ALL YEAR ROAD NEARING FINISH

Pendleton, which has always been considered inaccessible by road from La Grande about six months of the year will soon be almost as close to high way traveling time as is Baker.

The Blue mountains will soon be mastered with a complete state highway and the steep grade of former years will soon be a thing of the past. The last stretch of the Old Oregon Trail is now being constructed and a finished highway may be the result by the end of this season.

Since the building of the Cabbage Hill section of the trail, and the improvement of the highway from La Grande to the Idaho line, just now being completed, the 15-mile stretch between Deadman's pass and Kamela has been the block, which has broken a line of open highway from the east line of Oregon to the sea.

When the highway is completed, it will mean the creation of an all-year tourist business such as never has been anticipated. Since automobile traffic became of such importance people have flooded the Union County All Club with inquiries in the spring and fall to determine whether or not the road over the Blue mountains was open. It was the outlook in the east and westbound traffic, which eliminated, will mean a tremendous traffic through this section.

Traffic may not start this winter over the highway, but when the highway department accepts the finished road and the new grade is heralded over the entire northwest, the traffic will start. All year tourists will pass over the mountain between La Grande and Pendleton, traveling salesmen will make this territory in automobiles, never before possible, and more business by truck and car will be done with Pendleton and La Grande. Intermediate towns like Meacham and Kamela will have a road highway as an outlet.

R. H. Baldoock state highway division engineer, has declared that it is entirely possible to keep the new highway open throughout the year. The question is whether or not traffic will justify the expense.

Work has now started on this last stretch. It is reported from Pendleton Carlson and Nyberg, who have the contract to grade and surface, have subcontracted will have only about two miles to grade. The 15 miles is 5' 11" up between seven of these sub-contractors and a month of fast work will grade the total stretch.

One rock crusher will be on the ground in a few days and will be set up immediately. Another will be set up as soon as there is a grade to surface, the first rock crusher, which will be set up at the high point on the road, will start grinding rock. If there are no accidents or unforeseen circumstances arising the entire 15 miles will be completed this fall, so that it will have a chance to get with plenty of moisture.

An incentive to finish the surfaceing this year is given to the contractors in the form of a price for the 1922 work of 25,000 additional over the 1921 price.

"WATCH YOUR STEP" AT THE GARDENS TONIGHT.

"Watch Your Step," a musical comedy that is full of comical situations and good musical numbers, will be the attraction at the Gardens tonight and tomorrow night. The Tri-City Musical Revue is staying over until Thursday, when Taylor Brothers will arrive and show an entirely new list of plays. The Gardens held a record crowd last evening.

the session. Outside of the regular convention business, a great program of entertainment has been arranged. The chief features will be a military ball in the new municipal auditorium on July 27th, the boxing bouts on the evening of the 24th, with Battiluz Ortega as the headliner attraction, and the annual convention parade on the morning of July 29, following day.

Besides these, there will be a swimming meet for ex-service men. This will be a five-event program, staged in the Columbia river, and arranged in three series, preliminaries, semi-finals and finals, given at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of each day. An elaborate list of prizes has been prepared.

Dalles Post No. 18 is the entertaining organization this year and its members have announced that the visitors will be entertained at no less a convention in Oregon has been entertained before. The general committee is headed by Francis V. Gallosay, district attorney of Wasco county and Pat Foley is commander of the post. The chairman of the various convention committees are Fred H. McNeil, publicity; H. S. Rice, decoration; Simon Cohen, entertainment; R. M. Weber, parade; and J. T. Henry, registration.

Men from the Willamette valley and other western Oregon points who do not drive through are expected to mobilize at Portland on the 26th and come through to The Dalles on a special train. If this train arrives on the evening of the 26th, as anticipated, there will be entertainment features immediately following the arrival of the visitors.

Harold MacNider, national commander of the Legion, has just accepted an invitation to attend the Oregon convention. He is expected here Friday and Saturday, and special arrangements have been made to entertain him. A number of members of his staff will accompany him on the westward trip.

Local Legionnaires are extending special invitations to nearby points by turns out en-masse for the parade on the 29th when it is hoped to have 2,500 ex-service men and women in line. A unique feature of the parade will be the Indians from the Warm Springs reservation who are expected to participate. The parade will start at 11 o'clock in the morning and Commander Lane Goodell of the state department has announced that he will convene the delegates in final session immediately afterwards for the election of officers and selection of the 1923 meeting place.

McMinnville is making a strong bid for the next meeting and is coming here with a large delegation. By far the biggest single crowd from any one point however, is looked for from central Oregon, where the Legion is very strong.

The "wrecking crew" of the central Oregon Vulturo has been invited to stage the initiation ceremonies in conjunction with the grand parade of the Forty and Eight. Over a hundred members of this culture have signed up for the special train from Bend, which will also bring scores of veterans from the interior towns. Promises have also been made of a special train from eastern Oregon, picking up veterans all along the line from Baker down.

Major pool, which has specialized in the ritual work of the Legion, in conjunction with its meetings, has been invited to stage an exhibition of lodge room technique when the convention opens on Friday morning, July 28. Commander Goodell has invited this post to take up an hour's time during the convention, if necessary, as he considers the instruction of great value in other parts over the state which have not yet adopted the legion ritualistic formula.

The convention here will be staged in the spacious new civic auditorium, dedicated this spring. It was constructed from city funds and dedicated to the honor of the men and women of the county who served in the war.

you, who have pledged readiness to resume activity under the government's proposals, I must express my own and the public's gratitude.

"We have now reached a point, owing to the refusal of mine workers and the minority of your operators to accept the proposed arbitration, where the good offices of the government in seeking a voluntary adjustment of the dispute between mine operators and mine workers are without avail.

"I cannot permit you to depart without reminding you that coal is a national necessity, the ample supply of which is essential to common welfare and interstate commerce.

"The freedom of action on the part of workers and upon the part of employers does not measure in importance with the public welfare and national security.

"I therefore invite you to return to your mine properties and resume operations."

In the district actions referred to the delegate of employers from the associations in Illinois, the southwest all territory represented west of the Mississippi, and the Pittsburg vein operators and the association of Ohio, voted for an unqualified acceptance of the president's plan.

Indiana State associations stood against the plan on the ground that no arbitration commission should have representation of partisans in it, either miners or mine operators.
