THREE SEEK SENATORS TOGA

Mississippi's Democratic Primary Tuesday Will Bring Campaign for Senator to Interesting Close.

(By Associated Press.) JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 14.—Mississippi's democratic primary next Tuesday brings to a close one of the most interesting and sharply contested campaigns of recent years among the three candidates seeking nomination for the seat being vacated by John Sharp Williams in the United States senate. Nomination is equivalent to election.

Former Congressman Hubert Stephens, of New Albany, former United States Senator James M. Vardaman, of Jackson, and Miss Belle Kearney, of Florida, are candidates for the senatorial toga, each having contributed largely to the interest that usually attends such a campaign. According to well posted political observers, each will poll a large vote in Tuesday's contest, and while headquarters of all three candidates express entire confidence in the outcome in last minute announcements, it is generally conceded that none of the three will have a walkaway.

Women Will Vote. Forecasts of the probable vote to be polled vary from 100,000 to 180,000. It is estimated that from 20,000 to 50,000 women will vote for the first time. Veteran political observers declare that the women's vote will be a deciding factor in the contest.

The uncertainty as to the trend of the feminine vote closely coincides with the uncertainty that prevails as to the probable outcome of the candidacy of Miss Kearney. If she should poll as many as 25,000 votes a second primary will be necessary. Mr. Stephens has been making an active campaign for the past several weeks, while Miss Kearney has been campaigning for about 20 months. Mr. Vardaman personally has taken no active part in the campaign.

Wilson Takes Hand. Former President Woodrow Wilson's letter declaring Mr. Vardaman to be "wholly false and untrustworthy," and expressing the hope that he will not be again sent to the United States senate has not been used by Mr. Stephens in his campaign speeches, although he vigorously denounced Mr. Vardaman for his alleged desertion of the democratic party during the world war and for his attack upon the Wilson administration during and following the war.

The determination of the democratic state executive committee to prevent republicans and socialists from participating in the democratic primary, as they have done in considerable numbers in former years, has caused murmurings of discontent in the Vardaman ranks. Because, according to democratic officials, they had counted on receiving approximately 29,000 votes from these elements. In former years it has been the custom to allow all white men duly qualified for suffrage to participate in the democratic primary, regardless of political affiliation, but this year all republicans and socialists will be challenged.

Second only to the senatorial contest in general interest are the contests in several congressional districts. There were eleven hour sessions in the fifth and eighth districts caused by new entries, and there is much speculation as to what will happen in these two districts.

Congressman J. W. Collier, who has served the eighth district for twelve consecutive years, is opposed by J. H. Howie, of Jackson, district attorney for the seventh judicial district.

In the fifth district, where Congressman Ross Collins, a first-termee, had been striving for honors in a contest with Mrs. J. E. Arnold, of Union the voters, were given a profound surprise by the last-minute announcement that United States Marshal Floyd Loper had entered the contest.

In the fourth district Congressman T. C. Sisson is battling with three opponents—B. S. Semmelman and S. A. Miller of West Point and Jeff Busby of Houston. It is generally conceded that a second primary will be necessary to settle this contest.

Personalities became so pointed in the seventh district between Congressman Quinn and his single opponent, Hugh V. Wall, of Brookhaven, that they early abandoned all plans for a joint debate. This is Mr. Wall's second effort to win over Quinn.

In the sixth district, T. Webster Wilson, district attorney, claim he will win by a majority of 7,000 votes over his opponent, Jeff Collins, of Laurel, but this is disputed by the other side. Congressman Paul Johnson is not seeking reelection.

Congressman B. G. Lowrey of the second district, has a lively opponent in A. C. Anderson, a defeated candidate of two years ago, but the race has attracted little attention.

ROYAL ESTATE VALUED HIGH

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 14.—The estate of the late Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalanianoʻe, who served for twenty years as the territorial delegate to congress, is valued at $116,231.50, according to the inventory filed in the circuit court here.

The unencumbered income derived from the estate by the widow, Princess Elizabeth Kalamannole, approximates $2,500 annually, and a movement is on foot here to obtain a government pension for her in memory of the services rendered the territory by the prince. The recent republican territorial convention pledged itself to obtain such a pension from the legislature.

SUGAR BEETS TO BE BUMPER CROP

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 14.—The sugar beet crop in Utah and Idaho this year is expected to average between 12 and 14 tons per acre compared with 10 tons in 1921, according to reports compiled here. The total tonnage, however, will be smaller than last year because of a lesser number of acres planted.

The 1922 Idaho production is estimated at 260,000 tons, or 120,000 tons under 1921. The acreage planted in Idaho shows a decrease of approximately 20,000.

FOREIGNERS PAY IN MOSCOW

A Fat Wallet Needed on Gay White Way in Moscow; Russians Make American Profiteers Blush.

(By Associated Press.) MOSCOW, July 5. (By Mail).—After one or two visits to Moscow's newly opened and gay summer cafes, foreigners visiting Russia usually retire to their rooms to a diet of crackers and cheese and frantically telegraph home for more money. The Russian capital has become probably the most expensive city in Europe from the standpoint of living costs to the foreigner. Exorbitantly the restaurant proprietors furnish three rate meals and demand prices which an American summer resort hotel in the height of the season would not even consider. American war profiteers were blushing, slinking violets in comparison with Moscow's gut-rich quick trillionaires.

Publius a day, or about $250, is considered a "poor turnover" for these speculators. Foreigners, however, are in a different position. First of all they must pay the high hotel prices, for they cannot find accommodations elsewhere, and when they buy money they have to give up real money for them, while the Russians seem to pick them off trees.

FLYCASTERS TO WIE SKILL SOON

(By Associated Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—A Pacific Coast tournament of fly and lure casters from the leading clubs of Oregon, Washington and California, will be held at Stow Lake in Golden Gate park here in the latter part of August under the auspices of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club.

The Multnomah anglers of Portland will send a delegation which includes Buckus, Herman and McFarland, national record holders, while the Seattle team will be headed by Edholm, Fair and Ryer. Oscar Lane is the captain of the Los Angeles entrant.

FORTY FIVE WHALES CAUGHT

(By Associated Press.) HOQUEIAM, Wash., Aug. 14.—Forty-five whales have been taken thus far this season at the whaling station at Westport. Three whaling vessels have made the catches, which include 35 humpbacks, nine finbacks and one sperm. The catch is below normal at present, but the whalers hope to attain their expected catch before the season closes late in October.
