LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.— The track schedule of the University of Southern California will be slim and aside from Charles Paddock, famous sprinter, its chances for developing championship timber are not of the brightest, according to Los Angeles sport writers.

A dual meet with Occidental college, a member of the Southern California conference, is under consideration, but aside from the meets with Stanford and California, no others are planned with members of the Pacific Coast conference. On account of the coast there is little likelihood the Los Angeles institution will meet the northwest members of the coast conference except in the conference meet at Seattle at the end of the season.

CLOCKS RUN FAST AT NIGHT

(By Associated Press)
BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 20.—Clocks run faster at night than in the daytime, according to a discovery just announced by Dr. R. H. Tucker, an astronomer at Lick Observatory, which is conducted near San Jose, Cal., by the University of California here.

TREATY SOWS SEED FOR WORLD LEAGUE

The program included observations of three standard clocks and embraced a list of stars whose positions are already known with high precision. Each night's observations extended from 9 p. m. to 3 a. m. "The ultimate cause of the phenomenon is obscure," Dr. Campbell said. "In the observations by fundamental methods, where dependence is placed upon the constancy of the clock rate through the 24 hours of the day, more or less, the errors would reach their maximum values of between 0.02 and 0.03 seconds at about six hours from the main epoch of the observations."

SCHEDULE IS RATHER SLIM
