the resurrection of their markets in the east and south.

The resolution calling the conference sets forth that the nations of Europe cannot presume to dictate to one another the principles under which they must conduct their internal affairs but adds that foreign capital cannot be expected to come in unless the nations recognize all obligations and public debts previously contracted or to be contracted in the future, agree to indemnify all foreign interests for loss which has been caused through the confiscation of property and establish legal punishment to assure the impartial execution of all commercial or other contracts.

The resolution also suggests that the nations ought to have a convenient means of exchange; that all nations should agree to abstain from propaganda subversive of the political system in other countries and that all nations take a common engagement to abstain from aggression on their neighbors.

FARM BUREAU ELECTS ITS NEW OFFICERS

of the state farm bureau for the ensuing year.

Frank McKennon pointed out the past work and accomplishments of the Union county farm bureau, laying especial stress on the co-operation and organization of the Oregon Grain Growers' Association and the initiation of the eradication of tuberculosis among cattle. In regards to the latter, over half has already been eliminated and the work will be continued and completed this season.

He pointed out the fact that oil and gasoline supply arrangements have been made and that grain grad. hearings have been held with much success. The Union county farmers have been represented at all other agricultural movements throughout the state during the past year and the local farm bureau has kept in touch with outside organizations much to their advantage.

H. G. Avery, county agent, gave a brief report on his past year's work and followed up with an extensive outline of plans for this year. "More time will be given to the study of the wheat this year than ever before. Each variety will be fully handled."

The Inland City Pig Club, that had such a successful season last year, has extended its work. Fully re-organized and ready to start this year's plans, they expect to make a bigger and better showing than last year. Calf and pig clubs have been organized among the boys and girls of Union, Cove and Imbler.

"Arrangements have been made for sixty field demonstrations and for field meets and excursions to view the results of this work. It was very similar to this that established silos and land plaster in common use in this county. Incidentally, Union county has a larger number of silos today than any other county in Eastern Oregon," stated Mr. Avery.

Poultry demonstrations and meetings will be held in every section of the county this year.

The O. A. C. extension work in Eastern Oregon was fully explained by F. L. Ballard, who is in La Grande representing this phase of their agricultural program. He dwelt upon the value of organization among the farmers. "It makes absolutely no difference what organizations the farmer belongs to just so that the organization has definite aims and objects in view that will be faithfully followed."

The reports for the past year show that the Union county farm bureau finances are in good shape and that the membership this year has already reached last year's mark.
