GRANGERS HOSTS TO CITY FOLKS

GRANGE HALL, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Arthur L. Huff left last week for Winona, Washington, where she will spend some time visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harkell.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Redhead entertained a few friends at their home in La Grande. From the time the guests entered the Redhead home until the time to say farewell, it was a continual round of merriment. The most pleasing feature of the evening of fun was the conducting of a millinery school where each gentleman present was required to trim a hat for his lady partner. These gentlemen proved they could handle rosebuds and feathers quite creditably. At the close of the evening Mrs. Redhead served delicious refreshments.

The families of Art McCall, I. D. Smutz, Wm. Hughes and Roy Spencer were Grandma Gekeler's guests on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hughes have moved to the place known as the "Reynolds Sheep Sheds," where Mr. Hughes is taking care of Levy's cattle and some of the Reynolds horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Walsinger and family spent Thanksgiving at the home of Ernest DeLong.

A large number of grangers and friends had a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner at the hall last Thursday. After dinner a short program was put on.

Women Cops Get Cold Feet In A Hurry

NEWYORK, Nov. 30.—Hundreds of New York's 2500 women reserve traffic cops, called for duty for the first time, took one look out into the cold, dismal rain Monday and decided this was no time for christening their stunning new uniforms.

The woman traffic cops made their boy to the New York public Monday. At all intersections in the vicinity of public schools women police reserves were on duty. They were called out to replace 2500 patrolmen, who are on duty protecting milk wagons during the milk handlers' strike.

Whistles are the sole weapons of the volunteer force. All wore a uniform consisting of a dark blue jacket and skirt, with a light blue vest and a semi-military cap.

More than 100 hoboes were turned away from Albany Monday night because the jail was full.

SCHOOL STOPPED BY SNOWFALL

ALICE, Nov. 30. (Special)—There was no school Monday the 22nd, because of snow.

Miss Kathleen Stewart spent Thanksgiving with her parents.

Mrs. Herbert Speckhart has been ill for several days.

Rev. Fees of Wallowa and Rev. Limes were unable to continue their revival meetings at Alice because of the storm.

E. D. Gaskill of this vicinity was a passenger on the east-bound train from Portland at the time of the big slide. He says it was an experience he will not forget for awhile. Those waves in the Columbia looked as big as mountains.

Mrs. W. A. Buchanan and granddaughter were business visitors in La Grande the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKennon were guests at the Ledbetter home Sunday.

Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe visited the Alice schools Tuesday.

WOMEN LAWYERS

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Four women have just passed their final examinations for the bar but this does not mean that they become barristers immediately. They have to finish their course, so that they will probably be called to the bar during next year.

Miss Ivy Williams, of the Inner Temple, passed the final examinations with first-class honors and officials consider this to be remarkable. She will be the first woman called to the bar.

OREGON COUPLE MUCH PLEASED

Portland Man and Wife Say They Are Delighted With Results from Taking Tanlac.

"I started taking Tanlac when I saw the good it was doing my wife, and now both of us are enjoying as good health as we ever did," said C. Inghram, Box 123, F. D. No. 1, Linnton, Oregon, valued employee of the Standard Oil Company in Portland.

"Rheumatism and stomach trouble had the best of me and I was beginning to look like nothing would reach my case. I had the steepest kind of pains in my shoulders and arms and at times it seemed like every joint in my body was aching. I could hardly work. In fact, lots of mornings I didn't feel like leaving the house at all. My appetite was gone and what little I ate did me no good. I gradually lost weight and hardly had any strength or energy at all.

"My wife, who had been in bad health a long time, started getting fine results from Tanlac, so I commenced taking it myself and I'm now feeling as fine as a fiddle. The rheumatic pains have left me and when I get up of mornings now I'm ready for a big day's work. My appetite is a corker and everything I eat agrees with me. I have picked up 20 pounds in weight and feel strong and healthy once more. My wife and I are both well pleased with Tanlac and are all the time recommending it to some of our friends."

Administrative Guild of the Presbyterian church held an interesting at the home of Miss Hattie Monday evening. Miss Ora Egan the mission study class, the being "Islam and the Far East India." She was assisted by local Cook, Mrs. Oscar Postre and Hulda Anderson.

Refreshments were served by Miss. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Emily Smith, 95 M avenue, on December 12th.

Parent-Teacher Association of the school met at the building last Tuesday. The fourth and fifth grades sang a number of songs. Songs from the primary rendered a good song in a very charming manner. Marguerite Ellis played a piano, Eva Flannery following with reading on the purpose of Thanksgiving. Reta Snydam, Beatrice Anderson and Ruth Buchanan each a selection appropriate to the giving time. The numbers were unusually well rendered and welcomed by an able address by Rev. H. Gunn. After a short business session refreshments were served.

Times that comes with conducting showed itself at rehearsal "Jerry the Tramp" last evening. The entire cast has complete rehearsal of the lines and the finishing touches on the "business" of the play are now receiving close attention from the director down. The seat sale goes up tomorrow morning at Silverthorn's Drug Store and a spirited buying campaign is anticipated, for everybody is talking about the revival of old-fashioned home-talent dramatics and wants to see the first come-back of the old-time art. Those who have been fortunate enough to get on the rehearsals and see the finished ability displayed by each of the actors are profuse in their claims for the presentation next Monday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard P. Landis entertained Dr. and Mrs. Miller of Huntington, Thursday.

When the agents of Virginia Rea, who comes to La Grande December 9th, were in La Grande, they were told that it was absolutely necessary that the program be a popular one. Virginia Rea made good, and the following program, to be rendered here, shows a preponderance of popular and old-time melodies that will be sure to touch the hearts of the audience. It is by no means a classical program—on the other hand, a most popular one. Here it is:

1. "Nina," Pergolesi; "A Pastoral," Veracini.
2. Aria, "Caro Nome," Verdi.
3. "Mighty Lak a Rose," Nevin; "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Moore-Stevenson; "Lindy Lou," Strickland; "The Last Rose of Summer," Moore.
4. "Solgejrs Songs," Grieg; "The Lass With the Delicate Air," Arns;

There Is No Economy In Poor Vision

PEOPLE can economize on clothing. They can pare the household appropriation. The old car can be driven another season. Improvements on the property can be deferred. But glasses must be secured when they are needed.

There is no scale of values by which the worth of good vision may be reckoned. Like good health, it is absolutely necessary for the performance of our daily duties and the full enjoyment of life itself. Such a priceless possession must be safeguarded, whatever the cost.

Delay in securing glasses for weakening eyes is not economizing but the costliest kind of folly. You are not only experiencing discomfort, perhaps suffering, and depriving yourself of your full efficiency, but every day the eyes are without the assistance they need, their natural powers are retrograding the faster.

Good Vision is the most inexpensive thing you can secure. The small expense of proper lenses fitted by competent professional people makes the cost of good vision insignificant. If you have any reason to suspect that your eyes are not functioning properly, as a matter of economy you should consult a reliable Optometrist at once.
