Wallows Winter Long—

Two lawyers of Enterprise, Wallows county, R. D. McClellan and A. R. Thompson, are at the Imperial. Wallows county has been suffering from a most severe winter. The weather has not been so cold, but it has been long drawn out and feed has been exhausted. Thousands of lambs will perish in the snows of Wallows this year because of the inability of their owners to get feed to them. A ton of hay costs about $20 in Wallows, this including the cost of transportation. Reports from Wallows county are to the effect that it is suffering more distress because of market conditions than any other in the state.—Oregonian.

Progressive Happiness.

Manhood is always happy for having been happy; so that if you make men happy now, you make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of the experience.—Sidney Smith.
