The Screen

LIFE, LIBERTY, HAPPINESS AND HAROLD LLOYD.

Harold Lloyd, if he is to be judged by his behaviour in "Never Weaken," places small value on his "unconquered rights" of life and liberty in the pursuit of happiness—for others. Perhaps Harold has a happy time phantasm on an iron girder twelve stories above an asphalt pavement. Perhaps it gives him the blues if the sun sets on a day in which he does not frolic about on a skyscraper iron framework as nonchalantly as a hungry goat on a tin can dump! Perhaps he has ninety-nine times the nine lives of a cat, and a life, more or less, is nothing to be sneezed at!

"Tny rate, he risks his life and liberty in the pursuit of thrills and laughs in his newest Associated Exhibitors comedy, which has been aptly titled "Never Weaken." The Arcade theatre will present it Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the belief that it is Lloyd's greatest to date, for it not only contains its full measure of laughs, but the biggest aggregation of heart-ruckening thrills that were ever packed into three reels. A five-reel feature titled "Tropical Love" will also be shown.

AT SHERRYS TODAY AND TOMORROW

For a real live, jazzy, and delighted comedy that is as full of action as an egg is of meat, the most jaded movie fan in the world will recommend "The Ghost in the Mask."

PROGRESS IN LUMBER MARKET

The lumber market is making steady progress. Numerous buyers are visiting producing sections and a good deal of quiet buying is under way. A good deal of buying is also being done at the annual meetings of retail associations, some of which were held last week although most will be held during the next three weeks.

UNEMPLOYED GET DINNER

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 1.—Hjalmar Branting, the Socialist Premier of Sweden, recently gave at his own cost a dinner to 300 unemployed men and women of Stockholm. The Premier and Mrs. Branting acted as host and hostess, while the guests were waited upon by society women of the capital, among them, Mrs. George Branting, the wife of the Premier's son.

Later in the evening the guests were given hot baths and provided with lodgings in the municipal lodging houses of Stockholm.

This is believed to be the first time that the premier of a European state has personally entertained his destitute constituents. When his guests had eaten their fill, Premier Branting addressed them on the economic conditions in Sweden.

The Premier began by informing them that neither this dinner nor any other private or public aid extended to men and women without work was in any sense charity, but simply what was rightfully due them from those who were fortunate enough to be able to help. He said it was not their fault that they were without means of livelihood, but the fault of warped conditions throughout Europe.

Mr. Branting warned his guests that the efforts of the state to better social and economic conditions could not be expected to lead to immediate results.

Alluding to the chaos in Russia, he declared that the slow-moving efforts of the old established government system to improve social conditions was infinitely preferable to the breaking up of the old system. The world had seen where such a course led. But social solidarity, he continued, demanded from every person that he help as far as possible in relieving the distress of the more unfortunate.

"I hope," the Premier continued, "that others will follow this example and that you will see thereby an utterance of social solidarity which breaks through all barriers."

The Premier's speech which was delivered with great earnestness, was received by a spontaneous and enthusiastic applause.
