Confidence

We are very confident that the splendid volume of business which we are receiving comes to us because the public has confidence in our goods, in our methods, in our prices.

It is natural that others should have confidence in us because we have confidence in our goods. That is the very foundation of good business.

We know the quality—if at any time it isn't satisfactory, bring it back.

WHO ARE YOU?

NINETY-NINE chances out of a hundred you are the man whose second finger on the right hand is expert in pressing electric buttons.

An electric button is a pretty small thing. By it we make elevators rise and fall for us, we give orders, we summon employes, we start big machinery whirring, we turn the light on and off, we could go on indefinitely. But remember, it is not the half-inch button that does all this.

There is the tremendous power behind the button; the huge dams and water turbines (in case of water power) or the normous boilers, turbines, engines and generators (in steam plants); the wires of high tension transmission lines, and the innumerable smaller wires stretching like a web from your very bedside out over the whole country.

1,400,000 people have invested their earnings in the securities of the electric light and power industry. Besides these foresighted citizens there are the investments of insurance companies and the loans made by banks.

They make possible "the button" that your finger presses morning, noon and night. Thirty-five million others enjoy the same instantaneous service.

There are still 14,000,000 homes in the United States remaining to be wired. 14,000,000 unwired homes mean that millions of people are without the benefit of electric light and power in their residences.

Gradually most of these residents will demand electric service, and the electrical industry with the support of the public, will find the means to extend this service to these prospective patrons, so they, too, will be able to press that half-inch button.

MANY POLES GO TO NEW WORLD

(By Associated Press)

WARSAW, June 14.—One hundred thousand emigrants left Poland for the United States and Canada during 1921, according to figures published here. During the same time 40,000 re-emigrants came to Poland, bringing with them money estimated at 900,000,000,000 marks or about $300,000.

A new airplane passenger service has been opened between Warsaw, Vienna, Prague and Budapest. The first direct air service between Berlin and Moscow, via Danzig, Mamel and Riga, will be inaugurated shortly.

The Polish American chamber of commerce declares that trade between Poland and the United States is increasing rapidly. In spite of low rates of exchange, Polish-American imports and exports in 1921 were nearly three times those of 1920. In the first two quarters of 1921, Poland imported 345,000 tons of American goods, against 124,000 tons in the same period of 1920. Exports for the first two quarters of 1921 were 776 tons, as compared to 210 in 1920. Poland's total export trade in 1921 also more than trebled, increasing from 620,000 tons in 1920 to 2,000,000 tons in 1921. In 1920 Polish exports were only 17 per cent of the imports; in 1921 they were 43 per cent.
