"THREE SEVENS"

This is not a crook picture, in the accepted sense. It does not flaunt vice and crime. A large portion of the action was taken at the state penitentiary at Florence, Arizona, and the action was so satisfactory to the governor of the state and prison officials that many of the convicts were allowed to participate in the scenes.

Thursday night the Associated Girl Students gave what was described as one of the most successful parties ever given within the annals of the high school.

The fun began at eight o'clock in the high school auditorium. The first act on the evening's program was a three-act play, "The Bird's Christmas Carol." This was carried through splendidly with the girls double quartet singing the "Christmas Carol," and a duet by Miss Othello Gray and Miss Beulah Smith entitled "Moonlight," between acts. After the play had been presented the girls served refreshments in the gymnasium. Santa was well in evidence, the part being taken by Earl Reynolds, and he presented each and every girl with a candy cane. The refreshments consisted of ice cream and punch which everybody ascertained was simply delicious. Then for the remainder of the evening a social hour was observed. The girls went home feeling that the party had been a grand success from every standpoint.

The play commenced with a delightful prologue in which the Angel, with Miss Edris Maguire in the role, brought the baby and left it in a nest. The baby represented the Christmas Carol. The stage was beautifully set during this prologue and presented a splendid appearance. After the prologue the three acts took place which are familiar to everyone.

The cast of characters was: Mrs. Bird, Margaret Palmer; Carol, Fonda Henke; Lydia Maguire; Uncle Jack, Lee Lyman; Mrs. Ruggles, Winona Lyman; Peter Ruggles, Constance Cleaver; Sarah Maud, Velma Switzer; Peoria, Lucille Black; Kitty, Ruth Garrick; Cornelius, Mildred Mulholand; Clem, Clarice Fallow; Larry, Louise French, and the Angel, Edris Maguire.

Friends and neighbors of the Ira Kennedy family at Island City played a joyful trick on Mrs. Kennedy Thursday evening by surprising her upon her birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were comfortably seated around the family hearth for the evening when the neighbors came streaming in with materials for oyster stew and with many good wishes for Mrs. Kennedy. The evening was spent in a delightful way.

At a meeting of the University of Oregon alumni of this city held at the home of George Palmer last night several items were discussed, the important one being an agreement to hold a dance at the Country Club next Tuesday evening. The dance will be of a Christmas nature.

A unique Christmas program for children and grown-ups was presented at the Methodist church by some 30 participants last evening, in connection with a "White Christmas" celebration. Instead of giving presents to each other, the children gave without receiving. Aside from a little basket of candy which the primary department members received, the giving was entirely outward. A large collection of edibles was piled about the trees, and this morning a committee took them to needy homes in La Grande, and the collection went to the same direction. Miss Ruth Quigley directed the poignant emblematic of Christmas, and it was both unique and enjoyable.

Very merry was the Christmas party enjoyed by the Young People's Educational Auxiliary Monday evening in the parlors of the M. E. church. Mrs. A. W. Nelson, Miss Cressa Wells, Miss Hazel Mohr, Miss Viola Benham, Miss Effie Snider, Mrs. Albert Curry and Miss Imogene Russell being hostesses.

The room was artistically decorated in red and green, which gave a pretty setting for the beautiful Christmas tree. Miss Russell, as Mother Goose, welcomed Old Mother Hubbard, Simple Simon, Polly Bo-

Peep and other members of her family, also children from other lands.

Very enjoyable letters were written to Santa. Miss Mahaffy's letter pleased Jolly St. Nick the most. London Bridge, Going to Jerusalem, and other games were played with the enthusiasm of childhood days. Miss Bertha Walsinger, as Simple Simon, read "The Spelling Season," by Strickland Gillilan. Mrs. Sherwood Williams sang "The Story Book Ball," a Mother Goose character song. After Santa distributed his gifts, very original and dainty refreshments were served.

At a meeting of the alumni and students of the O. A. C. held Wednesday evening, final arrangements for the dance to be given on next Wednesday evening at Rex hall were completed. This dance is an annual affair and is given primarily to the high school students, but all friends of the O. A. C., together with the alumni and former students of the local high school and of any university or college are invited and urged to attend.

Jess Andrews has been appointed chairman of the dance and has arranged for extensive decorations, which, as in the past, will be one of the features. Other committees are at work and the O. A. C. folks promise to entertain their guests in royal fashion.

A very enjoyable entertainment was given to a select group of friends by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Orme and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Groupe, who were in the role of host and hostess. This delightful little party took place on the night of Wednesday, December 21. After a very interesting social hour had been observed the guests played five hundred, after which a two-course luncheon was served. The yuletide spirit was very much in evidence and the rooms were exquisitely decorated to further the Christmas aspect. Mr. and Mrs. Orme and Mr. and Mrs. Groupe served very capably in their role of hosts and hostesses. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Winter, Mrs. W. Randall of Boise, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Krantz, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hara, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gjerme, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. W. Sheffield, Harold Sheffield, Ed Ledbetter, Mrs. W. Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Orme and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Groupe.

The Eagles last night held their regular monthly meeting and banquet. Twenty new members went through the regular razz, after which the party attended the banquet, which featured baked salmon as the main item on the menu. About two hundred guests and members partook of the banquet. A splendid evening was observed by all.

Wednesday evening at the home of H. A. Zurbick the Clio Bridge Club held its regular meeting. A delightful evening was spent at bridge, Mrs. Chase Bohnenkamp winning the honors. Afterwards a social hour was observed and refreshments were served. Every member of the club was present at this meeting.

Preparations are being made to present a Boy Scout play entitled "The Upper Trail," at the high school auditorium on the evening of January the third. The play represents the practical side of the scout life and in addition is interwoven with a splendid story. It consists of four acts, the first act taking place at a scout meeting, featuring the awarding of the Tenderfoot, 2nd and 1st class degrees and depicting the purpose of the Boy Scout organization and introducing the drama. The second act illustrates camp life, showing the practical knowledge gained by the scout movement. The third and fourth acts are around a camp-fire in the evening. Singing, solos, and instrumental selections will be rendered by the scouts and the final act ends things up in a most pleasing fashion.

Between acts the Ad Club's Men's Chorus will entertain things with several selections. Tickets for reserved seats are on sale at Silverthorn's.

The cast of characters is: Jack Gorman, a gang leader, Edward Fitzgerald; Dick Foster, leader in athletics; Sheldon Brown; William Nichols; Dick's rival, Howard Beatty; Shorty Briggs, nickelodeon fiend; Bob Smith; Skinny Flint, a vivacious kid; Jack Coolidge; Edward Dahlin, not used to sermons; John Larson; Archie Chapman, slightly high-toned; Wilson Thurston; Abe Cohen, never spends any more than he has to; Herman Mires; John Casserly, business before pleasure; H. G. Hogan; Ross Hanley, scout commissioner; A. Edwin Pryke; Broad Jackson, heavyweight; Jack Dennis; Slim Jackson, Broad's twin brother; Mac Byrd; Philip Mansfield, camp physician; G. A. Hogan; Amos Squire, constable; Leo McCorkle; Si Harris, farmer; Floyd Coolidge; Oscar Pesavitz, camp cook; Walter Dulli; and Bert Bradshaw, scout master Harvey Carter.

Health From Sand.

One of the best ways of recuperating tired nerves is to walk barefooted over a long stretch of sand. The nerves of the feet are slightly irritated by the sand grains, and the blood, being thus stimulated, circulates more freely. Doctors say that, apart from the physical effects, the mental powers are greatly invigorated by the exercise.

Personality depends on six factors: charm, force, symmetry, sympathy, optimism, and modesty.

Shoes Wear Out— So Do Batteries!

When a pair of shoes wear out you have been notified in advance by the thickness of soles or cracking of the upper—or some other easily recognized sign.

But when a battery wears out you may be taken by surprise, because batteries often go strong until the last minute.

The way—and the only way—to cut trouble and worry and cost to the limit is to buy the best battery—the Willard Thru-Sealed Rubber Battery. Its Thru-Sealed Rubber Insulation gives you the most miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.

CHRISTMAS 1921

'Tis Christmas again—the season of laughter and youth. With a lift of spirit and a warming of the heart, six joins hands with sixty to celebrate the happy occasion—time escapes the spell. Only a day; but on this day the old grow young and youth throws off the grasp of time.

Life's winding course and through the ages, change constantly bites at the heels of habit and custom. The romantic stage coach has given place to steam and speed. Electricity has snuffed the soft beam of candle light. Even the tinkling sleigh bell has been drowned in the roar of motor horn. Yet youth knows naught of the old and Age gladly accepts the new. Who will say that spirits were keener or smiles brighter at the Christmas of our fathers, than they are today.

In this modern spirit the offers to each and every one of its patrons

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS
