AT SHERRY'S BETTY COMPTON AND LON CHANEY IN ONE PICTURE

The new Betty Compton production coming to the Sherry Theatre for two days beginning today, is a Goldwyn release, entitled, "For Those We Love." The story, written by Perley Poore Sheehan was directed by Arthur Rosson.

In this picture, Miss Compton will be seen as a simple country girl, too unsophisticated to know the danger she runs in befriending one of the evil characters of the town. However, her unguarded faith is justified by the change that her friendship effects in his life. The unprincipled gambler realizes that everyone is not spurred by the same motives of gain that have led him and his companions on their precarious ways.

Of course, he falls in love with the girl, who has never felt other than friendly towards him. With the realization that she is beyond him, the real test of his character is made. With Lon Chaney as the gambler and Betty Compton as the girl in love with another, the story of "For Those We Love," develops through a stirring series of incidents to a logical conclusion. Also showing "The Valley of the Missing," a Northwest Mounted Police story, with Irving Cummings.

There is a remarkable dog in Irving Cummings' new picture entitled "Man From Hell's River," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's vital story, "The God of Her People," which comes to the Star Theatre starting Friday. In the feature the canine, Rin Tin Tin, is seen as a mighty hunter, the pilot of the dog team, who guides the mountaineer over the trackless wastes of snow in search of his man. Rin Tin knows every inch of the ground, having been employed as a pilot dog on several occasions. Mr. Cummings acquired possession of the wonderful canine several months ago and prizes him so highly that he would not dispose of him for a Rockefeller fortune. The dog being a keen student of character is called upon to go to the rescue of his master when the latter's life is in danger. He responds with true courage. His friend is fighting for life atop a mountainous cliff. But Rin Tin follows the scent and arrives on the scene just in the nick of time. With one powerful leap he lunges for the murderous brute and his strength is sufficient to send the culprit over the cliff to his death. The dog is a fine example of the intelligent canine employed in motion pictures.

"STARDUST" IS HERALDED AS A GRIPPING PHOTOGRAMA

"Stardust," starring Hope Hampton, will be the first National attraction at the Arcade Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is based on Fanny Hurst's famous novel of the same name. The scenario having been prepared by Anthony Paul Kelly. The production was directed by Hobart Henley, who has many screen successes to his credit, and James Remick appears opposite Miss Hampton in the leading male role. The cast also includes such well known players as Noel Tearle, who distinguished himself in "Over the Hill," Vivian Ogden, who will be remembered for her characterization in "Way Down East," Charles Munsell, Tom Maguire, Mary Foy, Edna Ross, Ashley Burk, George Humbert, Gladys Wilson and Charles Westley.

The production was many months in the making and was filmed on an elaborate scale. It is declared to be the most ambitious effort Miss Hampton has yet made since launching on her screen career. "Stardust" is an intensely dramatic story of a young girl whose love for a man takes her away from the narrow-mindedness of her own home circle to the big city, where she finds both tragedy and romance. And if advance reports are to be believed, the screen production is one of the biggest and most gripping photoplays of the year.

show that was presented at The Gardens last night. The finish of the show was staged so realistically in the drunken scene that the patrons were confused to the extent of believing that the performers were really intoxicated. It takes clever actors to out across such scenes nowadays. By the benefit of the spectators we suggest that you see "The Bell Boy" tonight and be convinced for yourselves. The part of the Bell Boy is being portrayed by Mr. Eddie Mar, one of La Grande's chief funmakers, who has won his way into the hearts of the theatre-going public from coast to coast.
