Better Than a Movie

Movie fans jammed Federal Court in New York City when Mary Pickford and Doug Fairbanks entered for the third trial of the suit for $100,000 against Mary brought by Mrs. Cora C. Wilkerson. Mrs. Wilkerson, play broker, claims the amount as a commission for negotiating a million-dollar contract for Mary. Here are Mary and her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, as they appeared in court.

ATHLETES ARE HELD IN CHECK

Weather Keeps High School Aspirants for Track Honors from Practicing.

The bad weather Thursday put a slight crimp in the plans of the high school enter athletes but last night the squad was out as usual and stronger than before. If the weather continues good next week will find the track team getting down to specialized work in earnest. Practically all of the time so far has been devoted to general training, although considerable work has been done in the weights to date.

Grant Bean and Tiro Larson are showing up well in the shot and discus and are expected to be sure point winners. Clifford Bickland and Jess Bean, younger brother of Grant, also showing promise in the weights. Practically no work has been done in the jumps and pole vault as the ground is too muddy to risk work this early.

Two prospects are developing in the mile, Kenneth Fleischman and Roy Williams, both looking like winning material. T. C. McDonald and Lawrence Trill are hitting off a good leg in the half mile and Smutz, Hawes and Sherwood appear to be able to hold their own in the 440.

In the hurdles, Lynch and Chester Garity appear to be the cream of this year's entrants with McConnell showing a lot of speed in tackling the high hurdles.

Sandberg and Heugbanare standing out in the sprints and so far, it is a hard job to pick the better man. Last year Sandberg was the class but Heugban is picking up rapidly and in those men, La Grande high will have two stellar sprinters sure of points in the Eastern Oregon meet.

It is expected to have the interclass track meet about the second Saturday in April and dual meets will be arranged with Pendleton, Hubler and Union. Hubler is expected to enter track this year and is out to win and Union has several men that are sure point winners. Pendleton, last year's champion, will prove the strongest contender for track honors, La Grande will have to face and reports have it that the Round-Up boys have been training for sometime and are rounding into first class condition.

days in this territory conferring with other railroad officials and shippers. Through his relationship with the business world as chief official of freight movements on the largest transcontinental railway system, he has gained a good knowledge of actual business conditions and is confident that better business may be expected during the coming year.

The car orders made by the Union Pacific include 2000 40-foot box cars, 1000 50-foot automobile cars, and 1500 30-foot automobile cars, all of which will be suitable for general traffic. In addition, orders have been placed through the Pacific Express company of which the Union Pacific is half owner with the Southern Pacific for 3200 additional refrigerator cars.

"These car orders, demonstrate the confidence of the Union Pacific in the business outlook," said Robinson, who was formerly traffic manager for the O-W. R. & N. "All of the lumber will be purchased in the Northwest and this will assist in the strengthening of that industry."

"With the exception of the lumber industry, the Northwest has had a prosperous year, particularly in agricultural and horticultural industries. The lumber industry is showing substantial improvement. Several factors will substantiate this belief that the lumber business will be better this year. They are:

"Improved buying power of farmers in the Middle West.

"Resumption of industrial activities in the West.

"Entrance into the market by the railroads for much needed equipment for repairs, replacements and maintenance."

Robinson said that his agents have reported a general improvement in the livestock industry as to prices and demand with the possible exception of cattle, which, however, he said are on a much firmer basis.

KISS RESULTS IN TROUBLE

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—Mrs. Isabel Matteson explained to the police Wednesday night that a difficulty she had with a young woman came after she saw her rival and her husband, Gerard Matteson, commission man, in a mile-long kiss. Detectives separated the women, and Matteson and the woman with him were charged with disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Matteson said her husband told her he did not love her any more, and had been away from home four days. She said she decided to follow him, pay him to enter a taxicab with a young woman, embrace and kiss her, the accusation lasting while the taxicab traversed more than a mile of streets.

Telephone Service

The difference between what it costs to render the service and the value of the service to the people who use it is what measures the value to society of the discovery and development of the telephone. The fact that telephone service can be and is produced at a cost and sold to telephone subscribers at a price very much less than the value of the service to the subscribers constitutes the assurance of the stability of the business.

RUMORS OF RIVALRY DENIED

Grain Growers Co-Operative Associations Are in Harmony, Says Official.

SPOKANE, Mar. 27.—There is no rivalry between the United States Wheat Growers and the proposed American Wheat Growers, as indicated in a Chicago dispatch Tuesday, according to Walter J. Robinson, president of the Washington-Idaho Wheat Growers' association. Mr. Robinson has been on the "inside" of both national organizations and scents the idea that they are competing in any sense.

The talk of rivalry and discord in co-operatively marketing organizations started when the United States Wheat Growers at the recent joint conference in Denver decided not to enter the American Wheat Growers, now in process of organization with George C. Jewett, general manager of the northwest association, chairman of the committee on contracts and organization. Until yesterday he was also a director of the United States Wheat Growers and its second vice president.

"We knew at the Denver meeting that the United States Wheat Growers could not be a part of the American Wheat Growers because the latter is a 100 per cent pooling organization and the United States Wheat Growers is not," said Mr. Robinson Tuesday. "There is no record and the conference was most harmonious. The United States Wheat Growers' sales policy, however is radically different from ours. The American Wheat Growers will include only the 100 per cent pooling organizations in North Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon.

PORTLAND HAS CLOSE RIVAL

Philadelphia Divides Honor With Rose City for Best Rose Production in 1921.

PORTLAND, Mar. 27.—Portland, Oregon and Philadelphia, Pa., divided the honors for 1921 in the producing of new roses as shown by the report of the board of judges which scored the new roses tested in the International Rose Test Garden in Washington Park, Portland, Oregon. The report was issued today by City Park Commissioner S. C. Pier. The following awards were made:

To Captain George C. Thomas, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa., for producing the rose "Mrs. George C. Thomas," the gold medal of the American Rose Society for the best rose for general garden cultivation; gold medal of the City of Portland for the best new climbing rose; and the silver trophy of the Portland Rose Society for the best rose produced by an amateur.

To Albert Clark of Portland, Oregon, for producing the Rose "Imperial Potentate," the silver medal of the American Rose Society for the second best rose for general garden cultivation; gold medal of the City of Portland for the best bush or dwarf rose, and silver trophy of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, for best new rose produced on the Pacific Coast.

Rose growers throughout the world are fully awakened to the importance of having their roses tested in Portland, for this garden—the International Rose Test Garden—is the only one where new roses, exclusively, are tested scientifically, to determine their disease resisting qualities, their vigor, their fragrance, length of stem, etc. Growers have realized that if their new roses can attain a score of at least 85 points under the Portland test, which was originated by Jesse A. Currey of that city, they have a rose which can be recommended to the public for general garden cultivation. The International Rose Test Gardens are bringing added fame to Portland as the "Rose City," for roses which have passed the Portland test are prominently advertised in catalogues of floriculture.
