walla county and wife of one of Lostine's prominent citizens, is at the Savoy hotel while she spends a few days in La Grande shopping.

Cato Likes the Climate.
 "My, but it is fine to get up and breathe this air," said old Cato J. Johns, who used to be a merchant and banker at Sumpter when the gold was running free as water in the upper country. Cato is now buying grain and will be stationed at La Grande in the future. He is a brother to Charles A. Johns, who recently accepted an appointment as federal judge in the Philippine Islands.

Football Wednesday.
 A football game will be played on the Riveria school grounds Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock between the Riveria team and the boy scout team.

City Enriched.
 Failure to appear in municipal court today resulted in $65 being brought into the city treasurer by four men arrested last night on charges of being intoxicated. Floyd Gathier's share of the money was $10 while Fred Toney and Fred Merritt each contributed $15 and Fred Hutchinson's share was $15.

Stock Show was Fine.
 George Garrett, city manager, who was in Portland last week on business and ran out to the live stock show for an afternoon, stated on his return home that the show was the best thing he had ever seen.

Over from Elgin.
 Mrs. George H. Scott, of Elgin, is a La Grande visitor today and is a Savoy guest.

Honored at School.
 Don Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cramer of this city, has been elected to the Websterian literary society of Willamette university. This is one of the oldest literary societies in the western part of the United States and has many prominent members. Among these of the older generation having been honored by this society is Robert Eakin who was elected a member when he attended Willamette university.

Popular Young People Wed.
 Saturday evening at their new home in La Grande at the hour of 7 o'clock Rev. A. R. Sitton of the Baptist church united Mr. James G. Gooch and Miss Elba Marlin in marriage. Mr. Gooch is an employee of the O. W. R. & N. railroad and Miss Marlin has been one of the very popular young ladies connected with the Home Telephone company. They will make a trip east during the holidays and be at home in La Grande after their return. The wedding party included Carl Porcine, W. D. Mitchell and Misses Jessie Mitchell and Angela Mitchell.

He Was Reared in Fort Scott.
 Rodney McRae, the old sport who runs the Northern hotel in Walla Walla, squared himself in an easy chair at the Savoy hotel today and told the story of his life, which would make Zane Grey or Harold Bell Wright camp for weeks to get the base of a story. "Rod" was reared in Fort Scott, Kansas, where the sunflowers bloom and he has never forgotten his early training which was along the grass hopper route. The old fellow is still some hopper and is as lively as a four-year-old at a county fair.

County Clerks Had Good Meeting.
 County Clerk Kenneth McCormick has arrived home from the Portland meeting where county clerks from all over the state met in convention and discussed the problems of the court house. Many very important matters were before the clerks for discussion and a number of changes in the handling of county business will probably result from the meeting. That much good is accomplished by these annual conventions there is no question and the uniformity of handling work in the clerk's office in each county has resulted to a great extent, so that instead of being a different method for each county all the clerks use very nearly the same forms at present time.

Will Meet Tomorrow.
 The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Bible Search Class of the Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Eakin, 1812 Walnut street, at 2:30 o'clock. This is a class devoted to the study of the entire Bible and has adopted the synthetic course from the Moody Bible institute. All are welcome who desire greater knowledge of the Bible. Take note book and pencil with you.

PORK LOWER.
 PORTLAND, Nov. 15.—Cattle were steady today at hogs 25 cents to 50 cents lower. Prime lights were $8.25 to $8.75. Sheep were quiet and eggs steady and butter weak.
