

SHAKING 'EM UP!

IS THIS a new style cocktail shaker or an old one? It's an old style one being shaken in a new way by Bebe Daniels in William de Mille's new Paramount picture, "Nice People." If there was anything in it other than ginger ale her companion wouldn't have such a faraway look in his eyes.

to be able to say in any American community that justice is too expensive for the poor. We, therefore, urge that in every community the members of this association volunteer to aid, without fee, the worthy poor who are being oppressed, defrauded or otherwise wronged, and who have not the means to employ counsel.

Tenth, first offenders must be segregated from veteran criminals, for the jails throughout the land today are breeding places for crime, and the young and thoughtless, who may often be reclaimed, are taught by professional criminals to scorn the restraints of society and in this connection we may well consider the extension of psychiatric laboratories established as adjuncts to the criminal courts.

Worst in the World.

"The criminal situation in the United States, so far as crimes of violence are concerned is worse than that of any other civilized country," the report said. "Here there is less respect of law. From all available sources of information we estimate that there were more than 25,000 unlawful homicides last year in this country; that in 1920 there occurred not less than 900 such homicides and that in no year during the last ten years did the number fall below 2500. In other words during the last ten years no less than 20,000 of our citizens have perished by poison, by the pistol or the knife, by some other unlawful and deadly instrument.

"Murders have increased in the country during the last ten years, 120 per cent.

"Deliberate murder, burglary and robbery will seldom be attempted unless the criminal is armed. In European countries the criminal as a rule is not armed.

"On the other hand in crimes which indicate the dishonesty of the people, such as larceny, extortion, counterfeiting, forgery, fraud and other crimes of swindling, a comparison of conditions demonstrates that the morals of this country are better than in any of the other large countries of the world.

Means are Inadequate.

"It is our united opinion that the means provided in the United States for coping with crimes and criminals are today neither adequate nor efficient for example:

"First, we find that the parole and probation laws, as administered, very generally fail to accomplish the purposes for which the laws were designed and weaken the administration of criminal justice. We recommend that the indeterminate sentence law should be modified so as to apply to first offenders only, and we believe, too, that neither probation nor parole should be permitted those convicted of homicide, burglary, rape or highway robbery.

"Second, we find that more than 90 per cent of the murders in this country are committed by the use of pistols.

"Third, we find the causes for delay in criminal cases as varied and the conditions so differing that we hesitate to make specific recommendations. Dilatory motions and many other causes for delay, all accrue to the benefit of the law breaker.

State Should Appeal.

"We recommend that every state be given every right to appeal now enjoyed by a defendant—except from a verdict of not guilty and we recommend that the prosecutor in a criminal trial shall have the right to call the attention of the jury to the fact that the defendant has failed himself to contradict or deny testimony offered by the prosecution.

"We recommend that the state be given the right to amend the indictment upon proper terms, in matters of form.

"We recommend that there should be but one appeal from a judgment of conviction in the trial court.

"We recommend that there be enacted legislation limiting the time during which judges of courts hold under government duty, motions made in criminal trials; that at the expiration of such time, without action, such a motion shall be deemed to be denied.

"Fourth, we find that in some of the states the jury is the final judge both of the law and the facts. We believe that such a condition is absolutely subversive of a government of law and we recommend that repeal of such statutes.

"Fifth, we find in various jurisdictions glaring abuses in the matter of bail, both in the amounts imposed and in the safekeeping or security offered.

"Sixth, we find that further legislation should be enacted by congress to crush and prevent lynching and mob violence.

"Seventh, we find that more stringent laws limiting and controlling immigration should be enacted and enforced.

"Eighth, we find that the bill now pending in the congress, increasing the number of United States district judges and conferring powers upon the chief justice and senior circuit judges to have supervision over the work of the courts and see that the dockets are kept clear, should be enacted.

"Able Attorneys Needed.

"Ninth, no meritorious case, whether civil or criminal, that is cognizable in the courts of the country, ought to be denied the service of an able, courageous and loyal advocate. And no man or woman, however humble, ought

"Queen of Sheba" at Arcade Causing Argument of Historical Story of Bible Times.

Many are the arguments in the homes of La Grande as to date and historical fact regarding the Queen of Sheba and King Solomon since the great film presenting this story appeared at the Arcade theatre.

Without question it has excited more comment and caused more people to consult their Bibles in order to brighten up the historical features than any film the Arcade has ever presented to its patrons in this city.

That it is a most wonderful production everyone who sees it freely admits; that it tells the old, old story of King Solomon in a free-flowing manner is manifest; that the art exhibited in this film alone with quiet and gorgeous settings is the thirty-third degree in motion picture production, is plain to the audience.

The story need not be repeated for every person who was reared in a Christian home knows the story of the Queen of Sheba's visit to King Solomon after she received the throne of a husband; how the little son later came to bless the queen; how she sent him at a tender age to the court of King Solomon, who saved the little prince with a father's love; how the king's brother kidnapped the little prince, war followed; how the queen, hearing of her son's disappearance, mingled with her army to Solomon's temple, finally finding him in the Temple of the Kings.

Then came the scene depicting the death of the queen, but when Solomon and the queen's mother discovered that King Solomon showed his faith by God by offering up a sacrifice of his own life to be returned as if a living faith that it would be granted. The tomb is suddenly lighted by strange beams of light, the little prince begins to breathe, opens his eyes and is led to his mother's heart and great joy.

It is a picture that every church member, as well as every citizen can see with great admiration and be benefited as well as highly entertained.

The picture runs tonight and tomorrow.

Cuckoo Lays Eggs of Day Breeds.
For ingenious vitality, the cuckoo holds the prize among birds. It lays eggs in the nests of other birds; then, as soon as the young, helpless hatch, it lifts the other nestlings on its back and throws them from the nest or robs them of the food brought back by their parents. The cuckoo seems to have the ability to lay eggs of the same size as those already in the nest, whether they are large or small.

CRIME TRACED TO CARRYING FIRE ARMS

By Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Declaring that the pistol "series no end" in purpose in the community today, the committee on law enforcement included in its recommendations submitted to the American Bar Association for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of pistols and cartridges and ammunition designed to be used in them "save as such manufacture may be necessary for governmental and official use under proper regulations and control."

"We find that more than 90 per cent of the crimes in this country are committed by the use of pistols," continued the report of the committee of which Judge William H. Swaney, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was chairman.

"We find that the laws prohibiting the carrying of firearms or deadly weapons are ineffective in fact, that they work to the benefit of the criminal rather than the law-abiding citizen."

"We recommend that the state be
