NEW COMMISSION FOUR GAMES STAGES MATCH FOR TONIGHT

First Boxing Bout Under New Administration Is Guaranteed by Commission Members.

Y. M. C. A. Floor Will Be Kept Busy With Basketball Quintets.

La Grande's new boxing commission is staging its first boxing bout at the Star theater Thursday night. The boxers will be Mickey Dempsy of this city and Buddy Stevens of Pendleton. The boxing commission says apparently this will be one of the best bouts of its kind ever staged in the city.
Dempsy is known here and has some followers as a boxer and the boy from Pendleton has his following the Round-Up city. He has had more experience than Dempsy but it is stated that Dempsy is still a match for him.

The quadruple basketball header to be played at the "Y" tonight will commence at seven o'clock sharp. The boy scout second team will play the M. I.
A. youngsters. This game will be followed by the contest between the Union Tigers and the La Grande boy scout team. Preliminary to the game between the Cougars and the Standard Brothers, the Union high school second team will take the floor against the Hi-Y.

The semi-final will be a six round bout between Butler and Newlin who have appeared before in the ring in La Grande and are whirlwind scrappers, according to those who have seen them. Two other preliminaries will be a part of the program.

All of these games are expected to be fast and exciting contests and the basketball fan will certainly get a chance to cast his eyes on more basketball games than he ever saw before in as short a time. An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The billous and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. Many such, however, have been completely restored to health by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets.
These tablets strengthen the stomach, invigorate the liver and improve the digestion. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. When you have any trouble with your stomach, give them a trial.

MRS. JOSEPHINE WODETZKY

WAR DIARY OF WASHINGTON

Interesting Facts of His Leadership Are Revealed
To the Public.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Feb. 22.— A little, well worn diary, almost faded out in places, still tells the real story of the love of George Washington's men for their commander-in-chief, during the Revolutionary War.

This war history, kept up day by day during the seven-year battle, by Samuel Davis, a fifer and drummer—later under the direct command of Washington—now belongs to his daughter, Mrs. Josephine Wodetzky, of Logan county, Ill.

Recalls War Stories.
Mrs. Wodetzky is a real daughter of the American Revolution. She has just celebrated her ninety-third birthday, and she vaguely recalls some of the stories about Washington that her father told her when she was a little girl.

"Shortly after being accepted as a drummer," she said, "my father was transferred to the command of General Price. In those days there were no reserves and every man available for duty was at the front practically all the time.

"My father told me that most of his service was with the army of which George Washington was the direct commander and that he was thus able to get a direct line on the great heart of Washington, and his compassion for his soldiers.

Loved Their Leader.
"All these soldiers," father said, "were always ready to endure any hardship if Washington said the word. The patriotic colonists loved their leader to a point almost approaching idolatry."

"It was the privilege of my father to serve as orderly for Washington and when Cornwallis surrendered his army to the Washington forces at Yorktown, ending the great struggle for freedom, he stood within a few paces of Washington. He witnessed Washington's acceptance of the British leader's sword."

Mrs. Wodetzky says she has forgotten many of the interesting incidents related by her father—"but I can check back on many of them by referring to father's diary."

The little war diary even mentions the British losses during a siege that lasted a month—15 killed and 326 wounded. The American and French losses were 85 killed and 299 wounded.

Mrs. Wodetzky was born in Baltimore in 1839 and is the only surviving member of a family of seven. In 1847 she was married and shortly after her father died—leaving her, in his little diary, a graphic picture of Revolutionary War times, and an inside peep at Washington, as a leader of men.

cine I have used for indigestion and ant effect."

Income Tax Facts

Section 202 of the revenue act of 1921 deals with the basis of ascertaining taxable loss or deductible gain in the sale or other disposition of property. The act provides that cost shall be the basis with three exceptions.

The first is that in the case of property which should be included in the taxpayer's inventory, the last inventory value shall be the basis; for example, if a merchant bought in 1920 a certain article, and it was not sold by him prior to December 31, 1920, but was included in his inventory as of that date and sold in 1921, the taxable gain or deductible loss would be the difference between the selling price and the amount at which the article was carried in his inventory.

The second exception is that in the case of property acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as that which it would have been in the hands of the donor or last preceding owner by whom it was acquired by gift. For example, a man in 1918 acquired stock in a corporation for $100 a share, and kept it until 1920, when it was worth $120 a share and then gave it to his son, who in January, 1921, gave it to his wife, the stock at that time being worth $150 a share. If subsequently the wife sold the stock for $200 a share, her taxable profit is not $50 but $100; the gain over the cost to the last preceding owner who did not acquire the stock by gift.

In the case of property acquired by gift on or before December 31, 1920, the basis for ascertaining gain or loss from a sale or other disposition thereof shall be the fair market price or value of such property at the time of acquisition. In the case of property acquired by bequest, devise or inheritance, the fair market price or value of the property at the time of its acquisition is the basis for determining gain or loss.

Subdivision C of section 202 of the new revenue act deals primarily with the exchange of property for property.
It is much more liberal than the act of 1918 in enumerating the classes of such exchanges which do not result in gain or loss to the taxpayer. In general, there is no gain or loss when property (other than stock-in-trade or property held primarily for sale) is exchanged for property of a like kind.
When an individual or a partnership transfers property to a corporation and immediately thereafter is in control of such corporation—owning at least 80 per cent of the voting stock and at least 80 per cent of the total number of share of all other classes of stock of the corporation—no taxable gain or no deductible loss results.

Sales Prior to March 1, 1913.
In the case of the sale of property acquired prior to March 1, 1913, the basis for determining taxable gain or deductible loss is cost, but the fair market price or value as of that date is important. Generally to determine taxable gain, the March 1, 1913, value is used if more than cost, and to determine deductible loss, the March 1 value is used if less than cost. Taxpayers should read carefully section 202 (b) of the act on this point.

Following are concrete examples: A bond bought in 1912 for $500 had on March 1, 1913, a value of $750 and was sold in 1921 for $1,000. The taxable gain is $250, the excess of the selling price over March 1, 1913, value.

A bond bought in 1912 for $1,000 had a market value on March 1, 1913, of $750 and in 1921 was sold for $500.
The deductible loss is $250, the excess of the market value of March 1, 1913, over the selling price.

A bond purchased in 1912 for $500
had a market value on March 1, 1913, of $1,000 and was sold in 1921 for $750. In this case there is no taxable gain and no deductible loss.

A bond purchased in 1912 for $1,000 on March 1, 1913, had a market value of $500 and in 1921 was sold for $750.
This transaction, on a basis of cost, would result in an actual loss of $250.

but owing to the provisions of section 202 (b) (3) of the act the taxpayer can not deduct such loss from his gross income because the market value on March 1, 1913, was less than selling price. Neither does he have to report a gain on the transaction.

SIX-YEAR-OLD EPICURE

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Feb. 22.— Directors of the Scarborough Children's home asked the little inmates to write a description of the "ideal Sunday dinner." Six-year-old Ada Teale wrote: "Rhubarb, custard, sab-bage, gravy, sausage, a fat goose, potatoes, apples, pease (sloppy) and jelly."

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or a adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.

Meat Was Like Poison To His System and Hardly Anything Else Agreed With Him, Declares Oak- land Citizen.

'I Just Seemed to Get Bet- ter With Every Dose of Tanlac and Now I Eat Anything.' He Says in Public Statement.

"It's a fact, I have gained twenty pounds in weight since Tanlac tuned up my stomach and I am feeling just like a different man now," said Walter S. Tucker, 1091 Sixtysixth St., Oakland, Calif.
"I had stomach trouble for fifteen years in a bad form. I finally got to where meat was almost like poison for me and there was hardly anything that I could agree with me. This trouble broke down my nerves and finally I got so weak and run down I frequently had to lay off from work.

"It certainly was surprising the way Tanlac reached my case. It benefitted me in every way and I just seemed to get new life and energy with every dose. When it comes to building a man up and making him feel fine, Tanlac is in a class by itself."

Tanlac is sold in La Grande by all leading druggists.—Adv.
