Bible Thought For Today

RIGHTEOUSNESS BRINGS REJOICING.—When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.—Proverbs 29:2.

INTEREST SOON CEASES

This is the fourth day following the primaries, and on this fourth morning no one knows who is nominated by the dominant party in Oregon for governor. Interest has dulled so that this morning, aside from those who fought for and against the religious phase of the battle little is said of the contest.

La Grande citizens now freely admit that bathing and dancing do not go well on the same program for an evening's entertainment.

Senator Tom Watson wanted to fight Senator Phipps yesterday in Washington, D. C., but there was no one to prepare the guns and act as seconds, sah.

Even the Portland Telegram is now visting about to find some plan to support that will better the primary in Oregon. It surely needs bettering.

It is all right to adjourn for the summer period but not on account of the warm weather.

La Grande is improving a few streets, laying water mains, putting in sewers and acting as though things were back to normal.

The Chile-Peru Row.

Life nowadays is just one international conference after another. The latest one is the Chile-Peru meeting at Washington, to see if those countries can settle their old dispute about the ownership of the rich districts of Tanna and Arica, held by Chile and claimed by Peru for 49 years.

cannot induce the water to bring plain and unadorned, for the child who at home never gets a drop of vitamins, but reasoning in everything, for the child who at home has little salt and has never tasted pepper.

For the single meal experienced mothers fall back on bread and milk and the sliced chicken sandwich. Like Emma, McCheeny's "Roast Beef, Medium," it is the one dependable combination. But if there is a succession of meals, even this fails.

Now all these mothers may take heart. The Waldorf-Astoria in New York has adopted, as special children's menu, prepared by a child specialist. Sooner or later all restaurants may follow suit. The whole traveling public will add its sigh of relief, for fretful children on trains are usually improperly fed children.

When a child can get a baked potato, spinach not cooked to death, crisp lettuce with only a bit of orange or apple on it, warm milk in a cup with a handle, and plain sponge cake with the plain ice cream that is a reward for good conduct on the expedition, and this meal, or its equivalent, for a moderate sum, the whole country will feel better.

A World Controlled By Law.

The time has not yet come when international affairs are sufficiently settled to make immediately practicable a general conference to consider, clarify, extend and strengthen the law of nations, but it is already high time for those who believe in a world controlled by law to begin their preparations for such a conference.

"Pleads for All Churches to Join for World Peace" is an interesting headline. But what we understand they were really trying to do was to put into the world a little of that peace that the world cannot give. It seemed to be made apparent at Genoa that it has to come from somewhere else than this worldly plane.

These are the words of Euhus Root, addressed to the American society of international law. Mr. Root speaks with authority in this field. And there is a kind of finality in his topic, even while it might seem most inopportune—while the nations are still bickering and quarrelling and international relations are chaotic.

Well, well! Here we all thought the Bull Moose was dead, but the news from Indiana and Pennsylvania seems to indicate that maybe he has merely been hibernating.

M'NAMEE GOES TO N. K. WEST CO.

Popular Clerk Resigns at Foley Hotel After Long Service to the Public as Head Clerk.

Jim McNamee, who has been the official greeter at the Foley hotel for several years and who knows the first name of every traveling salesman who makes the Inland Empire, has resigned his position with the hotel company, and joined the N. K. West Company organization.

The Baby's Restaurant.

The mother who has to take small children down town for shopping, or on a journey involving tiring cars or hotels, always wishes some attention would be paid to the food needs of the little folks. The baby on a bottle lives pretty well, for waiters and porters have learned to bring hot water in which to heat it, and the mother who has modified the milk herself, or had it done at an accredited laboratory, knows what her child is getting. But oh, the troubles from one year old to seven.

It was not because Jimmie dislikes hotel work, for he is adapted to the game and has a winning way that all people like, but some time ago a youngster arrived at Jimmie's house and since that time it has been mighty hard for the boys to break away from home and put in the long shift which hotel business demands. He would find himself playing with the baby and having a good time when the boy's hand pointed to the time to take his place behind the counter. For this reason he decided to enter the mercantile business, which provides shorter business hours and Sundays with the hotel.

He will make a good man in the store, for his acquaintance is wide and mix-up affairs, salads

THE OFFICE CAT

Don't complain to the editor because he doesn't print all the news. You'll probably see the time when you'll be mighty glad he doesn't.

WORDS USELESS WITH THEM

The American Auto association is offering a prize for the best word to apply to reckless motorists. We know a word, but we would be arrested if we printed it.

If she doesn't get photographed, it isn't modesty. It is but frank acceptance of conditions over which she has no control.

The easiest way to understand the psychology of the American people is to study the material it sends to congress.

Dryan's habits our news'ers were dirt. At any rate the old boys a few years back were instructed to do it.

A COLLEGE LETTER

Judge: Dear Mary: I got my diploma; I got a cum laude degree. I hit my exams for a honor as I now am. I've learned how to inhale quite nobly; my shoes come from France, clothes from Brooklyn. You really would almost know me—I'm surely some simich boy up here. I've learned how to dance this here tiddler; on Latin and Greek I've been fed. I carry this for-ensic bundle—I tell you I'm sure college level. And now we can go and get married. I've learned all the dope so to speak. But one thought my pleasure has hurried—can we live on thirteen a week?

TIME TO STOP.

Answers, London: Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street," is fond of lecturing, as well as writing, and the best story he told us on his arrival here from America referred to an occasion when he was holding forth on the subject of matrimony.

"There has been an ideal marriage," he exclaimed (while those whose marriages had not been ideal listened with pained interest). "My wife and I share our sorrows, our joys, our ambition, our hope, our—"

Then a Scotsman interrupted: "What about conversation, Mr. Lewis?"

And it is reported that there was considerable silence.

LAND HO!

Life: If Columbus had dropped in at the Genoa conference, he'd have had a harder time discovering America than he did in 1492.

IT IS HARD TO CONFUSE A DEAD MAN.

Both the dead man and his wife were closely questioned by the attorney and each told the same story. —Casper, Wyo., Herald.
