SUPERIOR ORIENTAL SET IN "FOOL'S PARADISE"

Temple bells tolled, Jewel, flower and fruit merchants piled their trade along a broad esplanade. And directly across a short estuary towered the great temple of Wat Chang, glorious architectural ornament of the Orient.

On its steps could be seen priests and acolytes passing up from the waters-edge with their offering for the Buddha within. And just beyond the broad entrance one caught a glimpse of the Cambodian dancers, the strangest followers of Turpsichore in all the world.

Everything was there to the minutest detail, the dignified, jewel clad nobles strolling nonchalantly through the crowds of burden coolies and grotesque beggars, the huge elephants lumbering along with howdah loads of gaily attired Orientals.

Turn on the heel, however, and one traveled in that instant the twelve thousand miles back to California. For street cars buzzed along on the farther side of a small bay and in the near distance one could see beautiful homes as modern and American as the "set" was old and Oriental.

For it was a motion picture set, and said to be one of the most largest ever constructed for a motion picture production. It will be seen in Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount production "Fool's Paradise," which comes to the Grande Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris and Conrad Nagel have the principal roles.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried, and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly fifty-one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to, now." Writes Geo. W. Emery, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no opium but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally.—adv.
