

PRIMARY FIGHT IN WISCONSIN

One of Hardest-fought Campaigns in Years is Now Under Way; Will Culminate in September.

(By Associated Press.)
MADISON, Wis., July 29.—Wisconsin is in the midst of a political campaign which promises to culminate September 5 in the most hard-fought primary election waged in the state for years.

While the Republicans are engaged in a factional struggle between the La Follette forces and the anti-La Follette forces for control of the state government and of the U. S. Senatorship, the Democrats are preparing for a contest in their ranks over the nomination for governor on a wet and dry issue.

The candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for re-election at the head of a complete state ticket, which bears his name, is bringing strong opposition from the other Republican faction in Wisconsin. This wing, the Independent Progressive Republican party, has organized for the first time since enactment of the primary law for choice of U. S. Senator.

Opposed to Senator La Follette is Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll College, Wausau, Wis., a newcomer in Wisconsin politics. Dr. Ganfield was named to head the opposition ticket by the Citizens Republican state convention which met at Milwaukee, June 1. This organization was created by the Committee of Forty-Four a representative group made up of two men and two women from each of the 11 Wisconsin congressional districts. Dr. Ganfield owned his campaign early in July and reports from throughout the state say that his name is being well received. In fact, his speech was against radicalism.

Senator La Follette has returned to Wisconsin and is in the center of one of his most intensive campaigns for re-election. Other members of the ticket which bears the name of La Follette Progressive Republican party are: Gov. J. J. Blaine and Lieut. Gov. George P. Canine, candidates for re-election; Fred Zimmerman, candidate for secretary of state; Herman L. Elchen, candidate for attorney general; and Solomon Levitan, candidate for state treasurer.

Gov. J. J. Blaine is being opposed for re-election by Attorney General William J. Bryan, the nominee of the Milwaukee conference. This contest is proving as bitterly fought as the senatorial race. With both candidates touring every part of the state and filling an unprecedented number of engagements.

The other members of the ticket in opposition to the La Follette slate are Riley S. Young, speaker of the assembly, candidate for Lieut. Gov.; Martin R. Paulson, candidate for secretary of state; John E. Baker, assistant attorney general, candidate for attorney general; and State Treasurer Henry Johnson, candidate for re-election.

Constructive Platforms.
Mayor A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as governor on what he has termed a constructive platform, calling for repeal of the Volstead act and return of the manufacture and sale of wine and beer under government supervision. As an independent candidate for U. S. Senator in 1920, Mayor McHenry polled 40,000 votes.

The contest for control of the Republican party is being fought by the Senatorial candidate on national issues, which also are stressed by candidates for state office on the La Follette Republican state ticket. Attorney General Bryan and the state ticket he heads are confining themselves to state problems and have not expressed their stand on the national issues.

Expenditure of large funds in election, repeal of the Esch Cummins railroad law, amendment to the federal reserve banking act, and change of the primary law to prevent control by minorities are some of the important party issues noted.

Mrs. Ben C. Hooper of Oshkosh is unopposed for the nomination for U. S. Senator on the Democratic ticket at the primaries, and will oppose the Republican nominee in November.

Interest in Democratic ranks centers in the contest for governor between Carl Mathis, of Wausau, who has announced himself as a dry representative, and Mayor A. A. Bentley of La Crosse, who favors modification of the Volstead Act. No contest has developed for other offices on the Democratic state ticket.

Socialists have informed Senator La Follette as their Senatorial candidates. The party has named a complete ticket of state officers headed by State Senator Louis A. Arnold for governor and these are not expected to have opposition.

In the republican party every candidate is opposed for nomination.

MANY VETERANS BEING TRAINED

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, July 29.—More than 150 tractors of the United States veterans bureau are registered at this college summer session, according to a report from the local office of the bureau.

Three special courses in bookkeeping, orchard management, and chemistry have been added to the session program to care for the needs of those men, who, disabled in the war, are being trained by the government to carry on their various vocations. Poultry husbandry and astronomy are leading in the number of trainees enrolled, with chemistry coming third.

Guy H. Booker, former Cornell university athlete and son of a prominent Seattle contractor, leads the local office. Mr. Booker holds the enviable record of never rowing in a losing shell during his two years on the Cornell crew.

ROYALTY URGED TO SELL HOLDING

(By Associated Press.)
TOKYO, July 29.—The Imperial family, heavy holders in shares of public companies, is being urged by the military press of Japan to sell these holdings, on the ground that the family or their representatives are likely to become involved in the disputes that so frequently occur between the shareholders in Japanese companies. The question which has frequently been mentioned, has been brought to the front again by the recent meeting of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha in which the Imperial Household is a large shareholder, and in which a bitter dispute has been raging over a proposal to amalgamate with another steamship company. According to the Jiji Shimpo, broadcast was narrowly averted at the meeting.

It is pointed out that when the Imperial family invested funds in these companies it was done to encourage enterprises. Now that there is a market for these shares there is no longer any necessity for these encouragements and the household should invest its money in government securities, it is asserted.

The household officials are also being advised, and in some extent have taken this advice to sell some of their land, much of which both in the city and country is lying idle while people are unemployed.

According to the latest available estimate the Imperial family own 3,722,500 acres of land divided between hereditary and ordinary property; 80,255 or one seventh of the shares of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha; 6,500 shares of the Bank of Japan; 60,400 shares of the Yokohama Specie Bank; 10,000 shares of the Industrial Bank and smaller amounts in numerous other companies. The value of the share alone is well over ten million dollars, while the selling price of land in many localities trebled within the last few years.

BAKERS CELEBRATE

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, July 29.—Berlin's oldest trades association, the bakers guild this month celebrated the 600th anniversary of its founding.

Although this organization, which was known originally as the German guild, dates back only to 1272, there is documentary evidence that the bakers' trade was practiced here as early as 1250. By 1800 there were 750 members enrolled. Meanwhile another association of bakers, the Konkordia, sprang up, and in 1913 the two organizations were amalgamated in a body which now contains affiliation of every baker in the city. The present membership includes 1,670 concerns.

Eugene Wright, for many years a member of Roseburg's police force, and one of the best known men in that city, dropped dead of heart failure Saturday at Gladvale while serving as a railroad guard.

APPLES LARGER THAN USUALLY PACIFIST MAY REVEAL SECRETS

(By Associated Press.)
HOOD RIVER, July 29.—The apples over the mid-Columbia has been the largest in the past 15 years, according to records of the Hood River Experiment Station. The total crop fall for May reached 35 of an inch, and on June 8, the district's best showed a total of 40 inches prevailed. Although only 45 inches of moisture have prevailed in 12 weeks, crop conditions in the Hood River valley are good because of the plentifulness of irrigation water.

The continued warm weather has resulted in extra sizing of apples. Charles Castner, who gathered the fruit for exhibit at the convention of the International Apple Shippers' Association in Seattle this week, picked Gravenstein apples from the Cascade foothills in the Middle Valley that measured 1 1/2 inches in circumference. The earlier fruit will reach unprecedented size.

ADRIANOPLE IS PROSPERING NOW

ADRIANOPLE, July 29.—Adrianople, which has been one of the hardest hit cities in the Balkans, has become a thriving city under Greek military occupation. The Turkish shopkeepers and traders were never so prosperous. The Greeks have decorated every store with a Greek sign, whether the owner be Greek, Turk or Armenian.

The Hellenic army commanders have ordered their men to cultivate the President of the Turkish position, but while the Turks have profited commercially from the presence of the army their strong sense of patriotism would rather see the Greeks driven out. For by restoration of history and association Adrianople, once their capital, is as dear to them as Constantinople.

Except from a strategic point of view, Adrianople really is of little importance. It is a typical Turkish city, with its narrow streets, such as many of its smaller, dirt and unpaved. The houses are of wood, plaster and mud, and give the impression that if they are not soon burned up they will fall down. There is much poverty and misery which American Relief workers are trying to ameliorate. American automobiles and motor trucks, bearing Greek army officers or supplies, rush through the muddy streets in the midst of the loads are the tall, loose-fitting, shuffling Turks, loitering about the street, coffee-drinking and day-dreaming.

Auto Thefts Many in Honolulu Past Year

HONOLULU, P. I., July 28.—The theft and abandonment of automobiles in Honolulu has become so frequent that the three leading insurance agencies have consented to withdraw entirely from insuring automobiles or to place the rates at practically a prohibitive level unless immediate steps are taken to curb the thefts.

It is estimated that 20 automobiles have been stolen and wrecked since the first of 1922 in Honolulu. The favorite practice of the thieves is to steal an automobile, ride for an evening and then let the automobile go or one of the many high cliffs on the island to destruction on the rocks below. The belief has been expressed that one gang is responsible for most of the thefts.
