SHERRYS—TODAY, TOMORROW

Gouverneur Morris' fine novel, "The Wild Goose," recently published by Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, and which has been extensively sold, has been pictured by Cosmopolitan for Paramount, and it will be shown at the Sherry Theatre today and tomorrow. Mary MacLaren and Holmes E. Herbert play the leading roles.

"The Wild Goose" was first published in serial form in Hearst's Magazine, whose circulation is 500,000 a month, beginning in September, 1918. The story caught on immediately and was widely read. Mr. Morris' other stories have found great favor with magazine readers. He was born in 1876 in New York City. He attended Yale University at New Haven, Conn., and graduated with a B. A. degree in 1898. Among the most noted of his works are "The Penalty," "When My Ship Comes In," and "The Goddess."

Comedy, "He Got It," two reels.

WOMAN'S VARIED WILES ARE SHOWN IN "THE LOVE CHARM"

If you want a glimpse of the younger generation at its play, you can get it in "The Love Charm," which opens tonight for a two-day run at the Arcade Theatre.

Their jazz parties, their moonlight swimming soirees, their dining dress and their amazing talk, all find a vivid record in the picture as a background for the love story of the appealing, old-fashioned heroine, enacted by Wanda Hawley, the Realstar star.

Miss Hawley shines, in this place, with the very best of the screen luminaries. She creates two distinct and opposing characterizations—not a double role, however—and does them both perfectly.

First, as a sweet, old-fashioned girl of modest demeanor, she wins a young man's love by reminding him forcibly of the mother he recalled when he was a little boy. Then when she learns that her aunt and cousin are displeased, she promises to alienate his affections in the same way, by making herself typical of something he hates. She typically assumes the role of a noisy "jazz" young person, and disgusts the young man terrifically—though not unalterably.

Warner Baxter, a new face on the screen, but one we should see often, is the leading man. Dick Rosson, Max Busch, Sylvia Ashton and Carrie Clarke Warder are also prominently cast.

The other number on the same bill with "The Love Charm," is the two-reel Mounted Police story, "On the Trail," featuring Irving Cummings.

SALEM, Mar. 21.—The University Y. M. C. A., one of the most active organizations on the campus, last night elected the following officers for the coming year: Roy Skeen, Powell Butte, Ore., president; George Oliver, Pomeroy, Wash., vice-president; Ed Warren, Nehalem, Ore., secretary; Elton Von Eschen, Salem, treasurer.

Much interest is being shown this year in the organization, the work consisting mainly in assisting new students on the campus and in conducting weekly devotional services.

Last Tuesday the Y. M. C. A. installed its new cabinet. Officers chosen were: Esther Parovozian, Salem, president; Thelma Mills, Forest Grove, Ore., vice-president; Mildred Drake, Drain, Ore., secretary; Eva Ledbetter, Alsea, Ore., treasurer.

PASSION PLAY REHEARSALS

First Post-war Performance To Be On May 14; Unusual Influx of Visitors Is Anticipated.

(By Associated Press) OBERAMMERGAU, Bavaria, Mar. 18.—Preparations for the first post-war revival of the Passion Play have progressed sufficiently to enable the committee of elders to announce that the final dress rehearsal will be held May 9. The first regular performance will be given on May 14.

Thirty-five thousand applications for seats and sleeping accommodations already have been received from abroad, and while the local management has not yet received indications as to the extent to which Germans will patronize the productions of the play, it assumes that German attendance will more than quadruple the foreign patronage.

Anticipating an unusual influx of visitors in July and August, the management has decided to give Wednesday performances during these months.

Economic conditions have obliged the village elders considerably to amplify their directing staff, not so much as concerns the production of the play as to solve the problem of accommodating thousands of visitors for whom the comforts and conveniences of travel before the war are now not available.

The conditions under which the play will be revived this year have shocked the rural simplicity of these peasant play producers and, while determined to prevent the sacred enterprise from becoming basely commercialized they are now beginning to realize that the war's aftermath has produced an economic environment with which they are compelled to reckon.

The municipality of Oberammergau has peremptorily rejected a proposition that it levy a tax on foreign visitors which, it declares, would be out of harmony with the origin and traditions of the play and also would conflict with the purpose of the present revival which is regarded as one way of achieving reconciliation between Germany and the other nations. The town fathers, however, announce that they have been forced to assume a considerable initial expense in preparing for the production, reconstructing the theater which will seat 4,300 spectators and in providing costumes.

Oberammergau also is sadly in need of municipal improvements to give the village a presentable appearance when the first guests arrive. A new church bell alone called for an outlay of 170,000 marks while repaving the main street has cost at least as much.

All told, this hamlet which, in peace times, had a budget of insignificant proportions already has staked its municipal existence on the outcome of this year's productions.

Oberammergau will be able to furnish accommodations for 1,000 visitors who prefer to sleep in the village in order to be on hand for the early opening performance. Unterammergau, close by is arranging quarters for 1,000 others, while the well-known convent of Ettal, half an hour's travel distant, is preparing to install 600 emergency cots. Thus the management of the play believes that it will be amply able to accommodate the overflow of visitors.

The problem of feeding the guests is more intricate and to solve it the elders have appointed a commissary department which will cooperate with the Bavarian Food Controller and cooperative society of Regensburg.

Strenuous awaits the profiteer who should attempt to conduct a lunch stand here in defiance of established regulations or violate fixed price schedules. In fact, illegitimate dealers and speculators of all categories are being emphatically informed that Oberammergau is bound to prove disappointing to them if they regard it as an opportunity for a quick clean-up.

SIX-DAY WEEK IS PROPOSED

EUGENE, Mar. 21.—Proposals to adopt a six-day collegiate week at the University of Oregon here have split the campus into two camps, one for the move and the other against it.

Under the present system classes are held on five days a week, leaving Saturdays free for student activities. Proponents of the plan say best use could be made of the large investment represented in the university by having Saturday classes. Those opposed to the scheme declare it would mean destruction of university spirit by checking student activities and would also curb research work by members of the faculty, much of which is done on Saturdays.
