sion among the members took place on this question, each one having his own theory or view of the subject.

J. D. Slater gave a descriptive outline of the conference, giving the historical facts, comparisons with the Monroe Doctrine and in fact a general outline of the entire conference.

The meeting was very successful and a deeper understanding in the conference question was given to those present.

REDUCTION OF TAXES AIM OF CONFERENCE

meeting in the central library yesterday.

Not without opposition was the principle of an income tax carried and it precipitated a debate which waged back and forth all afternoon while parliamentary procedure was thrown to the winds. The final vote stood 67 for the income tax and 20 against, but when the vote was taken scores of delegates had left the hall.

Grange Resolution.

Before even the committee on order of business reported, C. E. Spence, master of the state grange, introduced a resolution that the tax reduction league approve of the income tax principle and appoint a committee of three to co-operate with the legislative committee of the grange in preparing such a measure to be initiated in November. For hours the income tax was battled over and it was shunted around by opponents, but each time a drive was made to sidetrack the measure its friends rallied and kept it alive.

P. H. D'Arcy charged that the purpose for which the convention had been called was being subordinated and, in fact, that no attention was being directed to the main subject for which the delegates were assembled — tax reduction. Judge D'Arcy advised that the state grange could go ahead and handle the income tax as it saw fit while the convention that the delegates were here to reduce taxes and not to raise more, as would be the mission of an income tax.

Chairman Cooper, organizer of the tax-reduction movement, testified that in making his rounds he found most objection to the educational machinery of the state. He said that thousands of men are giving up their homes for the purpose of taxation and while he favors an income tax, he wanted the convention to reduce, as that was the main thing, and he favored reducing state expenses. The chairman wanted it distinctly understod that he does not want to close the schools.

Sentiment Is Tested.

Walter M. Pierce uttered the general accusation that the delegates were striking at the Oregon Agricultural college. He called for an expression of sentiment on the sold-

Drug Store Employee Badly Burned When Compound Blows Up

Mixture with Properties of Gunpowder Ignited and Burned Clerk About the Face.

While mixing a prescription composed of potassium chloride and tannic acid, Gerald Tuttle, an employee of Silverthorn's Drug Store, was severely burned about the arms and face when the mixture, which had properties resembling gunpowder, ignited. The employees of the drug store rendered first aid and when medical attention arrived the injured man was taken to the Grande Ronde hospital. The accident took place about 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The injuries are not serious but are exceedingly painful and will probably disfugure his face to some extent. A mixing knife he was using at the time was practically destroyed, the handle being burned.

CHURCH TO BE REBUILT HERE

M. E. Church, South, Will Put $5,000 Into Completing Present Building.

The members of the Methodist church, south, met Monday evening with the pastor, Rev. A. J. Starmer, and the presiding elder, C. L. McCausland, of Seattle, to consider a proposition for the remodelling of the church building.

It is proposed to put a full basement under the auditorium and enlarge and reconstruct the building and stucco the exterior, giving the building more floor space and making it modern in every respect.

In oder to finance the undertaking the sum of $5,000 is necessary. The board of missions of the church, through Mr. McCausland, has offered $2,000 for this fund on the condition that the balance, $3,000 be raised in La Grande. The church members decided to begin a canvass at once for the additional $3,000 in order that the church be reconstructed at an early date, the Sunday school having grown so rapidly during the past six months that the present quarters are entirely inadequate.

Because of the small quarters available for meeting at present the beginners class is meeting in the parsonage and one other class will have to meet somewhere else soon in the future because of the lack of quarters in the church.

Highest price paid for clean, large-sized cotton rags.
