

Local News In Brief

Any La Grande subscriber to the Observer who does not receive his paper by 8 o'clock in the evening, please call Western Union, Main 24, and a special messenger will deliver a copy.

To Make Home Here—A. D. Owens, son of J. D. Owens, arrived Saturday evening from Elk City, Nevada, where he has been living, and expects to make his home here.

Goes to Summerville—Andy Ross, who hails from Union, went through La Grande this morning en route to Summerville, where he will be for a short time.

Returns Home—Mrs. James Taylor, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lundia for about three weeks, returned to her home in Walla Walla, Washington, this morning on No. 17.

Goes to Huntington—Mrs. W. M. Kennedy boarded No. 24 this morning, bound for Huntington. She will visit there for several days with her daughter, Mrs. Jess Rosenbaum.

Arrives from Portland—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Berry arrived from Portland this morning to attend the funeral of Commissioner J. D. McKennon. Mrs. Berry is a sister of the deceased.

Bruce Cox in Walla Walla—Bruce Cox, manager of the La Grande Grocery Co., was in Walla Walla yesterday attending to some business affairs. He returned last night.

Goes to Hot Lake—Mrs. I. B. Larson left for Hot Lake today. She will spend the day with her daughter, Ruth, returning to La Grande this evening.

Here from Alice—Mrs. John Friswold and her little son, John Jr., arrived in La Grande today. They make their home in Alice and will be here for a day.

Here from Portland—A. E. Freeman and wife and daughter arrived in the city yesterday and will visit C. C. Pennington and family for several days.

Home from Wool Meeting—Gerald Stanfield, of Malheur county, passed through La Grande yesterday on his way home from the woolmen's meeting in Pendleton. Gerald says the blot of a lamb is sounding more like silver music than it did a while back.

Louie Bean in Baker—Louie Bean, candidate for governor, passed through La Grande yesterday on his way to Baker, where he speaks today. Tomorrow he will be in La Grande at the Tuesday Ad club luncheon.

To Visit His Mother—J. J. Carr left Saturday for Coos Bay to visit his mother, who has been quite ill. She will probably accompany him home and take treatments at Hot Lake for several weeks.

Home from Portland—Mr. and Mrs. George T. Cochran, who have been visiting friends in Portland for past two weeks during which time Mr. Cochran attended to official business in Portland and Salem, returned home yesterday. Mr. Cochran is in Walla Walla today on legal business.

Newspaperman in City—George Flagg, a well known eastern Oregon newspaperman, spent yesterday in La Grande on business. He is now located at Pinedale.

In Portland—Wili Seirist and his bunch of golf sticks are in Portland this week. Mr. Seirist is attending to matters of business and playing a little golf on the big links in that city.

Returns from Walla Walla—Mrs. Grace Moller, who had been in Walla Walla for several days, has returned to her home in this city. She says the weather is entirely different across the mountains and aprintime seems to have set in throughout the Walla Walla country.

Goes to Pendleton—Mrs. Fred Schilke left this morning on No. 17 for Pendleton, where she will visit for a day or so with her daughter, Mrs. Edna Morrison. Mrs. Morrison is connected with the East Oregonian of Pendleton.

Boys Turned Loose—Owing to the non-arrival of news concerning the charges held against two boys, Harry Wortman and Russell Hendrickson of Chehalis, Washington, who were arrested Friday as runaways, the police department turned them loose yesterday. They left for Elgin about 1 o'clock on foot, where they will visit with Wortman's grandparents.

New Chocolate Girl—Miss Alta Robinson, an expert chocolate dipper, has just taken a position as a member of the Palace Confectionery force. She has been connected with some of the best candy factories in the larger cities on the Pacific coast and her arrival here has resulted in some exceptionally fine chocolates for St. Valentine's Day, according to the management of the confectionery. Mr. Sanford, head of the factory department of the Palace, has known Miss Robinson for a number of years and considers himself fortunate in securing her.

Society Item Gets Bangled—Owing to a new reporter who is not familiar with La Grande's society an item appeared Saturday evening relative to the Wednesday Bridge club meeting which was erroneous. The club met in evening session, which is enjoyed by both ladies and gentlemen, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus N. Poirch on Second street with Mr. and Mrs. Poirch as hosts and hostesses. The usual official game of bridge was enjoyed and it was one of the most delightful club meetings in La Grande for the entire season. Excellent refreshments were served at a proper hour and the neighborly visit and discussion of events followed until a late hour when the party adjourned.

Local Men to Go to Baker for Road Meeting Next Week—Dr. E. P. Mossman, president of the Ad Club, and A. W. Nelson, manager of the organization, expect to attend the Old Oregon Trail road meeting to be held Thursday, February 23, in Baker, in connection with the annual meeting of the Baker chamber of commerce.

The meeting will take up various matters connected with the Old Oregon Trail. Among these is the marking of the highway, elimination of square corners near the Baker city limits and a number of other matters.

Dental Society is Meeting Here Today in Annual Session—The Eastern Oregon District Dental Society, embracing dentists from four counties—Walla Walla, Umatilla and Baker, met today at the Elks Banquet Room at one o'clock for their opening meeting of this year's convention.

The first item before the assembly was the business session and the election of officers. At the close of the business meeting, Dr. Irwin of Union, gave an interesting talk on "Hall's Plate Technique."

About twenty-five members were present and more are expected to arrive this evening.

This evening at seven o'clock a banquet will be held in the Foley hotel, which will close the day's program.
