CATTLE MEN HAULING SALT

(Special to The Observer) STARKEY, June 21.—Rains have resulted in the range and crops in this section getting into good shape. The cool weather is helping the gardeners get a good start.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas returned to their home in the valley last week. Two bands of Smythe's brothers sheep arrived last week. Jack Starro is home from a trip to Boise.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robertson of Carson, Idaho, parents of Mrs. Jack Starro, are visiting at the Starro home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brown and Mrs. Starro spent Sunday at the J. S. Rose home.

Frank Haggy is hauling salt to Starkey.

R. L. Sullivan went to La Grande several days ago to be with his wife and children for a while. Mrs. Sullivan has been sick for several weeks.

Mrs. A. C. Robertson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Briggs for several weeks, has returned to her home in Kamela.

J. S. Rose and sons, Bert and Tom, have finished their spring work in the Weston county and returned to Starkey. Mr. Rose hauled up a load of groceries to Sheep Ranch for Antone Vey. He will also haul seven tons of salt in to Sheep Ranch.

William Jones, one of Smythe's camp tenders, is hauling salt in to the range.

Len Ingham and A. J. Sullivan went to La Grande on business Saturday. Mr. Ingham leased the ranch of A. J. Sullivan again. He has been living on it for the past five years and is so well pleased with his crops and the country that he has decided to stay a number of years more.

Mrs. J. S. Rose received 200 day-old Leghorn chicks from a chicken farm in Colfax, Washington.

The Union County Public Health Association conducted a Baby Welfare Clinic in Cove Monday. Miss Zorn, county nurse, was assisted by Mrs. Gwendra Blackely, Field Supervisor with the State Bureau of Nursing, and the Women's Civic Club of Cove. Dr. T. C. Gilmore and E. J. Schuster, of Union, were the examining physicians.

Twenty babies were examined, and fourteen of these were found to need physical attention and mothers were advised to take the children to their family physician for treatment. Instruction for proper feeding was given them and health literature distributed.

Much credit is due to the women of Cove in making this conference a real success.
