Trains on Time—The trains arrived in La Grande

practically on time 100 per cent today. No. 4 arrived in time on a scheduled time as did No. 17. There was about five minutes behind time, coming into Baker fifteen minutes late and making up ten on the way down. The express arrived 30 minutes late, due to heavy shipments of fruit.

Returns from Funerals—Jarvis Enight returned from Walla Walla, where he went on the sad mission of burying his brother, Ward Enight, who passed on suddenly the latter part of the week, presumably due to heart failure.

Cooking Demonstrations—Mrs. Frances Hagstrom, who is at the head of the Home Economics Department of the Corn Products Refining company in Portland, is spending about ten days in La Grande, conducting cooking classes and holding demonstrations at the different stores. In order to get in touch with La Grande's housewives she is arranging a class with reasonable rates and the agreement of furnishing materials herself. Her unique menus and valuable cooking information will prove to be helpful to the housewife of today.

Great Day's Drive Says Leighton—"I had a most wonderful day's drive yesterday," said Robert Leighton today, "for I left here in the morning, went over the Toll Gate road into Milton and Freewater and returned by way of Pendleton. Our people may seek different scenery, they may seek the poppy fields of a southern clime, they may seek the briny beaches, or the snow-capped mountains, but regardless of where they go they will never be able to find a day's more interesting driving than the trip over the Toll Gate road such as I took yesterday."

Swimming Classes—Tomorrow's swimming classes of the Y. M. C. A. will be as follows: boys beginning to learn how to swim, 9 and 9:30 o'clock; grade school boys, 10 o'clock; prep boys, 1 o'clock; grade school boys, 2 o'clock; Boy Scouts, 3 o'clock; the women's afternoon class at 4 o'clock. attention to the place in its literature as being of historic interest. The local Sons of the American Revolution have requested the Great Northern railroad to change the name of Lyons station to Howitzer in recognition of the running fight between the whites and the Indians, which terminated there after the troops under Col. Wright had annihilated their canons and turned them on the Indians.

U. S. TENNIS BALLS IN JAPAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—American-made tennis balls were used in the singles championship of the Tokio Tennis club for the first time recently, according to advices received here from Japan. In the past Japanese players have used English balls and they found the American ball livelier. In the first game, Nemura, who won the championship, was bothered by the fast ball and made four double faults. Later the players became accustomed to the speed.

BEARCATS WIN FIRST GAME

The Walla Walla Bearcats won the first of the three-game series for the juvenile championship of Eastern Washington and Oregon when they defeated the Imbler juveniles at Elgin Monday afternoon by the lopsided score of 19 to 0, the game being called off at the end of the second inning because of the time limit. Will, moundman for the Walla Walla team, whiffed 15 men, and LeClair and Ebersole crashed out two home runs during the game. The regular Imbler pitcher did not play Monday but pitched against the visitors at Cove yesterday, the results of the game having not been received. Today's game, the final one of the series, will be played at Imbler and in all probability, will be the best game of the three.

ing concerts in the evening, as well as appearing in the parade. By one might, it was impossible to find any criticism of the high quality of the parade. It was composed of ancient stages, teams of oxen, U. S. troopers, three bands, a number of Umatilla Indians pioneers, floats. La Grande's two floats standing out as of exceptional merit, and prospectors. At the completion of the parade part of the crowd left for the city park, while the remainder milled about town like a number of excited and eager youngsters having the time of their lives. Following Governor Olcott's speech, Hon. James Thompson, officially representing the state of Idaho, Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, and Ezra Meeker, the "Pioneer Trail Blazer," each delivered addresses fitting the occasion. Bicycle races, fireworks, and how to find a place to eat occupied the visitors for the rest of the morning. Several minor accidents, due to the immense crowds, occurred during the day, but no one was seriously injured. In the afternoon the auto races, at the race track, drew vast numbers who braved the heat and dust and were well satisfied with the program. Very rarely has so classy an exhibition of driving and racing been seen in Oregon on a track of its size. Every one of the races, from start to finish, was there and over and the program never had a lagging minute during the afternoon.

HILL IS NAMED BATTLEBUTTE

SPOKANE, Wash., July 5.—Battlebutte is the name that was formally adopted by the United States Geographic board for the hill near Four lakes in Spokane county, where Colonel George Wright met and defeated the Spokane Indians and their allies in 1825, according to an announcement here. Hereafter all government, states and county maps will carry the appellation. Local members of the Sons of the American Revolution are now seeking means of putting up monuments on the butte and at a point near Lyons station on the Great Northern railroad to commemorate the battle between the white soldiers under Colonel Wright and the Indians. G. W. Maldrum, assistant general passenger agent of the Great Northern Railroad with headquarters at Seattle, has asked for photographs of views near Lyons station which will enable the railroad to call at-

The evening commenced with band concerts by the various bands in different sections of the town and was followed by a general immigration to "Grizzly Gulch," where, needless to say, everything was wide open and the fun was fast and furious. "Duller Hill" Ellis' famous cove was situated in the former Chinatown and if a map had been taken in the gates blindfolded, he would have sworn that he had returned to the days of '49. Dancing, gambling, drinking (kickless beer and harmless moon), and all that goes with it were indulged in. A number of La Grander were in the role of saloon keepers, dance hall men, etc., among them being Clint Van Fleet, adorned in a leather vest that he guarded like a priceless diamond. But it all had to end some time and shortly after midnight, the crowds diminished and Baker passed once more into the realm of 1922, only the few undismolished structures remaining to remind them of the celebration.

BAKER, July 5.—About 10,000 persons witnessed the auto races here Monday afternoon. The motorcycle race against time was won by Joe Rineard. In the motorcycle race, free for all, 10 miles, Joe Rineard was first, Bill Osborn second. The one-mile against time for automobiles was won by Jack Ross, Seattle, driving a Stutz, time 64.45. Jack Ross, in a Ford special, driven by Carl Jobe, came in second; time 47; a Hudson special, driven by O. D. Scott, was third, time 69.

In cars over 230 cubic inch displacement, 10 miles, Carl Jobe, in a Ford special, won first; Scott, driving a Williams special was second, and Williams, driving a Studebaker special, came in third.

In cars over 230 cubic inch displacement, 10 miles, Jack Ross in a Stutz, was first; O. D. Scott, in a Hudson special, was second, and G. J. Scutlard, in a Hudson special, was third.
