DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

The Screen

"THE CONCERT" AT SHERRYS TODAY AND TOMORROW

A splendid picturization of "The Concert," the play in which Leo Ditrichstein starred for several seasons with much success, has been produced by Goldwyn.

"The Concert" is a keen study of human nature and contains a fund of sparkling humor—its situations are genuinely laughable. It is the story of a middle-aged, temperamental musical genius and an impressionable young wife—not his own—and their adventures as soul mates. The musician's sensible spouse and the husband of her "rival" join hands to teach the erring pair of their ways by imitating them. The result is easily foreseen. The musician begs forgiveness of his wife and the other woman rushes into her own husband's arms, permanently cured of hero-worship.

An excellent cast interprets the play. Also showing a comedy.

"I DO!" HITS HIGH MARK

Only a wooden Indian could sit through Harold Lloyd's newest Associated Exhibitors' comedy, "I do!" and not double up with laughter. Yesterday's audiences at the Arcade Theatre, where it will be shown tonight for the last time, started laughing at the very beginning, which shows that

Bill Hart in Arms

To arm! To arm! So cries Bill Hart, but not to the firing arms he uses when he rides to the beautiful heroine's rescue on his pinto pony. To honeymoon arms—those of Winifred Westover. Even movie folk are not too sophisticated to spoon on their honeymoon.

Lloyd as a young man in love crossing a busy street, his mind evidently upon the fair maiden for whom he has just purchased flowers.

They shouted when, a year after Lloyd and Mildred Davis had stood before the altar and said, "I do!" they were seen wheeling a baby carriage down the avenue, and the carriage was found to contain..... It's too good to tell!

When two nephews of the tender ages of four and one year descended upon them, the fun started in real earnest, for the inexperience of grown-ups is no match for the mischievousness of children. When the burglar arrived, it didn't seem possible that anyone could have enough strength left to laugh, but they did, and "I Do!" wound up with a roar that has seldom been heard.

"I Do!" is Harold Lloyd at his best, which is making a good statement in view of the many good comedies he has made. Its high quality, its cleverness and wholesomeness augurs well for his future comedies.

Constance Binney is also being shown in her latest picture, "Room and Board."

BIG THRILLS IN "CONFLICT"

The dynamiting of a log jam is one of the exciting incidents seen in "Conflict," now running at the Star Theatre, starring Priscilla Dean, and furnishes a thrill for the most blasé playgoer.

In the story Miss Dean, as Dorcas Rennie, carries on the work of her sweetheart, Jevons, by taking command of a crew of lumberjacks and putting through a log-drive. So intent was Miss Dean in the actual working out of the scene, which was photographed in British Columbia, that she nearly lost her life.

Thatching One of Oldest Arts

Thatching is perhaps one of the oldest arts in the world, for it dates back to the time when the first man lit on the idea of putting a few rushes on the roof of his hut to keep the rain out. But, like so many of the old arts, it is dying out, and first-class thatchers are few and far between, remarks London Answers.
