"AN UNWILLING HERO" AT SHERRYS

When Will Rogers comes to the Sherry Theatre today in his latest Goldwyn picture, "An Unwilling Hero," another famous story by O. Henry, America's best known short story writer, will have reached the screen. The original title of this story was "Whistling Dick's Christmas Stocking," and the leading character is a lovable tramp, whom Will Rogers can impersonate better than any actor now on the screen.

In "An Unfilling Hero," Will Rogers is a hobo who has a penchant for whistling operatic airs. His companions decide to commit a robbery, but this is beyond the whistling hobo's field of activities. Fearing him, the other tramps bind him to a tree, but he succeeds in warning the owner of a plantation of the plan to rob his home. As a reward, Whistling Dick (Will Rogers) is offered a job, but he remains true to the call of the road. How the unwilling hero manages to keep his hands from work results in some of the most humorous situations in which Will Rogers has ever found himself.

The picture was directed by Clarences Badger, who has held the megaphone in many previous Will Rogers' photoplays.

Also showing "Miracles of the Jungle."

SPIRIT OF OUTDOORS LIVES IN "DON'T TELL EVERYTHING"

Combining three of the most popular figures of the screen—Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter—the two former stars and the latter a featured player for Paramount pictures—comes "Don't Tell Everything" which will be seen at the Arcade theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

The most interesting feature aside from the exceptional cast is that it is typically an out of door story, breathing the fragrance of the pine woods, the life and action of the polo field, the charm of a California golf course.

Sam Wood, the director, is a keen sport lover himself. So is Wallace Reid and so, indeed, are all concerned. Dorothy Cumming, who plays a girl of the modern athletic type is an accomplished sportswoman. A real polo game was staged for the picture; and indeed nothing has been left undone to make this one of the season's most notable productions. Lorna Moon wrote and A. S. LeVino adapted the story to the screen.

A late News reel will also be shown.

"WHICH ONE SHALL I MARRY" IS VERY PLEASING TO THE GARDENS' AUDIENCES.

Two well filled houses seemed very well pleased with "Which One Shall I Marry?" Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

It was the first opportunity Hilda Broshe had to show La Grande what she can really do. As the girl with the one big question to decide she was able to hold her audience from the opening of the first act until the final curtain. It was an exceptional story and took real ability to put it over. The allegorical scenes on which the story had its foundation were very well read and Miss Broshe showed her versatility shifting back and forth as member first of one and then another strata of society.

Phil Berg as the old Irish father kept everyone laughing and it was evident that Mr. Berg hasn't lost any of his popularity here.

Melba Palmer is everything the advance notices said of her and a little bit more. As the mother of Agnes she furnshed her share of both tears and laughter.

Duke Westcott as Bland, the wealthy suitor, was very good and the difficult part was played so well that at times we almost felt sorry for the wealthy man and his troubles.

Eddie Near, as Advice, had probably the most essential and at the same time the most difficult parts in the story. We liked Mr. Mar very much.

Peggy Wallace has already wormed her way into the hearts of almost everyone in town as per advance notice.

Corey Cook of Powder River fame, is doing very nicely, we understand. Mr. Cook is giving a real piano recital in conjunction with the show tonight.

There will be some new faces on the show the last half of the week. Mr. Davis passes the buck back to the regular juvenile man and seems to be glad of the opportunity.

William Colliers' "Man from Mexico" is the bill for tonight and it brings Mr Berg back to the character of "Abie," in which we all know him so well.

The new top is over the Gardens this evening and you can hear in every part of the house.

Constancy

Constancy applied to saving—to conducting your business or personal affairs in a financial sense, will prove to be a rare and impregnable route to comfortable wealth.

UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK
LA GRANDE, ORE.

WHO ARE YOU?

NINETY-NINE chances out of a hundred you are the man whose second finger on the right hand is expert in pressing electric buttons.

An electric button is a pretty small thing. By it we make elevators rise and fall for us, we give orders, we summon employes, we start big machinery whirring, we turn the light on and off, we could go on indefinitely. But remember, it is not the half-inch button that does all this.

There is the tremendous power behind the button; the huge dams and water turbines (in case of water power) or the normous boilers, turbines, engines and generators (in steam plants); the wires of high tension transmission lines, and the innumerable smaller wires stretching like a web from your very bedside out over the whole country.

1,400,000 people have invested their earnings in the securities of the electric light and power industry. Besides these foresighted citizens there are the investments of insurance companies and the loans made by banks.

They make possible "the button" that your finger presses morning, noon and night. Thirty-five million others enjoy the same instantaneous service.

There are still 14,000,000 homes in the United States remaining to be wired. 14,000,000 unwired homes mean that millions of people are without the benefit of electric light and power in their residences.

Gradually most of these residents will demand electric service, and the electrical industry with the support of the public, will find the means to extend this service to these prospective patrons, so they, too, will be able to press that half-inch button.

Here She Is---Good As New

"With cylinders REGROUND, AND FITTED WITH McQuay-Norris Piston Rings, Pistons and Pins, your motor is practically as good as new," says the cylinder regrinder.

Motorists are just beginning to realize how much added life, and mileage, can be given their cars by having cylinders reground, and new rings, pistons and pins installed. When these three vital units are renewed in a reground cylinder block, the result is practically a new motor.

In every section of the country are shops which specialize in regrinding—equipped with special tools and machinery for this work.

Your repairman can tell you whether new piston rings alone are all your motor needs to bring back its lost power, or whether the cylinders of your motor need regrinding and complete new ring, piston and pin equipment.

There is a McQuay-Norris Ring—made from Electric Iron—for every purpose and price; specially designed and manufactured for replacement purposes—each type designed for the particular motor it fits. All standard sizes and over-sizes.—An extract from McQuay-Norris, Saturday Evening Post.
