THEATRES

AT SHERRY'S "THE VERMILION PENCIL" TODAY AND TOMORROW.

A mighty volcano spewing a flaming torrent of lava toward the heavens; an earthquake that rocks the countryside for miles and send buildings crashing to the ground in a thousand fragments; fleeing natives, in a state of panic, running wild-eyed for safety in the outlands! This is but a short word picture of one of the great big thrill episodes that make "The Vermilion Pencil," one of the really important motion pictures of the day. It is shown for the first time today at the Sherry Theatre, where its engagement will last for two days.

BIG "GUN" IN ACTION—SCENE FROM "POWDER RIVER"

Sessue Hayakawa, the noted Japanese-American star, interprets three separate and distinct roles in this most recent R-C production. Others in the cast are Bessie Love, Ann May, Misao Saki, Sidney Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Tony Du Crow and Omar Whitehead. Norman Dawn was the director. The story was adapted from the memorable novel of the same title by Homer Lea.

Also showing a comedy.

SUPERB PRODUCTION IS "THE GREAT IMPERSONATION."

George Melford, whose special Paramount productions have a world wide reputation, is responsible for the superb production of "The Great Impersonation," the E. Phillips Oppenheim story featuring James Kirkwood, which will be shown at the Arcade Theatre today and Wednesday.

Mr. Oppenheim writes for a big public—probably one of the largest claimed by any English or American author. "The Great Impersonation" is one of his latest tales of mystery, love and intrigue, and it has already gone through several editions. The plot deals with a mysterious mix-up in identities and is concerned with incidents immediately preceding the Great War. There are many extras in the various scenes which include episodes in German East Africa, the royal court of Berlin and the palatial drawing-rooms of an English mansion.

On the same program will also be shown Round Two of "The Leather Pushers," the picturization of the short stories that appeared in Collier's Weekly.

FRECKLES BARRY MAKES REAL SACRIFICE FOR ART

Freckles Barry has learned the real meaning of the phrase, "Art for Art's sake."
 It was in a scene for "Penrod," Marshall Neilan's picture, when Freckles and little Maurice Levey were scheduled to put on a lively scrap during the children's pageant.
 "Give us a real scrap," said Mr. Neilan to the young gladiators.
 It was as it should be as far as the script was concerned but when the scene was completed Freckles kept his position on the floor. It took Marjorie Daw's smelling salts to bring him to.

The famous film, "Powder River," which is to be shown at the Star theatre Thursday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the La Grande post of the American Legion, contains many interesting features of the front line and aerial work of the American forces in France, according to Corey G. Cook, who came here yesterday with the film.
 Cook was official film photographer in France for 31 months. He went over with the American Expeditionary forces and was attached to the signal corps.
 Cook says "Powder River" undoubtedly displays a most vivid realization of the activities of the troops in France; and while the picture covers work done by the 42nd, 91st, 35th, 2nd and 1st Divisions, it may be said to be typical of the activities of every other combat division.

The first two reels of the picture, according to Cook, were taken from the captured German submarine U139. These two reels, showing the sinking of merchant vessels by German divers, were intended for use as German propaganda.

One of the features of the main "Powder River" pictures is the advance of infantry in front of a barrage. While the scene was being filmed a shell exploded in front of the camera, ending that part of the pictures. Cook said that the camera was wrecked and he and an assistant injured by the shell.

The picture also shows the bringing down of a German airplane, blowing up of an ammunition dump and some of the exciting aerial activities of Eddie Rickenbacher.

Old Legend Concerning Fox.
 The fox won his reputation for cunning owing to the legend that "when a fox is hungry, it lies down in a furrow of the field and covers itself partly with earth as though it had been long dead. Then the ravens and other rapacious birds come to devour it, at which it suddenly leaps up and tears them to pieces."

Sproule Tells Of Southern Pacific Lines

Mr. Sproule tells of the public interest in the development done by a single control under two corporate names instead of by a single control with a single name. President Sproule points out that the transportation act of 1920 "provides that with the consent of the interstate commerce commission it shall be lawful for two or more carriers to consolidate their properties or any part thereof under conditions in harmony with the general plan of consolidation of the railroads of the country in groups."

"The interstate commerce commission thus can take up the chain of events," the statement of the Southern Pacific head continued. "The fact is that government control of the railroads has so increased and the policy of the government so changed since the suit was begun in 1914, that the situation needs to be dealt with in the light of present conditions and not the conditions that prevailed from 1885 to 1899. Every essential factor in the railroad business is supervised by the commissions created to protect the general public interest."

The interstate commerce commission following the mandate of the transportation act of 1920, already has prepared a tentative plan for consolidating the railroads into a limited number of systems. In this tentative plan the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific remain together.

"As a business question the commission evidently saw the wisdom of not disturbing the present control and found no reason to believe that there was any undue restriction of competition in the situation now existing; or if there was any titular restriction that it was more than balanced by the other conveniences it afforded the public.

"This single unit can now be separated into two units only by a process of disintegration and tearing into confused remnants of railroads, neither of which can function of itself. Therein would lie a ne wand real restraint of trade.

In concluding President Sproule said:
 "There seems, therefore, to be proper motive for direct appeal to the end that the power lodged in the interstate commerce commission may be exercised to maintain the operation of this transportation system as a unit, justified by the general experience of the public served. If necessary, for this purpose a new power might well be created by appropriate legislation."

L. A. STEWART, MAGNETIC HEALER.
 Well known in most places from ocean to ocean and is called as great a healer as any that now lives. Like the great healers of old, he does the healing by laying on of the hands. No medicine, he does the healing through the great power vested in him.

Before being out to pieces try the healer. Your organs belong there or God would not have put them there. You now have the chance of a lifetime while the healer is here. No matter what the trouble is, he can cure you if there is any cure to be had.
