Elkdom swung back into its old place in society Wednesday night when the annual dance and dinner was given in honor of Washington's birthday. It was one of society's chief number for the entire year and the Elks lodge re-established the custom of making its greatest effort at entertaining on February 22nd. The interior of the ballroom in the Elks hall was very beautifully decorated with artistic floral festoons from the ceiling, also around each of the lights which gave a subdued, soft interior to the large room. Music was furnished by the Starex Orchestra and it was in excellent form.

At nine o'clock the ball began and more than one hundred couples enjoyed themselves in a most joyful manner until two o'clock on Thursday morning. At midnight a buffet luncheon was served in the banquet room. This was a new idea worked out by ladies of St. Peter's guild who prepared and served the refreshments. Instead of holding a conventional banquet a luncheon consisting of an excellent menu was served to about fifty guests at a time in the dining room, which had been converted into a parlor in appearance. The exquisiteness of the food which the Guild ladies always serve was no less attractive in the dainty manner in which it was served. No party in a private home could have had better refreshments or had them served more elegantly.

Following the luncheon dancing was continued until two o'clock and even the last number carried almost the same pep among the dancers as did the first.

The members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal church expect to prove that the male of the species is as good a "housewife" as the feminine element on Sunday afternoon at five-thirty. The occasion will be a banquet given to the Sunday school teachers and the wives of the members of the brotherhood.

The brotherhood promises that this will be one of the most delectable banquets ever prepared in La Grande—they are going to do all the cooking themselves. And—after the guests have partaken of their culinary accomplishments—they will wash the dishes and be the clean-up committee all by themselves. All the serving and other similar tasks will be attended to entirely by the masculine members of the gathering.

The banquet will be held at Honan Hall and elaborate decorations are being planned. The menu includes—but is not complete as yet: veal and mutton, oyster cocktails, potatoes, green peas, celery, lettuce, tea and coffee, apple pie and ice cream.

Professor A. C. Hampton will serve as director and toastmaster, Messrs. E. Marks, Reverend Gunn and A. C. Hampton will speak on the men's standpoint and the ladies will give appropriate responses.

All in all, the affair promises to be one of the most delightful banquets given in La Grande for some time and both the guests and members of the brotherhood are looking eagerly forward to the set time.

A delightful social evening was observed by the Eastern Star Social Club on Wednesday evening in the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Lou Given was chairman for the evening, but, owing to the prevalent sickness, the program was not rendered. A social hour was observed and at the close of the hour a delicious luncheon was served.

The Lucky Thirteen Club was entertained by Mrs. C. D. Putnam at her home on Washington avenue on Thursday afternoon.

At the session of cards Mrs. Robert Newlin won first prize. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in observing a social hour and partaking of some delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

The club will meet next Thursday with Mrs. A. L. Richardson.

The members of the Mahe Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. R. Kerr, 2007 North Fir street. The afternoon was spent in

The evening will be purely a social one and the nature of the entertainment patriotic. The hostesses are looking for a full membership attendance.

Due to the Lyceum number falling on Monday evening, the club's regular meeting night, Tuesday evening was chosen as a suitable substitute.

Mrs. W. C. Kempton, of Pendleton, is a house guest at the home of Mrs. S. D. Crowe. She has been here for several days and will return to her home this evening. "I have spent a very delightful time while in La Grande," Mrs. Kempton says.

Mrs. Ray Murphy and Mrs. Donald M. Payne will be hostesses at bridge on Monday and Tuesday afternoons at the home of Mrs. Murphy on corner First and O.

Invitations have been sent out to a large number and quite a number of ladies will be present. Preparations are being made to make this one of the prominent affairs of the season.

The first annual benefit ball of the Union-Wallowa County Shrine club will be held in Rex Hall Tuesday evening, February 28. Shrine members from all parts of the two counties are expected to be present and members of the Masonic fraternity here expect the ball to be one long to be remembered.

The Royal Neighbors Lodge held a

A farewell surprise party was given Mrs. Ralph Baker by the members of the Lane Chapel Ladies Aid, who gathered at her home at 309 Division street, Thursday afternoon. Breedlove, Mrs. H. S. Hendricks, Mrs. Frank Haines, Mrs. Frank A. White and Mrs. Ralph Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Baker are leaving in a short time for their country home.

Miss Ruth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill, is in Pendleton visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Anna Furnish, for several days.

Without warning a number of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Crowe's friends congregated last evening with refreshments in transit and took charge of the Crowe home in West La Grande. The party was in good humor when it started and that pleasantness intensified as the evening progressed. Dancing was the chief feature of the evening. Refreshments were served about midnight and the party dispersed with the usual wishes for future happiness.

The Kaffee Klatch was entertained by Mrs. T. J. Scroggin and Mrs. J. J. Carr at the former's home on Friday afternoon. A very delightful afternoon was spent and at the close of the card session Miss Margaret Andainty luncheon was served by the son received the high honors. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Richardson on next Friday with Mrs. W. W. Berry assisting Mrs. Richardson as hostess. The evening parties have been discontinued during Lent.

The Thursday Bridge Club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Jones next Thursday afternoon.

The Eastern Star Social Club will be entertained next Tuesday by Mrs. F. W. Parsons, 1602 First street.

The Yeoman Lodge enjoyed a Washington Party at Eagle Hall Wednesday night in games, dancing and refreshments.

On next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Cleaver on Oak street, the Young Woman's Educational Auxiliary will be royally entertained. The hostesses with Mrs. Cleaver are: Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Otis Palmer, Miss Bolling and Miss Elliott.

special children's evening last night at the K. of P. Hall. The Neighbors brought their children and friends and a large number of grown-ups and about sixty-five children were present—and had the time of their lives. A fish-pond had been prepared for the kiddies' entertainment and games and other amusements were also on the program. The Eastern Oregon Music company furnished music rolls and those who desired spent a share of the evening dancing.

At the close of the social evening ice cream and wafers were served and the guests and members departed feeling that they had spent a most delightful evening.

The Royal Neighbor Circle will be entertained next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. S. A. Gardinier.

Miss Edith Braag entertained the N. & N. "500" club at her home last night. Four tables were in action, Miss Mable Osterling winning high honors.

The hostess served a dainty two-course luncheon and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, the guests departing at a late hour.

The next meeting will be held two weeks from last night at the home of Miss Mable Osterling.

The Rambler Art Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. O. E. Silvertorn on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. G. S. Birnie was in charge of the program. The informal discussion of the lives and works of the painter, Abbott Thayer, and the sculptor, Sterling Calder, whose works attracted so much attention at the San Francisco Exposition.

The next meeting will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. P. Mossman, who will also be in charge of the program, which will be on "Impressionism."

Mrs. W. F. Snook, on 1606 M St., entertained the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church on Friday afternoon. About twenty members were in attendance and a very enjoyable afternoon was observed.

Mrs. Lee Reynolds gave a very instructive and interesting talk on the books that the Westminster Guild is studying at this time. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in singing and observing a social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostess late in the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Taylor on March 10.

The masquerade ball given by the La Grande Lodge No. 850 L. O. O. M. at the Zuber Hall on Wednesday evening was a decided success. About 130 couples were in attendance and over eighty couples were elaborately garbed in costumes. Cash prizes were given to the three best costumed and were: C. Sandberg, disguised as an Indian; Mrs. Nellie Swartz, costumed as a country girl, and to Mrs. P. H. Dzuk, of Boise, who is visiting in La Grande, garbed as Jimmie.

The committee in charge was as follows: W. S. Bennett, E. E. Stillwell, C. C. Larsh, R. McGee and J. Morley, and they conducted the affair in a very creditable manner. The music was furnished by Lindsey's Orchestra and the dancers were
