IRISH ART IS ON EXHIBITION

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Mar. 7.—Two hundred works are being shown in the first exhibition of Irish art ever held in Paris. The exhibition includes painting, a little sculpture, black and white work, book-binding, needlework and leather.

Sir John Lavery is accorded the honors for the exhibition, his paintings of Irish political leaders covering a large part of the exhibition.

Charles Shannon, another well-known Irish painter, also has attracted considerable attention with his portrait of Miss Lillie MacCarthy.

The young Irish artists are well represented and since many have lived in France, the French influence is quite apparent. Among the younger ones displaying are J. Yeats, W. Connor, Mrs. G. Henry. The exhibition attracted considerable attention in the French art world.

THE PNEUMONIA MONTH.
March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germs laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.—adv.

IMPORTS OF CLOTH NEEDED

Russians Cannot Go Clothed this Year Unless Huge Amounts of Cottons and Woolens are Secured.

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, Mar. 8.—If the Russian people are to continue to be clothed, important imports of cotton and woolen cloth will be necessary this year.

Russia's cotton and woolen textile industries are in a well-nigh hopeless condition, both from the point of view of raw materials and the possibility of factory production. The prospects for flax, hemp, and silk are somewhat better.

In the warehouses of the government, in the public markets, and the retail stores there is to be found a limited amount of cloths now but at high prices. A little silk is available at $1.50 to $3 a yard, woolen goods at $3 to $10 a yard and very little linen at $3 to $5. These prices are increasing rapidly. To meet this situation the economic council has decided to retain a government monopoly of raw cotton. Past and continuing financial, political, social and labor conditions contribute to this situation.

The loss of sheep growing fine wool is estimated to be very high. Out of a total of 5,000,000 of such sheep, only 115,000 are said to remain. Before the general war, Russia had upwards of 80,000,000 sheep bearing coarse wool. Figures to show their consumption for food are not available.

The cotton production in Turkestan, where Russia formerly obtained three-fourths of her raw supply, has fallen 70 per cent.

Before the war Russia stood fourth among nations as a cloth manufacturer, and manufactured five-sixths of all the cloths her people wore. The present crippling of her cloth factories comes partly from the fact that she has lost Poland and the Baltic provinces where were two of her three great factory centers. The third was in Moscow, especially for coarse cloths such as that used by her army.

The cotton cloth produced in 1920 was about 35,000,000 pounds and in the first half of 1921 about 25,000,000 pounds. In 1916, Russia's cotton cloth amounted to about 70,000,000 pounds.

The cotton cloth manufacturers for this year's program forecast the weaving of about 10,000,000 pounds of raw cotton. This estimate involves obtaining raw cotton from Turkestan and a little from the Caucasus; but it is stated that the irrigation system of Turkestan's cotton fields has been ruined and a number of cotton-cleaning factories there have been demolished. Altogether there is a shortage of cotton seed.

Nozin, chairman of the cotton committee, has informed the Supreme Economic Council that only one-third of the normal acreage in the Perghana district of Turkestan was sown last year and that the yield was about 20,000,000 pounds of raw cotton, as compared to a pre-war production of 60,000,000 pounds in both Turkestan and the Caucasus. The soviet was able to obtain only about 5,000,000 pounds of the Turkestan crop and has paid for only about one-fourth of it.

It is proposed this year to double last year's acreage of cotton in Turkestan but the cotton committee has only 1,500,000 gold rubles of the 4,500,000 rubles necessary to pay for the crop.

The task of obtaining the cotton has been placed in the hands of Adolf A. Joffe, the soviet's chief representative in Turkestan.

Munich Presents Each Inhabitant With Money

(By Associated Press)
MUNICH, Feb. 14.—There may be a suggestion for Americans in the fact that a small town in northern Bavaria recently gave to each inhabitant a present of 60 marks derived from the sale of wood cut in the municipal forest which was planted 15 or 20 years ago.

Germany for years has expended much energy in reforestation, many of the municipalities throughout the country owning forests, which are carefully nursed and used as public works by the local inhabitants.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried; and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly fifty-one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to, now," writes Geo. W. Emery, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no-opsin but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally.—adv.
