Day at Baker—Harris French and Hubert Ormond, the latter of Nampa, Idaho, left this morning for Baker. Mr. French will spend the day attending to some business matters and Mr. Ormond will go on to his home at Nampa tomorrow. He has been in La Grande for a few days visiting with friends and relatives.

Crops Fine—Crops in and around the Cove section of the valley are looking fine now that the snow is off the ground. Chris and Gerhart Stackland report. The snow remained all winter in that part of the valley and as a result none of the grain was injured. Winter wheat is now coming up rapidly and the fields are green with the young grain. The Stacklands are heavily interested in orchards in the Cove section and say that there will be much spraying soon. The leaf blatter is troubling the orchardists to some extent but can be entirely eradicated by proper spraying, they declare. A carload of lime sulphur spray has been received by the farm bureau at Imbler for use in the orchards in that section and more spray is being ordered by the farm bureau.

Stock Show Committee Meets—The Union Stock Show classification committee met recently to arrange the classification premiums for this year's show, which is the fourteenth annual stock show held in Union. A much larger entertainment is promised for this year and owing to the larger number of exhibits, it will be necessary to erect new housing. The coming show, according to reports, will be a bigger and better show than ever before.

The mother, a brother and sister who witnessed the spectacle reported that little Velma kicked her feet and swung her arms in natural union, propelling herself steadily.

BUDGET BODY IS ORGANIZED
 SALEM, Or., Mar. 29.—With the organization of the state budget commission here through the election of Frank Meredith as executive officer and statistician, the work of compiling the state budget for the period January 1, 1923, to January 1, 1925, will get under way within the next two weeks.

Blanks have been prepared by the commission and these will be sent to the heads of all state institutions and departments. Upon these blanks the superintendents will designate their estimated expenditures for the biennium. These estimates will be classified, including maintenance, new buildings and other expenditures that may be contemplated.

These blanks will then be returned to the secretary of the budget commission, who will later refer them to the members of the commission. Each item of expense set out in the budgets of the several institutions and departments will be considered closely, comparisons with previous years will be made and every effort will be made to eliminate all improvements that are not necessary.

budgets the commission will prepare a recommendation for consideration of the legislators. The budgets, together with this recommendation, then will be referred to the ways and means committee for final approval or rejection. If approved by the ways and means committee, such a recommendation then will be submitted to the legislature along with the bills authorizing the appropriations.

Under the system of handing appropriations through the budget commission, the ways and means committee probably will be relieved of considerable work.

SIAMESE TWINS NEAR DEATH
 (By Associated Press)
 CHICAGO, Mar. 29.—Josepha and Rosa Blazek, two Czech-Slovakian twins joined together at birth and known as "The Siamese Twins," were in a serious condition from yellow jaundice at a hospital Tuesday, but physicians said an operation to separate them was out of the question for it would mean the death of both. If Josepha dies her sister must die also, the physicians say, in spite of all medical skill. Josepha was taken ill first. Tuesday she was unconscious. The disease also has spread to Rosa and she lies in a semi-conscious state. Two physicians are attending them. Rosa is a widow. She has a 12-year-old son, Frantz, who plays about the hospital unmindful of fate's misfortune and the possibility that he may lose his mother. He is a very bright boy, hospital attaches say, perfect mentally and physically. The sisters were brought to this country for exhibition purposes.
