THEY GET THEIR MAN—MOUNTED POLICE APPEARING AT THE STAR THEATRE. This is a favorite expression up in the north whenever the famous Mounted Police ride back into town for it is a well known fact that if they come back at all they will bring their man. The number of criminals that ever escape when once the "Mounties" get on their trail, is exceedingly small. Just how they work and why they have become famous as man-catchers will be vividly told and fully explained at the Star Theatre today and Sunday, when the Northwest Mounted Police appear on the stage in person, with their interesting performance that has set the whole western country talking. Their style of entertainment is all their own, and absolutely different from anything ever seen anywhere. During their trip they have appeared in over a hundred cities and towns in California alone, and only in nine places have the theatres been large enough to hold the crowds that are flocking to see them. Their performance bears the endorsement of the most critical people in the west who acknowledge that as an educational feature there has never been anything like it. Our noted lawyer in San Francisco, who is known the width and breadth of the land, said, in a speaking of the Northwest Mounted Police performance: "You'll see more and learn more in the time the Mounted Police are on the stage, than you could possibly see and learn in years of travel and study." They will be here for just the two days only.

The Paramount production "Behold My Wife" is the feature picture story being shown in connection with the appearance of the Mounted Police.

ENTERPRISE, June 17.—A frightened cow driven through town last Thursday by two young men created considerable excitement. Homer Eads set out to deliver the cow to the Mountain Meat company plant on Trout Creek, and he and a companion brought her through town. She was a petting animal but had never been away from the farm on Alder Slope. All went fairly well until the cow was leaving town on North street when she charged across parking lawns and gardens, with the riders behind, cutting into the soft ground wherever they went. They crossed the premises of W. R. Barclay and C. C. Clearwater and then charged to the other side of the street over the new lawn of Harold D. Jackson.

Next door to Mr. Jackson's residence is the home of Rev. C. K. Chapman. The cow saw a back door open and dashed through it and into the kitchen, where she well. Rising to her feet again she floundered around until she got out the door again. Two small children were in the house alone at the time, and Mrs. Chapman was in the back yard.

Farther down the street the cows continued her course over lawns and across back porches until she got out of town.

Thought for the Day.

Editor of Observer:—On my return to La Grande I observe in his headlines on the front page of your paper that certain citizens of the Cove had presented to the County Court a petition asking for an election to vote bonds to build a road to that town. As papers ought to give facts as they are, will state that bonds were voted in the year 1919, to build this road, along with certain other roads, each being voted a definite amount by the people of this county, and the Cove road's part is $270,000.00. The petition asked the county court to begin work this year by building some part. Nobody outside

AT SHERRY'S—TODAY ONLY
One of the attractive features of the new western photoplay to be seen here is its scenery. "Headin' North," was made in Los Angeles, but it has some scenery that is absolutely new in pictures. Directors and camera men vie with each other today to obtain locations that will enhance the value of their pictures. The director of "Headin' North" has been highly successful in securing locations that certainly are new and also attractive. "Headin' North" would have been a great picture without its unusual scenery but with its unusual scenery it is a double A feature.

Bete Morrison who stars in "Headin' North" is one of the West's greatest cowboys. He is an actor who was born in his part, and is considered in the movie colony the best riding cowboy in captivity. Besides this, he is an excellent actor and a man possessed of good looks which makes him a star who is bound to increase his popularity in this picture.

Also showing Movie Clints—and Mutt and Jeff.

AT SHERRY'S WALLACE REID AND ELSIE FERGUSON SUNDAY AND MONDAY.
One of the most elaborate and thrilling motion pictures produced in many months is "Forever," a George Fitzmaurice production. The Paramount starring Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid, which will be feature de luxe at the Sherry theatre for two days beginning tomorrow.

Headed by the stars named, the cast in this photoplay is the most imposing ever gathered for a Paramount picture with the possible exception of "The Affairs of Anatol." Elliott Dexter, Montagu Love, George Fawcett and Paul McAllister play the principle supporting male roles. The two feminine parts, next in importance to the "Duchess of Towers," which is Miss Ferguson's role, are played by Barbara Dean and Dolores Cassinelli.

A half dozen or more youngsters are seen in the first part of the picture. Little Gogo Pasquier, who grows up to be "Peter Ibbotson," is played by Charles Eaton, eight years old. Nell Buck, an eight-year-old edition of Elsie Ferguson, is "Mimi," the little girl who becomes the "Duchess of Towers" later in the story.

The opening scenes for the picture were filmed in a most artistic setting—a French garden at Passy, a suburb of Paris. All four seasons of the year are shown in the garden, opening with the Springtime.

Also showing a two-reel comedy.

CONWAY TEARLE AT ARCADE SUNDAY IN GRIPPING SEA STORY.
Melodrama of the highest type which provides an abundance of rapid-fire action is to be found in the new Selznick Picture "Shadows of the Sea," starring Conway Tearle, which will be shown Sunday only at the Arcade.

Those who appreciate adventure and action will find in this production a succession of incidents that are calculated to keep the spectator's interest at fever heat from beginning to

and. A late news film will also be shown.

A GALAXY OF DE-LEX ENTERTAINERS.
Are Presented on the Bill at the Arcade Theatre on Monday, Which is to Be Very Elaborate.

Three Dancing Girls, a trio of talented young ladies, elaborately staged and costumed. The Dancing Girls portray an unusually classy dancing act in a repertoire of classic dancing numbers. The Three Little Dancers led by Mlle. Grace are finished terpsichorean artists, whose ability makes them popular favorites.

Welch & Hazelton furnish their share of comedy in their hilarious skit called "Jim the Janitor," full of nonsensical situations, comedy patter and catchy songs.

Thompson & Barri, a neat and talented couple present a comedy satire, "Patent Applied For," a brand of fun intermingled with song hits.

Paul Howard opens the show in a good advance in feats of contortion, placing his body in many knots and twists and forward and backward bending and dancing.

Constance Binney is winning high praise for her fine acting in "Midnight," which is the feature picture with the Vaudeville at the Arcade Theatre Monday only.
