The Home of the Soul.

In olden times it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.—Adv.

AT SHERRY'S—LAST DAY "OVER THE BORDER"

A perfect pair of players providing a perfect dramatic thrill. And that, in a modest way, is but an introduction to the Paramount picture "Over the Border," which features Betty Compson and Tom Moore. But this is not the only highly desirable attribute which the picture possesses. There is Sir Gilbert Parker, the eminent Canadian novelist from whose story "She of the Triple Chevron," the picture has been adapted. There is also the fact that it is a Penrhyn Stanlaws production, and when one considers the skill with which this producer has invented his previous creations starring Betty Compson, one knows that in this, his latest, he has evolved a picture that is the best word in beauty, suspense, action and dramatic intensity.

Such a picture is "Over the Border." It will carry your patrons over the border of their ordinary, everyday emotions, into that world where they will thrill and be made happy. It has its foundation a stirring story; it has its two central roles played by two stars who have immense individual followings; it has been masterfully directed; and the cast of supporting players is one of uniform excellence.

Also showing "Mutt and Jeff."

"THE GREAT IMPERSONATION"

Great Cast Chosen by George Melford for Big Paramount Production.

Any Paramount production bearing the name of George Melford as producer, necessarily is well cast. This is especially true of "The Great Impersonation," a new Melford picture which will be shown at the Arcade theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The story is based on E. Phillips Oppenheim's famous novel and the adaptation was made by Monte M. Katterjohn. The featured player is Ann Forrest. Both appeared in the leading roles of "The Wise Fool." In the support are Winter Hall, Trudy Shattuck, Fontaine La Rue, who won fame by her performance in "The Lost Romance," Alan Hale, Bertram Johns, William Burress, Cedric Holland, Temple Plott, Lawrence Grant, Louis Dumay, Frederick Vroom and Florence Midgley. Nearly all of those named are players of reputation and in the thrilling story of "The Great Impersonation," each contributes materially to the success of the exceptionally fine presentation.

Public Opinion.

Public opinion is often wrong in the beginning; it is always right in the end. And the reason is that, at first, it is formed by the passions of the unthinking many, ignorant of mankind, but interested in passing events; at last, on the reason of the thinking few, whose judgment had been enlightened by experience to whom alone the past is an object of interest and by whom the verdict of posterity is formed.—Allison.

An Obligation Promptly Met

The treasurer of the United States has issued a call for payment of 3 3/4 per cent Victory Notes June 15, 1922 and states that interest on these notes will cease on that date.

Also, that the 4 1/2 Victory Notes are, for a limited amount, called for payment on this same date. Interest, however, does not cease if they are not turned in on that date. This bank will accept either issue at par or be pleased to forward them in for redemption.

As your funds fall due and are called for payment—do not allow your funds to lie idle—deposit them in a savings account where they will draw interest at 4 per cent.
