WESTENHAVER & GILBERT

MANY MATTERS ON PROGRAM

Many matters of vital importance to La Grande such as the street improvement situation, the proposed annexation of the territory in the northeast of La Grande, the Diamond Lake matter and other equally important subjects will be threshed out tomorrow noon at the L. D. S. tabernacle, when the Ad club holds its luncheon at that place with the L. D. S. ladies serving the dinner. It was at first believed feasible to hold a political junk tomorrow noon but the fact that it is now evident the State Highway commission will be in La Grande a week hence and the fact that these above mentioned matters must be attended to at once the idea of a junk was abandoned by Chairman Dennis.

The meeting is one of the most important business sessions the club has had this year. The L. D. S. ladies have announced their menu and it promises to be a very appetizing meal.

HARDING DECLINES INVITATION

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 8. — President Harding today told Eric V. Hauser and the Portland delegation that he would be unable to accept Portland's invitation to the Rose Festival June 9th, but hoped to visit Portland later in the summer if he visits Alaska.

HIGH SCHOOL IS PICNICING

Despite the fact that a drizzling rain was falling and that last night's snow had left the ground and nature at large in a rather moist condition, forty-five members of the Senior class of the La Grande high school departed for Ladd Canyon this morning at nine o'clock in cars to hold their annual picnic. Girls clad in khaki breeches and high topped boots and boys arrayed likewise, except those wearing good old overalls, accompanied by a sprinkling of the faculty, who also were dressed for the occasion, showed that they intended to have a good time whether Jupiter Pluvius frowned upon them or Sol's shining face formed the chief center of attraction in the skies.

"Eat" in large and soul-satisfying amounts were taken along, as were also cameras, winning smiles and other similar things necessary to make a day of it. Luncheon will be served beneath the pine trees at noon and will consist of bacon and egg cooked over a camp fire and roasted wienies and the huns that will sand with the "hot dogs."

Again at about six o'clock the camp culinary artists will yell "come and get it," and the Seniors will make a rush for a similar menu. It is safe to say in advance that they will do justice to the victuals whether the cooks compare favorably with Delmonico's best or not.

Patterson to Speak Here This Evening

ment of automobile licenses, a fair deal to the farmers in equalizing the tax burden and the prevention of Orientals from controlling land in Oregon were the chief proposals advocated here Saturday night by I. L. Patterson, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, at an enthusiastic meeting in the Baker theatre.

Senator Patterson attacked the high cost of state government, pledging increased efficiency and reduced expenses if elected governor. Indications are that Eastern Oregon is falling almost solidly in line for Patterson. People in this part of the state believe that they will get a square deal from his administration. His policy appeals especially to farmers, stockmen and business men here, all suffering from high taxation.

rally with a single, his first hit for the day. Rosenbaum connected next and Knight went to first on an error by Union that scored Thieson. After Cross tied out Hickey did his duty by bringing in Knight and Rosenbaum with a long single. A sacrifice hit by Johnson scored Hickey and Meserve was out at first. Union attempted a rally but it died out in short order.

Rosenbaum piled up an enviable hit record when he got two singles in his two first times up, making seven straight hits in seven times up. Thieson stands second with six straight hits garnered in the Cove-La Grande game. Thieson was unable to get away with but one hit although he connected with the ball four times. Rosenbaum, Johnson and Hickey were the batting stars of the day with two hits apiece for Johnson and Hickey and three for Rosenbaum. These hits were responsible for six of the runs. Rosenbaum now has a batting average of .700 and Thieson comes next with .636.

Next Sunday will find the strong Haines team crossing bats with the locals, while Cove is at Elgin and Baker is entertaining Union. Indications are that La Grande will make it a three straight with next Sunday's game.

Summary: La Grande, 4 errors; 11 hits, 8 runs. Union, 5 errors, 3 hits, 1 run. Three baggers, Knight and Johnson. Two baggers, Rosenbaum and Hannifield. Sacrifice hits.
