"Laughing Gas." This gas is made by heating solid ammonium nitrate in a flask. The reaction produces water and nitrous oxide. It is the safest anesthetic known to medical science, but occasional fatalities have resulted from its use. It takes its name from the laughing symptoms that sometimes follow its inhalation in small quantities. —Popular Science Monthly.

Extracts of Report of Examination

Made by Paul L. Woolston for the Insurance Department of Oregon of the Oregon Fire Relief Association as of December 31, 1921.

"It has from the beginning furnished sound insurance to its members at moderate rates and, at the same time, has accumulated a substantial amount of assets and surplus."

"Until several years ago premiums were collected on the assessment plan, but at present one and three year policies has since 1918 been written on the basis of fixed premiums collected in advance for the full term, the liability, in accordance with the Insurance Laws of Oregon, being limited to said premiums while the association is in the financial condition required by said laws for such limitation of liability."

"The association has grown steadily, at first slowly, but recently with much more rapidity."

"The management of the association is continuous and harmonious, some of the officers and trustees having served fifteen to twenty years."

"It is found that the officers and trustees are faithful, progressive, honorable, efficient. They are representative members of the communities in which they live. The Insurance Laws are being duly complied with."

"The securities are of excellent character throughout and none are in default as to principal or interest. In the past two years the investment in Liberty Bonds has been materially increased at low cost prices."

"Because of the financial strength of the association and the labor involved in obtaining market values as of December 31, 1921, the bonds have been allowed herein at the par or book value."

"Losses are paid promptly and cheerfully and the association has only a few occasions in its history been involved in litigation in connection therewith. The record of loss payments is excellent."

"The surplus to members is large, soundly invested, and is not greatly less than the entire liabilities. The admitted assets to liabilities is 180%, a very creditable showing. The association is performing a valuable service to its members and is believed to merit their wholehearted support."
