OLD MONUMENT IS DISCOVERED

ENTERPRISE July 17.—A novel witness of a forgotten event of pioneer days was brought to Enterprise yesterday by L. F. Cross miller, located at the swamp creek camps of the East Oregon Lumber company. It appeared to be a monument to two men or boys who were drowned 40 years ago, June 28, 1882.

This monument was made from a tree which had been a foot in diameter and has been cut off about two feet from the ground. The top 12 inches of the butt had been covered with names carved on the four faces, and then for 16 inches below that, which had been covered with bark to different exposures, and these show the bare carved letters.

On the four faces of the upper part of the monument were the words: Bert Garrett, Leonard, Edna Butterfield, June 28 1882.

On the four lower faces were the words, one word on each face: Home, Cabin, Butte Knox Co.

The stump had quite rotted off in the ground and was just an old rotten which was easily removed. It was found by the loggers cutting in Swamp creek near Camp 7, some 12 miles north of Enterprise. The men took it to the camp office where Roy Hicinbothem the legends and E. L. Eddy bookkeeper, sought some light on the meaning. He could get no information and so Mr. Cunningham handed it to town and it is in the Record-Chief main office.

The letters were carved with a three cornered knife, and are as fresh as the day they were cut in the wood. Even the role made by the revolving point of the axis remains.

Old residents of the county have no recollection of a drowning at Swamp creek 40 years ago. In fact, the creek carries so little water that it is hard to realize that any person could be drowned there at any season of the year. L. W. Gilley recalled that the first survey of the county was made by the government about 40 years ago and he thought the monument must record an accident which befell the crew. Swamp creek was probably unknown to the few settlers in the county at the time.

The theory that the carvings were members of a surveying party is heightened by the fact that the names and dates were raised on the stump with a tool of the type commonly used chiefly by surveyors and engineers. It is used sometimes by woodchoppers, but it is hardly known to other persons.

GIRLS BREAK FOR LIBERTY

DETROIT, July 17—Police remained on duty at the home of the Good Shepherd, a girls' detention home, Friday to prevent a recurrence of the break for liberty which resulted in 14 of the inmates gaining temporary freedom Thursday. Other officers and officials of the juvenile court made an investigation to determine the cause of the uprising which threatened before police reinforcements arrived, to result in scores of escapes.

The institution, presided over by Sister St. Francis Xavier, usually is unguarded and when the girl inmates ranging in age from 16 to 18 years made their break for liberty, only a 14-foot wall stood in their way. Some of them scaled the wall and fled through the streets and alleys before police arrived and forced them into the building. A fight with the officers ensued in which some of the blue coats sustained scratches, lacerated shins and bites. To add to the confusion water faucets were opened by the rebellious inmates and the first two floors of the building were flooded while many windows were broken.

Ivory Nut.

There are two species of palms producing nuts hard enough to be employed as a substitute for ivory in the manufacture of small articles of domestic use, but the one best known to commerce under the name of ivory nut is the fruit of Phytelephas macrocarpa, native of New Granada and other parts of Central America.

Miss Wears Only Three Garments But Has 20 Trunks

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 17.—The Civil war Miss wore a dozen petticoats but when she went traveling all she took was a mugl, carpetbag or a trunk, while Miss 1922 who wears three pieces of clothing and a pair of shoes, needs 20 trunks and half a dozen bags besides.

This was the complaint of P. M. Davis of Cincinnati in a speech before the American Transfermen's association. Mr. Davis, with 61 years of transfer business to his credit, ranging from the old fashioned couch and omnibus to the automobile, claimed expert knowledge of the passing whims of travelers.

Commercial laborers and round house men	$3.36 per day.

These men are wanted to take the place of men who are striking against the decision of the United States Railroad Labor Board, and their status, and the FULL PROTECTION GUARANTEED, are explained by Mr. Ben W. Hooper, Chairman, in his statement of July 1:

"In this case the conflict is not between the employer and the oppressed employee. The people of this country, through an act of Congress, signed by President Wilson, established a tribunal to decide such disputes over wages and working conditions, which are submitted to it in a proper manner. It is the decision of this tribunal against which the shop crafts are striking.

"Regardless of any question of the right of the men to strike, the men who take the strikers' places are merely accepting the wages and working conditions prescribed by a government tribunal and are performing a public service. They are not accepting the wages and working conditions which an employer is trying to impose. FOR THIS REASON PUBLIC SENTIMENT AND FULL GOVERNMENT POWER WILL PROTECT THE MEN WHO REMAIN IN THEIR POSITIONS AND THE NEW MEN WHO MAY COME IN."
