WHEAT LOOKING GOOD IN COUNTY

Fall Wheat Expected To Make Good Showing; No Trouble Expected from Pests.

The wheat situation in Union county looks much better than usual, according to reports from farmers in the county. Fall wheat is looking especially good and with the stretch of spring weather the farmers are putting in their spring wheat where possible. Some of the land is still too wet for plowing but on the whole the work is progressing.

Very little trouble is expected this year from the wheat stem borer but it is still early to be sure of this. The copper carbonate that was used last year on plots of winter wheat to eradicate smut is apparently answering its purpose although whether it will do away with the smut entirely will not be known until time to harvest. The plots that have been treated are showing a much better standing than those untreated.

A small percentage of the winter wheat is damaged in various parts of the county due to two causes. The high waters in some parts have practically killed the wheat and the alternate frosts and thaws experienced in January and February have affected some plots. However, the damaged wheat is small in proportion to that undamaged.

When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pain and I was
