Boyd Tells Why Sinnott Should Be Re-Elected

would hold it for more than one term? To defeat Mr. Sinnott, would possibly only bring on years of contest for office, where Mr. Sinnott would hold only two years, some other man two years and the country in Oregon would lose the benefit of an able man while the voters were quibbling and fighting over who was to be left in Congress. I am confident that Mr. Sinnott will be re-elected, but let this Congressional district demonstrate by an overwhelming vote that it believes in keeping a man in Congress who is able to do things and that they will not cater to the desires and wishes of the petty politicians.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL BOYD.
