He is now in a position to handle and do all the work along art lines which is done in the larger cities and is looking forward to the granting of better service to his many customers along these lines.

STRIKES MAY BE PREVENTED

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 15.—Railway officials of Great Britain hope that at last they have found a means of preventing strikes. Elaborate machinery has just been devised with that end in view.

This includes a series of joint committees and councils leading up to central railway councils for each railroad.

It will work in this way. When a dispute arises in one locality it will be referred to a local committee. If the committee fails to agree, the question then may be referred by either side to a central railway council. If this in turn fails, the dispute goes before the council for the whole railroad.

Failure of this council to end the dispute will send it automatically to the central wages board. The scheme was adopted after long negotiations between managers of the railways and representatives of the three unions of railway men.

Leaders of the unions say this machinery is as elaborate as human ingenuity can devise.

Hail, Music Lovers!

The La Grande Neighborhood Club announces the coming performance of the comic opera "BUL-BUL" at the High School Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday evenings, the proceeds from which are to be donated to the Scholarship Loan Fund.

—Aside from the worthy object for which it is intended, the club gives the assurance that the high qualities of the Operetta as a musical performance will certainly merit the unusual patronage which is already assured.
—The cast of characters and chorus have now developed

Admissions have been placed at 50 and 75 cents to give all a chance. Unless you're the old and original La Grays you'll be there, or have to nurse a lasting regret.

SCIENCE WILL IMITATE STARS

(By Associated Press)

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 15.—Creation of cosmic crucibles similar to the new theory of stars out of which primordial matter is developed is planned here by utilization of high potentials upwards of a million volts in a series of laboratories building here under direction Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who isolated the electron. One of the units of these laboratories was just dedicated in opening of the Norman Bridge Laboratory of Physics. The final unit soon to be erected, will be the electrical laboratory.

A trinity of sciences, physics, chemistry and astronomy, will, according to Dr. Millikan, unite in an effort to penetrate the deepest of mysteries, the creation of the earth. The famous astrophysical laboratory on Mount Wilson of the Carnegie Institution, of which Dr. George E. Hale is director, the Gates chemical laboratory of the California Institute of Technology, of which Dr. Arthur A. Moynihan is director, and the new physics laboratory of which Dr. Millikan is director, will approach the subject from their respective fields.

"A part of the program from the standpoint of physics," said Dr. Millikan, "involves the use of tremendously high potentials which furnish the only means of bringing to bear here on the surface of the earth such enormously concentrated energies as it is presumably subjected to in the stars."

"The facilities which are offered here for the attack upon some of these most fundamental of all human problems are, perhaps unequalled anywhere in the world," he said referring to the three laboratories.
