THE SCREEN

AT SHERRYS—LAST DAY
Douglas MacLean went to the hat with another comedy hit when his latest picture, "Chickens," an excellent Paramount-Ince production, was shown to a delightful audience at the Sherry theatre yesterday. It is a delicious comedy packed with laughs—and a nightmare that is irresistibly funny.

Mr. MacLean has the role of a young man who suddenly is impoverished and becomes a chicken raiser. His blooded stock apparently is poisoned and his sole source of income is cut off. Then follows a turbulent night of dream-haunted slumber. The murdered chickens, hens and roosters by the dozen, appear to take their revenge. Roosters as large as ostriches, hens with sword-like beaks, and chicks with fiery eyes. They heap clucking reproach on Deems for his poison potion, they point accusing claws, their combs bristle belligerently—and Stanwood awakes.

In many respects this is a remarkable comedy. Gladys George is the leading woman and the support generally is excellent, including such players as Claire McDowell, Charles Mailles, Edith Yorke and Al Filson. The comedy is a picturization of Herschel S. Hall's famous story, "Yancona Villies."

Also, showing "Fighting Fate."

JACKIE COOGAN IN NEW PLAY TODAY.

"Peck's Bad Boy," starring Jackie Coogan, the six-year-old screen actor, will commence its engagement at the Arcade Theatre today.

It is the first picture that Jackie has done since Charlie Chaplin discovered him and produced "The Kid." His work in that feature appealed to Irving Lesser as especially fitting him for the title role in "Peck's Bad Boy," and, after making arrangements with Warner Brothers, the continuity was prepared especially for Jackie and the picture produced.

Among those who will be seen in the cast with Jackie are Dolie May, Wheeler Oakman, James Corrigan, Lillian Leighton, Raymond Hutton, Charles Hutton and Baby Gloria Wool.

"Peck's Bad Boy" will be the attraction at the Arcade Theatre today and Saturday.

JOURNEY'S END AT THE

STAR A MASTERPIECE

We cannot too strongly recommend to the picture patrons of La Grande the strikingly beautiful production which yesterday began a two days' engagement at the Star Theatre.

"The Journey's End," it is called, and not only is it a distinct novelty in the art of picture making, but it is as well a rare example of pictorial perfection, splendid direction and acting which borders on the superb.

Much credit is due Mr. Pallin for his splendid handling of a splendid subject, and we say in conclusion—by all means see "The Journey's End," which will be shown at the Star Theatre tonight for the last time.

CONFLICT COMING HERE;

PRISCILLA DEAN STARRS

In showing "Conflict," the Universal Jewel feature produced under Stuart Patton, the director of "Reputation," the Star Theatre starting Monday will present one of the most gripping films seen for a long time. Supporting the star, Priscilla Dean, is Herbert Rawlinson, one of the best known and most popular players of the silver sheet.

This picture is now having a record run at the new Blue Mouse Theatre in Portland.
