The New Way—Once the saying prevailed, "A man is known by the company he keeps." Now you size a man up by the companies he promotes—Boston Transcript.

Asking Full Time—Now the faddists are asking us to spend the first 15 minutes of the day in thinking. That isn't long enough. Make it an hour. By that time we would be ready to get up—Leavenworth Times.

Difficulties to Be Overcome—Lord Beaconsfield was no idealist—though he had imagination—yet even he said: "Man is not the creature of circumstances. Circumstances are the creatures of men." "Nurture your mind," he said again, "with great thoughts. To believe in the heroic is to make heroes." Difficulties are regarded by a great hearted people as things to be overcome, and to them duties are challenges.

Rabbits Have Odd Toss—Rabbits have four toes on each of the hind feet and five on the others.

Had Showed Himself Too Smart—"So you haven't made Smulger your partner, after all?" said Smith to his business friend, "And I will tell you why. Smulger was engaged to my wife before I married her, and I don't believe in becoming too friendly with a man who has proved himself to be more wideawake than I am."

"Regatta" Is Venetian—A contest between boats, whether canoes, sailing or motor boats, is called "regatta." This word was borrowed from the Italians, who used it in connection with the boating contests on the Grand canal in Venice. The same word, however, meant to haggle over prices. The first "regatta" to be held in England took place on the Thames on June 23, 1773; but of course this wasn't by any means the first boat race held in England.
