THEATRES

AT SHERRYS—TOMORROW "THE GLORIOUS POOL"

Drama and comedy have been excellently combined in the new Mary Roberts Rinehart picture "The Glorious Pool," a Goldenwyn picture, coming to the Sherry Theatre for two days, beginning tomorrow. Mrs. Rinehart, whose stories have appeared in all the larger American magazines, expressed her delight with the photoplay version of her story that was directed by Mr. E. Mason Hopper. The action of the story takes place in a hospital, and so realistic are the scenes, that when Mrs. Rinehart saw them she exclaimed:

"Why, it is unbelievably perfect. And isn't Helene Chadwick delightful?"

Those who are fortunate enough to see "The Glorious Pool" will understand the author's enthusiasm upon seeing her story on the screen. The sympathetic little nurse, the rich patient she marries to prevent his despair, the head nurse, the "daffony," the head interne, the wards—every detail, in fact, is true to life. It would be unfair to disclose the charming plot of Mrs. Rinehart's story. That is a surprise which the patrons of the Sherry Theatre will enjoy from beginning to end. In addition to Miss Chadwick, the cast contains Richard Dix, Otto Hoffman, Kate Lester, Theodore Von Eltz, Frederic Vroom, John Lince, Vera Lewis, Lillian Langdon and George Cooper.

MOUNTED POLICE STORY AT ARCADE

In "Channing of the Northwest," Eugene O'Brien throws aside for at least three reels of the picture the sartorial decorations which have made him famous. However, he starts off as an English gentleman and thus upholds his reputation as the best dressed and most carefully groomed screen celebrity extant.

As "Channing" O'Brien is a revelation. He clearly demonstrates that he can ride with Bill Hart, Tom Mix or any of them. Furthermore, he swings a wicked pistol and is ready and willing to go to the bat with Pat Hartigan, the chief villain, in a fist fight. Gene proves he is a Man's Man as well as a Lady's Man, which makes him 100 per cent.

Gladden James plays the assistant villain and he is at his best. He certainly can take on an evil aspect and everybody present was hoping he would stop one of Channing's bullets with his very unmanly chest.

The glorious Nita Naldi appears in the first reel as a Gayety Girl, which is extremely flattering to that organization. We all know Nita is a Follies Girl and they never could compare the Gayety with Ziegfeld's place of business. However, that is another story. Nita breaks Channing's heart right at the start and we all can understand that.

In Canada Channing falls in love with Jess Dibsoll, a local girl, and all ends merrily except for Pat Hartigan, who is killed in a truckworthy attempt to smuggle a prize of liquor into America.

As a special attraction today and Thursday, in addition to this feature picture, moving pictures of the Oregon Trail Pageant at Baker will also be shown.

"WATCH YOUR STEP" DRAWS MUCH LAUGHTER.

"Watch Your Step," which was presented by the Tri-City Revue last evening in The Gardens and is also billed for tonight, proved to be all that advance notices heralded it as a comedy that was a comedy. The audience was convulsed with laughter many times at the funny situations and dilemmas that Abie and his cast found themselves in at times.

The Taylor Brothers will return to The Gardens on Thursday night and will be here for several days, while the Tri-City Revue will go to Baker to play in The Gardens there.
