

BAY HORSE IS NOW PRODUCING

BAKER, Apr. 14.—The Bay Horse mine on Snake river is a new producing mine for Baker county. Three cars of ore have been shipped from the mine to smelters of the Northwest in the past week. These cars were sent, one to Salt Lake, one to the smelter at Tacoma and the other to Bunker Hill Sullivan smelter at Kellogg, Idaho. The purpose in shipping to the different smelters was to secure the best possible settlement for the ore. When this is determined shipments will become regular to the smelter giving the best settlement.

George P. Larsen, director of the U. S. Metals company, operating the Bay Horse mine, who is in the city today, has received the smelter report on the car sent to Salt Lake, showing the dry weight of the car to be 92,688 pounds, and the gross value $2500 for the lot.

It has been known for some time that the Bay Horse mine was soon to start shipping ore. There are 12 to 15 cars of ore now ready to go to the smelter while others are open and more will be ready for shipping as this is cleared away. During the winter a skidroad has been put in from the railroad which crosses the property and loading equipment has been installed.

PREMIER LIKES STORY TELLING

(By Associated Press)
CRICETH, Wales, Apr. 14.—Premier Lloyd George is never so happy as when swapping stories about his boyhood days with old cronies of his native Wales.

During his last visit here he gave a tea party to 19 ancient who were his father's pupils at Troedraeth school more than 60 years ago. The senior "old boy" was John Jones, 91, who still works as a carpenter. Next to Jones was William Davies, an assistant teacher under the Premier's father, who testified to the latter's handiness with the cane on occasions. Another guest was John Williams, now blind, who used to carry love messages between the Premier's father and mother.

The "old boys" told their host many stories of his father he had never heard before, and all were in the best of spirits. Old John Jones made the premier roar with laughter by the quaint way he told a story of the local indignation many years ago when a minister preached from a text which another minister had used the previous Sunday.

Mr. Lloyd George always tries to take things easy while here, but members of his cabinet and newspaper men seldom let a day go by without appropriating part of his time.

Getting up late in the morning, working in the garden, and listening to Welsh music are his chief pleasures during his visits, and when the weather is threatening he sits on his covered balcony wrapped in a gaudy shawl.

"They say," he remarked on his last visit, "that I must go back to school in a few days. They say I am playing truant. Yet they, at followed me, including the newspapers. I wish they would leave me alone for at least a fortnight; it would be better for them, and certainly better for me."

TOURISTS AGAIN TRAVEL MUCH

great anticipation and the Americans received more than a cordial welcome from their compatriots connected with relief work as well as from the keepers of Turkish bazaars anxious to sell souvenirs to their visitors.

"One of the ships sailed into the harbor of Constantinople with its band playing 'Dixie,' while the Americans on the Near East Relief orphanages on the waterfront waved American flags.

The Americans found Constantinople harbor filled with the warships of every nation, a country still at war and a city with more than 1,500,000 refugees. Passengers of both ships took up collections for emergency relief, gave donations for orphans and refugees and promised to send their winter clothing to Constantinople when the trip was over.

The merchants were all excitement over the arrival of the Americans and fairly pulled the tourists into the shops in their eagerness to sell.

Some of the visitors entertained Rear-Admiral Bristol, American High Commissioner and Mrs. Bristol in the Muscovite, famous Russian restaurant.

The American visitors were served by girls who were formerly members of old Russian aristocratic families who came to Constantinople two years ago as refugees.

As a parting gift the tourists sent to the Near East Relief orphanages on the Bosphorus the favors given at the various dances.

A Farmer Cure of Rheumatism.
"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely," says C. P. Rayer, Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar, saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me."—Adv.
