EUGENE O'BRIEN IN A SPARKLING COMEDY AC ARCADE SUNDAY

The sparkling new Selznick comedy feature which comes to the Arcade Theatre Sunday only, with Eugene O'Brien in the title role, is filled to the last exciting minute with thrills.

The long arm of coincidence is stretched considerably as Charley's progress leads from one episode to another, but the action follows so quickly and amusingly that nothing outside of the situations themselves matters. And, then, Uncle Reilly, thoroughly disgusted with his nephew quits for the country leaving Charley to the mercies of a great city.

Of course, Charley walks into the first trap. And it is not until he has compromised himself, married, risked his life a half dozen times among crooks and finally led the metropolitan police a chase, the like of which has yet to be excelled for breath-taking quality, that he arrives at his uncle's country estate to learn that the whole affair was framed by the old gentleman to give Charley the lesson of his young life.

Nancy Deaver, George Fawcett and Huntley Gordon lend admirable support to Mr. O'Brien's escapades. Robert Ellis directed.

NEAL HART AT SHERRY'S TODAY

Things begin to happen in the very first scene of "Black Sheep."

Neal Hart is the star of this production, which exceeds any of his previous efforts both in histrionic and artistic effects. He is supported by an exceptionally clever cast, which makes this one of the best western productions ever shown at the Sherry Theatre.

Th lover of out-of-door drama, which was portrayed with so telling an effect in Neal Hart's other productions—"Hell's Oasis," "Danger Valley" and "Skyfire"—will find in "Black Sheep" the same sort of cleverness that is earning for that star the title of America's premier actor of western roles. Also showing "Mutt & Jeff."

AT SHERRY'S SUNDAY AND MONDAY.

There's a "Main Street," that runs through "Canaan," the mythical city which Booth Tarkington wrote about in "The Conquest of Canaan." In Canaan where some who were respectable and others who were not. Once you were placed in the latter class, it was next to impossible to live down the disgrace.

Here, the respectables looked up to Judge Pike as their leader. His world was law. The unrespectable accepted him because they knew that he owned their homes, their saloons and had their lives in the hollow of his hand.

As the title suggests, Main Street in Canaan was conquered and by two of the unrespectables, Joe Loudon and Ariel Tabar. Ariel was fortunate enough to inherit money which took her to Paris. Joe could not bring himself to conform with the Main Street conventions which aroused such prejudice within him that he was forced to leave town to carve out a better career.

The development of this interesting plot, which brings out the business as well as the pettiness of a middle-size town, is illustrated in the Paramount picturization of "The Conquest of Canaan." Thomas Meighan, as Joe Loudon, stars in the picture and Doris Kenyon in the role of Ariel Tabar plays the leading feminine part. Also showing a comedy.

A FEATURE COMEDY PROGRAM

Humorous and Novelty Bill at the Arcade Monday.

Bollicking comedy that always appeals to the laughter loving is featured in the offering of Sebastian Merrill & Co., which he calls "Hokomedical Tactics." Watch his egg-frying routine and other laugh-producing effects, and his burlesque on the famous illusion "Sawing a Woman to Pieces." 'Tis to laugh.

Austin & Russell in a conglomeration of wholesome comedy, "The Glib and the Wop." A comedy of heart throbs, delightful costumes and comedy patter.

Shirley & Bell, a talented pair who have a novelty singing and dancing act illustrating the poetry of motions, harmony singing and comedy patter. Perrill, in his comedy creation called "Shadowland," manipulating his fingers in a manner and producing many comedy scenes and laughable effects on the screen.

Maek Bennett's five-part comedy, "Love, Honor and Behave" will also be shown in connection with this brilliant bill.

ORIGINAL PLOT HOLDS MYSTERY IN "NOBODY."

"Nobody," in which Jewel Carmen is appearing at the Star Theatre, presents an interesting problem and one which many would hesitate to answer unequivocally. It is this: Can a person who kills a man and believes the commission to have been a dream, be punished for it? And, further, should that person be punished for it?

Miss Carmen's work in this picture brands her as one of the foremost screen artists, and the foregoing cast is an ideal one. The engagement will close Sunday night.
