SUBSTANTIAL PHOTOPLAYS URGED BY FILM HEAD

Otto Hellman, president of the Dall Film company, whose production of Irving Bacheller's largest selling novel, "The Light in the Clearing," is being released by the W. W. Rodkinson corporation and which will be shown at the Star Theatre today, Thursday and Friday, contends that the public soon tire of fads and want for their steady amusement diet not hors d'oeuvres of melodrama nor the soup of wishy washy love stories, but rather plain, substantial solids based upon good romance and sturdy drama.

"This highly flavored entree or sex dramas, the stimulating vlands which might be likened to daring serials, all have their brief space in satisfying the public appetite, but I believe that the books and tales of a more conservative element will appeal more and more strongly to the public taste as time goes on," added the producer.

"The Light in the Clearing" is a big, whole-souled drama of American people. It carries with it a big lesson and is paving the way for more of the substantial drama as sponsored by producer Hellman.

CHARLES RAY SCREENS HOYT'S "MIDNIGHT BELL"

Adventure and hair-raising experiences are to be found in small towns as well as in metropolitan centers, as Martin Tripp discovered in Bellport. Martin was a salesman, traveling for a large city concern, and circumstances compelled him to settle in the little town.

Things began to happen rapidly when Martin arrived, but it was lucky for Bellport that he was there. Five crooks had been attracted to the place by the prosperous condition of the banks, and they had made their headquarters in an abandoned church which had gained the reputation of being haunted.

Martin didn't believe in spooks, so he spent a night in the church. He admitted the next morning that it was a terrifying experience, but it didn't prevent him from paying another visit.

The second time he discovered that the "spooks" had been engaged in digging a tunnel from the church cellar to the basement of the bank, and all was in readiness for the big coup. But complications arose, and he found himself bound hand and foot to a chair, and gagged. In spite of his bonds, he managed to ring the church bell and then excitement broke loose in the little town. But all ended well, and Martin becomes the hero of Bellport.

This is part of the plot of "A Midnight Bell," a First National attraction starring Charles Ray, which will be the feature at the Arcade Theatre for three days, beginning Thursday. It is right up to the Ray standard, which is guarantee of its worth, and gives a faithful pre-

PORTLAND MAN HAD HARD TIME

Daniel Hellmann Declares It's a Wonder That He's Alive Today.

"I took a decided turn for the better almost from the first dose of Tania and kept on improving until I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life," said Daniel Hellmann, 440 Simpson St., Portland, Ore.

"I had as hard time of it for five or six years as any man could have and it's a wonder I am alive now to tell it. My stomach was in such awful condition that nothing I ate agreed with me and I had such a

"THE EASY ROAD" AT SHERRY'S LAST DAY

The good luck star, Thomas Meighan, has another good luck vehicle in "The Easy Road," his latest Paramount picture which was presented before admiring audiences at the Sherry Theatre yesterday. The picture fairly bristles with action and it may safely be assumed one of the best in which this virtue-screen star has appeared in several months.

The story deals with a novelist who makes a wealthy marriage and, finding himself on Easy Street, his ambition wanes and he develops into a drone. His wife quits him and he slinks into the depths, but is finally regenerated after a series of interesting events. Gladys George, a beautiful and talented actress, is the leading woman and heads a capable supporting cast. The picture was directed by Tom Forman and it is in every respect one well worth seeing. Also showing the comedy "Dark and Cloudy."
